Gauger Emphasizes WSGA Pop-in-Night

As WSGA's annual "Pop-in-Night" approaches, Shirley Gauger, president of WSGA, reminds upperclass women of the responsibility which the date entails.

On Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. freshmen women are asked to remain in their dormitory rooms in Atherton Hall and all upperclass women are asked to visit them during this time.

In previous years upperclasswomen have had a tendency to neglect this date and WSGA in deciding to continue the custom and install it as a worthwhile tradition of the College, calls upon all women to participate, Miss Gauger stated.

WSGA hopes eventually to hold the affair on the first Sunday after women have returned to the College in the Fall and thus to make the affair more worthwhile. However, as plans were not made at the end of last semester, "Pop-in-Night" could not be held until after the organization of WSGA this year.

Short visits to as many girls as possible whether they are known to the upperclass woman or not is the result desired of as many coeds as possible, Miss Gauger added.

A return "Pop-in-Night" will be held the following Sunday when freshmen can return the visits.
