

Improved Lions Face Inspired Temple Eleven

By BOB KOTZBAUER

With an eye toward improving their four and three season record, Penn State's grid warriors march into Philadelphia this afternoon on their annual trek to battle one of the Quaker City grid aggregations.

This time the Lions meet the Temple Owls rather than Penn. The Owls don't boast a top-notch record this year, their four wins and three losses match the record of the Lions, but Temple has always been a jinx to Penn State and Coach Joe Bedenk looks for a real struggle.

Most circles favor the Lions by at least two touchdowns. State's more experienced line, and hard-charging ground attack, which really started rolling with Fran Rogel, fullback, toting the ball at West Virginia, should spell the difference.

The game will be aired, starting at 1:45, by State College radio station, WMAJ, with Bob Prince doing the play-by-play for those students who can't make the trip. Kickoff time is 2 o'clock.

Temple has defeated Rutgers, Syracuse, Bucknell, and Rhode Island, and lost to Texas, Michigan State and Boston University in games to-date. Penn State has fared slightly better against the two common foes—Syracuse and Michigan State. Temple beat the Orange, 27-14, lost to Michigan State, 62-14. The Lions beat Syracuse, 33-21, and lost to the Spartans; 24-0.

But comparative scores mean little. Two years ago, State's Cotton Bowl bound eleven was favored to trample the Owls in the last game at Philadelphia. Instead, the Nittanians, held to a scoreless tie through a full period on a wet gridiron, had to be satisfied with a 7-0 victory, earned on a long, hard drive led by Rogel.

Rogel will probably be the man of distinction in today's squabble. The 200-pound North Braddock pile-driver has recovered completely from an ankle injury that sidelined him for three games. His center smacks last week helped the Lions drub West Virginia.

Tailback

Starting at tailback will be Bill Luther whose consistent hard-running helped keep the State offense intact while Rogel was on the bench. Luther is also State's main passing attack with 18 completions in 35 attempts for a total of, 215 yards. Owen Dougherty will draw the wing-back assignment, and Chuck Drazenovich will work from the blocking-back slot.

Only one injury will hamper Bedenk's first string. Center Ray Hedderick is still suffering from a leg injury, suffered in the Michigan State game, and will be ready for limited duty at best. Chuck Beatty will take over the pivot spot with capable help from Ken Bunn.

The rest of the line is in top shape. John Smidansky and Bob Hicks at ends, Negley Norton and Don Murray, at tackles, Joe Drazenovich and Fred Felbaum at guard give the Lions plenty of front wall strength.

The line will have to be on its toes to stop the diversified Temple attack that features a combination of the passing of quarterback Paul Dubenetzky, operating from the "T", and the slippery running of Bill Bernardo, right halfback.

Temple Tackles

On the line Temple has a pair of hard-to-beat tackles in Vince Zielinski and Steve Paczkowski, and Center George Heil is a standout. Ends Bill Hewson, Bob McCracken and Jim Smith are the best of a quintet of pass-catching terminals.

Penn State holds the edge in the series, 7 to 3. The last time an Owl team defeated the Lions was in 1941. In 1944 at Philadelphia, State won, 7-6, and in four games since then the Owls haven't scored a point. Last year the Lions swamped their Philadelphia hosts, 47-0.

College Cabinet Asks For Election Holidays

All-College Cabinet voted Thursday evening to request the Calendar committee of the College Senate, to set aside future general election days as College holidays.

The action, which was unanimous, was taken on a motion by President Donald Seipt of the Agriculture student council.

The calendar for the next two years already has been drawn up, but All-College President Ted Allen said he was informed some changes might be possible.

Seipt said that, inasmuch as the calendars are drawn up well in advance, now would be the best time to start such action.

Allen read to Cabinet a letter from the University of Pittsburgh announcing a "Grand Finale" dance to be held following the football game there next Saturday. The dance will be open to students at the College who are in town for the game, with cost set at $2.50 per couple.

Cabinet approved additional expenditures for furnishings to the student government room, to be located in 204 Old Main. Cost of the furnishings, which now include leather chairs, will be more than $1,000.

It was announced that Robert Cooper had been elected yesterday to the Mineral Industries student council in the run-off of an election that resulted in a three-way tie last week. A total of 53 percent of those eligible voted.

The request of Richard Schweiker, chairman of the Book Exchange board of control, that Cabinet make reimbursements to board members for their work was considered and will be taken up again next week under the rule that sums involving more than $100 must go before Cabinet twice.

Stating that the BX at present could not afford to make the payments, out of its profits, Schweiker suggested reimbursement totaling $240 for the six board members.

The proposal was referred to the Interclass Finance committee.

Dance Tickets Now Unavailable To Freshmen and Upper Classmen

Only sophomores who vote in the class elections Tuesday will be able to obtain tickets for the Soph Hop this year, All-College Cabinet decided Thursday evening.

The dance, scheduled for Friday, Dec. 16, in Rec Hall, no longer will be an all-College dance, and tickets will be available only to sophomores, it was announced.

The Student Union board previously had ruled out the dance as an all-College affair, leaving only two major all-college dances for the second semester, the Senior Ball and the IFC-Panhellenic Ball.

Cabinet itself will sponsor the dance, for which no admission fee will be charged. From the Interclass budget $300 will be taken to pay for the dance.

Beatty Proposes

The decision was made by Cabinet after Charles Beatty, alternate Athletic Association delegate, put forth the proposal. James MacCallum, All-College Secretary-Treasurer said he would recommend next week allocation of the necessary funds.

The move was taken to encourage an increased turnout of voters in the freshman and sophomore class elections, at which officers of the two classes will be named. Last year, only about 30 percent of those eligible voted in sophomore elections.

Voting will be held on the second floor balcony of Old Main from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with polls open continuously throughout the day. Only freshmen and sophomores will be eligible to vote, and only for officers in their classes.

Need Matric Card

Each student must present his matriculation card before being permitted to vote; names will be checked against the files of the dean of men and dean of women.

Tickets will admit one couple to the dance. Thus, a sophomore may ask a freshman, a junior or a senior as his or her date. A local band will be obtained for the affair.

George Donovan, director of Associated Student Activities, yesterday gave four reasons why the Student Union board decided to make the dance a closed affair:

1. Because the dance usually has been held in February, there always has been a distinct traffic hazard.

2. With three major dances (Continued on page four)

U. S. Steel Signs Agreement; Strike Nears Settlement

PITTSBURGH—The nation's most costly steel strike neared settlement last night when United States Steel signed a pension agreement with the CIO steelworkers. The company and the union are said to be practically in agreement on pensions and insurance, with only minor details remaining to be worked out.

Union spokesman Harry Powell said that agreement has also been reached on general principles concerning pension and insurance between the Inland Steel Company of Chicago and the steel union.

The Pickens Mather Company, largest of the independent mining companies signed a pension and insurance agreement with the CIO steelworkers last night.
