

Coed Corner

by Commie Keller

Freshman and sophomore women's elections are now over. However, the term of office has just begun and the mere passing of the election date should not mark the passing of all thought to the matter.

WSGA and WRA actually have authority in making rules which govern the everyday activities of women at the College. The laws passed by these elected officers are not mere ratifications of administrative decrees or just words printed on a piece of paper. They have substance.

Consistent gripes in the running of women's government organizations and disapproval of rules enacted by WSG and WRA can legitimately be traced back to the one time indifference of voters and to their almost complete indifference to WSGA and WRA after election dates.

Analysis of all rules passed, interest and discussion of activities of the two organizations and attempts to determine the effectiveness of the various members of the organizations should become the established precedent of all women students whom ordinances of these groups affect.

Otherwise gripes cannot be legitimate or future elections of some of the same officers valid. Furthermore a thorough knowledge of the limitations of the rules which may be passed and of each constitution might be helpful in an analysis of what has been or has not been accomplished.

A whole year of activity remains for study of this year's group and future elections will provide a proving ground for any who may become an advocate of the above.

PSCA To Hold Cabin Party

The PSCA will hold an overnight Cabin Party at Watts Lodge this weekend.

An informal program is planned including square dancing, a fireside discussion and a worship program Sunday morning. Biddle Atlee is in charge of the program.

The group will first go on a work camp at Milesburg at 1 p.m. tomorrow. Following the work camp the students will proceed to the cabin. Those who can't attend the work camp should go to the cabin tomorrow evening. The group will return from the cabin in time for Sunday noon dinner.

Transportation will be provided from the rear of Old Main. Students wishing to attend the party should contact the CA office by noon tomorrow.

PSCA Finance Drive Reaches $4032

With about 60 per cent of the contributions in the PSCA finance drive reported, the total now stands at $4032.47, Luther Harshbarger, PSCA general secretary, announced yesterday.

Of this amount, $2,567.38 have been contributed by the students and $1,465.09 by the faculty.

This partial report is very good, Harshbarger said. The average contribution, he added, is running much higher than in previous years.

Official soliciting for the drive ended Wednesday night, but a few sections that have not been reached will be contacted during the remainder of the week. Faculty contributions will continue coming in as not all members have been contacted.

Blue Band To Hold Tryouts Next Week

Tryouts for the Concert Band will be held in 109 Carnegie Hall next week: 10 a.m. to noon, Monday; 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., Wednesday; 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., Thursday. Those who are interested can sign up for appointments on the bulletin board in the lobby of Carnegie.

Members from last year's band are required to tryout again and women are eligible. The football band will change into the Concert Band following the Pittsburgh game.

The first rehearsal will be held in 117 Carnegie Hall at 7 p.m. on November 21.

Coeds Elect Soph Senator

Barbara Klopp was elected sophomore senator of WSGA in a rescheduled vote held Wednesday, necessitated by a previous tie between Miss Klopp and Sally Shoemaker in final elections.

Miss Klopp will now join Joanne Lee as newly elected freshman senator and Virginia Miller as new treasurer on the WSGA senate.

The three new officers attended their first meeting last night as WSGA held a special meeting to entertain Acting President and Mrs. James M. Milholland.

Childhood Ed Group To Meet Monday

The Association for Childhood Education International, an organization for all students in the field of Elementary Education and Child Development, will hold a meeting Monday night in the Southeast lounge of Atherton.

The ACEI, which at present has a membership of 300 students, wishes to increase its fall enrollment. Any student in the elementary curriculum is urged to attend the meeting.

Dr. Mary Lepper, a member of the ACEI staff at the College, recently attended the Pennsylvania State pre-planning meeting for the Mid-Century White House Conference on Children of the United States.

Panhellenic Plans Sorority Pledge Tea

A tea for all sorority pledges will be held on Sunday, December 11, in McElwain Hall, it was decided at a regular meeting of the Panhellenic Council on Tuesday night. Each Panhel representative was asked to turn in the name of one pledge from her sorority to help plan the tea.

A Christmas box will be packed and sent to Anna, a war orphan who was adopted by the council last year. All members are requested to bring old clothes for the box to the next meeting which will be in the Alpha Omicron Pi Suite on Nov. 22.

WRABasketballIM's Show Keen Interest

The opening games of the season in WRA-basketball this week continue to show the keen competition usually only seen in the final play-offs.

Alpha Omicron Pi, led by Betty Jane Webber, showed determination as they defeated the Cop-28-15.

In another exciting game Delta Gamma downed Alpha Chi Omega. With the help of Joan Marshall and Jean Mowery, Delta Gamma seemed to be making a serious bid for the basketball crown. The final score was 21-14.

Well-balanced playing proved too much for the girls from MacAllister Hall as Women's Building won a handy 19 to 8 victory.

The only other game scheduled was a forfeit by Spruce Cottage to Hemlock.

This is the first season at Temple for Head Coach Al Kawal, Owl mentor, who went there after a big season at Drake University.

White Hall Conceals Hidden Mysteries Behind Doors

"Men do not enter," "Women students only," say the big gold letters on the inner doors in White Hall. What intriguing signs! They could lead any poor male, who accidentally noticed them, to an extreme state of mental confusion, and frustration too. What forbidden sights are concealed behind these pieces of wood?

Ah, the mysteries of Scheherazade lie here. Here are the Penn State co-eds taking part in physical education classes. In one room, bowling classes are in progress, as the girls try to knock down those ten wooden things.

Another class room reveals girls swaying to music in a modern dance group. In the gym, two exciting games of basketball are in progress at the same time.

But, the most hidden site (or sight) of all is the swimming pool. Here, far from the sight of male on-lookers, the Esther Williams of the College perform. Of course they are attired in the latest in bathing suits, designed in California.

These are the mysteries behind the closed doors.

Frosh Coeds Return WSGA 'Pop-in-Night'

Freshman women are urged by WSGA to participate in the return "Pop-in-Night," which will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Sunday, Shirley Gauger, president of WSGA, stated.

Even freshmen who were not visited last week are asked to take part in the affair, just as a means of increasing their own acquaintances, Miss Gauger said.

"Pop-in-Night," held somewhat late this year, is a traditional affair sponsored by WSGA and the group plans to perpetuate it as an early season function in the years to come. Thus the aim of becoming better acquainted with upper-class women and of making newcomers more at home in the initial stages of the school year will be more fully carried out.

Lack of plans by last year's group necessitated the late date of this year's "Pop-in-Night."

Alpha Xi Delta

Leslie Knuth and Dorothy Rhodes were recently initiated into the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.
