 was changed to read: "To further investigate plans for alleviating the parking and traffic problem on campus." Originally the plank had stated Tribunal was in charge of issuing the permits; this job falls to the Campus Patrol.
 As modified, the first plank of the State platform now reads: "To work with other interested groups in separating the commerce and finance curriculum from the Liberal Arts school." Previously the plank had made reference to abandoning "unnecessary courses" for C and F students, but this was dropped because such a change would be beyond the power of student government.
 State plank number two, favoring a mail distribution plan for men's dorm areas was dropped because such a program already has been put in force through the Nittany-Pollock dorm councils.

Candidates ---

 member of several campus organizations including the Penn State Flying Club, the Forestry Club, the Dendrological Society and the PSCA. He served in both the Army and Navy during World War II, and before then was active in high school, serving as president of his class in the freshman and senior years. He was also president of the Hi-Y club at that time.

Charles Wysocki, Lion sophomore president candidate, has been active in sports, dramatics and newspaper work. He appeared in high school dramatics, was sports editor of the Nanticoke Daily Press, and was sports editor of the Alliance Hilltopper at Alliance College. He also has been a radio announcer.

Sara Ellen Shoemaker is the State candidate for sophomore vice-president. A State College resident, she is pledged to Kappa Alpha Theta and is majoring in psychology. In her junior year of high school—where her activities varied from president of the junior class to choral work and serving as yearbook editor—she was named as "Miss Bellefonte." She received the citizenship award of the Daughters of the American Revolution and is attending the College on a senatorial scholarship. She was nominated for WSGA sophomore senator.

Majors in English
 Opposing her at the election will be Jack Haines of the Lion party, who was president of his class in the sophomore, junior and senior years of high school, and also served both as president and vice-president of his high school student council. He received the Philadelphia Citizenship award for his work as founder of the Hatboro Recreation center. A pledge at Kappa Delta Rho, he has been active in football, basketball and track.

John Baron, a pledge to Phi Kappa Sigma, is the State nominee for sophomore secretary-treasurer. A major in animal husbandry, he is a member of Block and Bride and is pledge captain at his fraternity. The Chester student in high school took part in dramatics, yearbook work, student council activities and junior fire company work. He has received a Hayburn scholarship and an American Legion scholarship.

Lion candidate for the post is Lois Pulver, pledge at Alpha Epsilon, who was president of her high school sorority and was secretary of the student council there. She took part in little theatre work at Bloomsburg State Teachers College and is trying out for Players here. She is active in National Student Association.

Receives Award
 A native of Williamsport, Marian "Chubi" Whitely is carrying the freshman presidency standard for the State party. An English major in art and dramatics, she is a member of the Modern Dance Club. In high school, she was vice-president of the student council, president of the Hi-Tri, vice-president of the Art Club, and active in broadcasting, dramatics and Press Club work. She is a member of the National Honor Society.

Jo Hutchon, who was elected queen of the Belle Hop ball this fall, will oppose her at the polls. Active in student government work as secretary of her graduating class in high school, she also was vice-president of her National Honor Society chapter, was associate-editor of her high school newspaper, and was in the National Journalism Society.

Hailing from Norristown, Joan Yerger is the State nominee for vice-president of the freshman class. A major in elementary education, she is interested in sports and dramatics. While in high school she served as president of her home room, president of the high school dramatics group, appeared in the senior class play and participated in student government.

Gerry Brown, her Lion party opponent, has been active in sports and student government in high school, where she was secretary of her sorority. She also was in publications work there.

Barr, Hepler Clash
 Lucy Barr, of Allentown, State candidate for freshman secretary-treasurer, is a bacteriology major interested in music and athletics. She is a member of WRA, the Swimming Club and the Bowling Club. She took part in student government work in high school, and was in musical work including the a cappella choir, band, orchestra and choir. She was also active in high school sports, particularly swimming.

Peggy Hepler, who seeks the post for the Lion party, was secretary of her high school class in the junior and senior years and was president of the dramatics club. She was student secretary to the principal of her high school and worked on both the high school newspaper and the yearbook.

Sun Gives Papers To Ohio Engineers

Dr. Shiou-Chuan Sun, assistant professor of mineral preparation at the College, presented two papers at the mid-year meetings of the American Institute of Mineral and Metallurgical Engineers in Columbus, Ohio.

One paper, "The Frothability of Pine Oils, Part I," was prepared by Dr. Sun while the other, "The Behavior of Mineral Particles in Electrostatic Separation" was written by Dr. Sun, Dr. John D. Morgan, Jr., and R. F. Wesner.

Vishinsky Claims Russia Uses Atom

Late AP News Courtesy WMAJ

Soviet foreign minister Vishinsky told the United Nations yesterday that Russia is irrigating deserts, tearing down mountains, and cutting through jungles—by means of atomic energy.

According to Vishinsky, Russia can pile up as many atomic bombs as she wishes, but prefers to use the atom to offset handicaps imposed by nature. However, if war should come, Vishinsky guarantees that Russia will have the needed bombs.

Survivor Gives Story

The only survivor of last week's Washington air collision, Bolivian pilot Erick Rios, gave his version of the tragedy yesterday. Rios told investigators he never got control tower orders to turn to the left to avoid the crash. He explained that he heard shouts about clearing, but that no signal indicated the orders were for him.

Fifty-five persons were killed aboard the airliner Rios' smaller plane plowed into, to mark the worst aviation disaster in the nation's history.

Reds Hold Americans

According to the State Department, the American Consul General in Mukden and four of his staff members are still being held in jail by Chinese Communists on charges of beating a Chinese employee. The Reds have ignored an American demand for their release.

Strike Developments

Lawyers for the striking U. S. steelworkers and management were hard at work in Pittsburgh yesterday formulating a strike-ending agreement, while on the coal front, negotiations were halted because of John L. Lewis' failure to appear at a Federal Mediation Board meeting in Washington.

Discuss 3-Power Plan

The French Cabinet took a cautious attitude yesterday toward the new Three-Power Plan for western Germany, the bone of contention being the dismantling of German industries. Robert Schuman, French foreign minister, has been given detailed instructions which reportedly amount to a counter-proposal.

TUB Proposal Out
 Because it would conflict with a state building code, the plank in favor of enlarging the TUB was thrown out.

Another State plank favoring more late permissions for freshman women in extra-curricular activities was taken out because rules governing permissions have
