Lewis Returns Miners To Pits In Strike Truce

Late AP News Courtesy WMAJ

CHICAGO -- John L. Lewis ended the 52-day-old soft coal strike with dramatic suddenness yesterday. The return of the miners to the pits will continue until Nov. 30 while negotiations for a new contract are in progress. Homeowners and public institutions are warned that the strike will be resumed if a satis-factory settlement is not made and that they should use this period to lay in a good supply of coal in case no agreement is

Results of the action so far have been hopeful. Some coal mines have already started partial operations. U. S. Steel has ordered immediate reopening of its captive coal pits which supply fuel for its steel production. Many railroads have started calling back workers who were fur-loughed because of the coal strike.

Strike End Probable

PITTSBURGH — Indications are that the costly U. S. Steel strike may be settled soon. The giant steel organization and the CIO United Steelworkers are resuming peace talks tomorrow The Youngstown Sheet and Tube has also signed a strike ending agreement, said Philip Murray, United Steelworkers president.

Cadogan Accuses Reds

NEW YORK - Britain's Sir the United Nations. He stated Jack Haines. that Moscow is holding what The canc Cadogan claimed "an intolerable threat of atomic war" over the ests of better

Students Ready Houck Tribute

See editorial, page 2

As a tribute to Leo Houck, Penn State's boxing coach, who is currently recuperating in his Lancaster home from a serious operation this summer, a letter is being readied to be sent to the genial Houck.

Copies of this letter will be placed at Graham's A.C., the Corner Room, Student Union Desk, and the Cathaum Theater tomorrow and will remain there until November 18.

On that day the rolls with signatures, expected to top the 5,000 mark, will be packed into a giant envelope and mailed to Houck.

Student leaders and towns-people greatly endorse this letter as a means to speed Houck's recovery and his return to the Nit tany campus.

During his 27-year stay at the College he has become almost as much of a Penn State tradition as the Lion Shrine.

He was stricken suddenly this summer while conducting a boxing clinic here, but his condition is improving rapidly and he is is improving rapidly and he is tend the affair were campus po-expected to be in tip-top shape liticos and upperclassmen not eliin the near future.

The Nittany Lion Roars

FOR AIM and Leonides councils, and the staff of their infant publication, "The Independent."

The Independent will make its debut to non-fraternity stu-dents on campus today. The staff, headed by Editor Bob Kotzbauer, has incorporated a goodly amount of tasty reading for its public.

A literary roar for all those responsible in turning out the College's first "Voice of All the Independents."

The Baily Collegian Cabinet Asked

VOL. 50 - NO. 35

STATE COLLEGE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 10, 1949

Soph Candidates Meet Constituents at Mixer

A disappointingly small crowd of not more than 300 students last night attended the political mixer at the TUB, at which candidates for the sophomore class officers had a chance to meet with the students en masse for the first time.

Freshman women were barred from attending the mixer by the office of the dean of women. In the photo above, Wilbert Roth, managing editor of The Daily Collegian, who was master of ceremonies, is shown with sophomore candidates John Baron, Sara Alexander Cadogan leveled ceremonies, is shown with sophomore candidates John Baron, Sara charges against the Russians at Ellen Shoemaker, Joseph Arnold, Charles Wysocki, Lois Pulver, and

The candidates spoke only briefly at the mixer, which was sponsored by Collegian in the interests of better student government and was endorsed by both the State and Lion parties at meetings Sunday evening. The rest of the time was given over to dancing and to social conversa-

Freshman women learned late Tuesday that the dean of women's office would not allow them, to attend the meeting. Reason given by the office was that the affair was of the nature of a social gathering, and that first-semester women, under College rules, are not allowed to attend evening social events except on weekends.
The two parties decided yesterday that there would be little use in having their candidates attend the mixer if the women who would vote for them would not

Candidates

Arnold is the State party candidate for sophomore class president, and Miss Shoemaker and Baron, respectively, are the party's candidates for vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Wysocki is the Lion sophomore president candidate, and Haines and Miss Pulver are the vicepresident and secretary-treasurer candidates, respectively.

Absence of freshman women probably cut deeply into the size of the possible crowd. Furthermore, many of those who did atgible to vote in the sophomore and freshman class elections scheduled next Tuesday.

Freshman Lion candidates are: For president, Jo Hutchon; vice-president, Gerry Brown, and secretary-treasurer, Peggy Hepler. State freshman candidates are: For president, Marian Whitely; vice-president, Joan Yerger, and secretary-treasurer, Lucy Barr,

AIM, Leonides Publish Paper

A new student publication is council position. being distributed among inde-Perry H. Gentze

There is also a feature about ing.

There is also a feature about ling.

Payments will be made up to payments will be made up to payments. James Balog, senior class president, and letters to all independent students by Robert Davis, president of AIM, and Rose Eigen and $10 per month for service in an assistant in home economics.

The Independent will be made up to Wright, noted architect.

From 1943 to 1945, he served on the faculty at the College as an assistant in home economics. Independent an assistant in home economics. fert, ex-president of Leonides.

Book Refunds All students must pick up their book refunds by November 12 at the Book Exchange in the Temporary Union Building. Refunds not claimed by this date will be used by the BX to purchase

Rally Tonight

The pre-Temple pep rally, to be held on the steps of Old Main at 7:30 tonight, will feature Robert Keller, Tribunal head, as MC, plus the Blue Band and the quartett favorites of the campus, the Harmonaires.

There will be no parade, but a full force of cheerleaders headed at 10:59.

Note Clair and all the foot- ROTC members participating by Dick Clair and all the football coaches that can attend will add to the College rooters' bill of fare.

The Blue Band will journey to Philadelphia in time to perform at a smoker being given at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel Friday announced.

ROTC to Honor War Dead on Armistice Day

Old Main tomorrow, Armistice

for the program.

A detail of three cadets, one from each organization, will two years to have election day lower the flag to half staff at set aside as a holiday have failed 10:59 a.m. as taps is sounded. When the call is ended, the flag will again be raised to the top of

Army and Air Force bands will assemble to play the national judges of elections. anthem before the flag-dipping ceremony. The Pershing Rifles, Army ROTC honor society, and a Navy contingent will escort the colors to the flag pole. Playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" has been timed to be completed in the observances will be excused from classes at 10:40. The bands and color guard will as-semble south of the Armory at 10:50. Bands will march to their position south of the flagpole.

Honors to the national anthem,

Bellevue-Stratford Hotel Friday inght.

Plans for the big Pitt rally have already been completed, Clair has march back to the assembly point

Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC units will salute World War I dead in a ceremony before

Classes will not be interrupted

Hoffman Elected, Veteran Bonus Passed in Record Borough Vote

Republicans swept all but the school director post in a record State College vote on Tuesday. William S. Hoffman, retired registrar at the College, who sought public office for the first time, defeated Councilman Julius E. Kaulfuss for Burgess by a 286 majority.

The Republicans also took all three council seats in what was predicted to be a tight race. This gives the GOP a hold on every Perry H. Gentzel was the only pendents on campus today.

"The Independent," a four-page ing. He lost out by 11 votes to newsletter, will be published twice a month by the AIM and count, 1412 to 1423.

Leonides councils.

Today's issue contains news and features about the Association of Independent Men, Philotes, the Nittany Co-op, and intra-mural athletics.

The state's voters turned in a three-to-one majority for the half-billion dollar veterans' bonus. The multimillion dollar bonus had more than a million vote edge, with 7,192 precincts report-the states.

Painting Exhibit Opens at Simmons

A group of water colors by Douglas Lockwood, of State College, will be exhibited in the Simmons Hall lounge tomorrow

Bible Fellowship

and educational psychology.

To Recommend Voting Holiday

The All-College Cabinet will probably receive a proposal tonight asking it to recommend that general election day be made a College holiday.

Donald Seipt, president of the student council of the School of Agriculture, is expected to make the proposal to the Cabinet at the p.m. meeting in 201 Old Main. The proposal will suggest that the Cabinet recommend to the College Senate that such a holiday be established. The Senate would have to pass on the matter before it would become official.

Committee

Appointment of a committee to look into the possibility of coordinating student council activities, particularly in holding simultaneous elections, is to be appointed at the meeting. The committee will investigate necessary changes in the council constitutions to make feasible such coordination in plans and possible changes in operations.

A recommendation for reimbursement of the Book Exchange Board of Control will be made by the board, the only Cabinet committee of like responsibility which now is serving without

Representatives of National Student Association are to report on the proposal for an auto cara-van to Pittsburgh for the football game with Pitt Saturday, Nov. 19. Other reports will be submitted by the student government room committee, the school ring committee and the Cabinet representative to Council on Racial Equality.

Report

The committee investigating the possibility of continuing last year's program of ice skating on the football practice field also is slated to make a report.

A proposal will be put forward that the cabinet request the advistory committee of Associated Student Activities to allow use of the TUB to State College teenagers during the Thanksgiving

Several attempts in the past set aside as a holiday have failed because the College calendar was drawn up too far in advance. However, voters were allowed .5 go home for the elections by use of excuse blanks signed by the

Under the new proposal, election day would become a holiday each year.

News Briefs

AIEE - IRE Students

Joint student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers-Institute of Radio Engineers will meet in 110 EE at 7 o'clock tonight. Mr. John E. Coolidge, guest speaker, will present a talk and demonstration on "Electrostatic Precipitation," and the first student prize paper will be presented.

United Nations Tour

Registration for the U.N. Assembly tour closes at 5 o'clock today in the PSCA office.

Dendrological Society

Dr. Henry L. Yeagley will talk and show colored slides on "Bird Navigation" at the Dendrological Society meeting in 105 Forestry at 7 o'clock tonight.

La Vie Pictures

No La Vie pictures will be taken tomorrow. The Penn State Photo Shop will be closed.

Glennland Pool

There will be no recreational swimming at the Glennland Pool through November 30.

Lockwood, who has designed several houses in State College, studied in New York, Chicago, and Detroit art schools, and for two years with Frank Lloyd Wright, noted architect.

From 1943 to 1945 be served.

Old Main at 7:30 tonight.