

Lewis Declares Part Time Halt On Coal Strike

Steelman Predicts Peace in Industry

NEW YORK—John L. Lewis ended the soft coal work stoppage yesterday, but on a part-time basis. His order to the 400,000 soft coal miners to work on a three day a week schedule also applies to 80,000 hard coal miners who have been working on a five day week.

In Key West, Fla., the President's number one labor consultant, John Steelman, predicted that Lewis' action would usher in a long period of industrial peace.

Trial Reveals Message

NEW YORK—A highly secret diplomatic message was introduced at Alger Hiss' perjury trial yesterday. It stated that Russia intimated in 1938 she would come to terms with Germany immediately if France began negotiating with the Nazis. This message is said to be one of the State department documents which Hiss has denied giving to Whitaker Chambers.

Officials Go To Jail

WASHINGTON—A federal judge turned down several appeals today, meaning that a former congressman will have to start serving a jail sentence on Saturday and that two wartime munitions manufacturers have to begin serving jail sentences immediately.

Former Congressman Andrew May of Kentucky will have to serve an 8 to 24 month sentence for wartime bribery and conspiracy. Two brothers, Henry and Murray Garsson, have the same sentence. These two were head of the multi-million dollar firm from which May was convicted of accepting bribes.

Plan Aid to Europe

PARIS — Defense Secretary Louis Johnson left Paris on a flight to Washington to bring President Truman a new plan which the Atlantic Pact nations drew up yesterday. It is an overall plan which the Defense Ministers formulated to ward off any possible aggression by Russia. If President Truman approves the plan, it will release one billion dollars worth of military aid for western Europe.

Know Your College Health Service

College Health Service Provides Clinical Care

(This is the first of a series of articles describing the functions, history, treatments and services offered by the various departments of the College Health Service.)

By ROY B. McHENRY

Organized in 1915 to promote healthful living and the treatment of ill and injured students, the College Health Service has grown to a

Today . . .

The Nittany Lion Roars

FOR the Harvest Ball committee and especially for Carroll Howes and Robert Fast, co-chairmen of the dance, who have worked tirelessly to make this year's dance the largest Harvest Ball in College history. A short snarl for John Early and Will Stone who have done a bang-up job of publicity for the Hunt. And a musical purr for the Agriculture Student Council who are sponsoring the dance.

The Daily Collegian

"FOR A BETTER PENN STATE"

VOL. 50 — NO. 47

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 2, 1949

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Today's Weather: Cloudy, cold, with light snow

'Kind Lady' Starts Run

Hunt Scenes Live Harvest Ball Tomorrow

Sale of Tickets For Fall Dance At SU Office

Harvest Hunt, with decorations in the form of winter scenes, deer, and other hunting motifs, will be the theme of the annual Harvest Ball in Recreation Hall from 9 p.m. until midnight tomorrow.

Admission to the dance is by "hunting license" only. Tickets in the form of hunting licenses are available at the Student Union desk in Old Main, from members of the Agriculture Student Council, or at the door during the dance. Each "license" costs $1.75.

The Statesmen, a 14-piece dance orchestra, with a vocalist, will play for the affair.

This year the Harvest Ball will be semi-formal. Carroll Howes and Robert Fast, co-chairmen of the dance, have asked that it be a no-corsage affair.

The Harvest Ball is stepping out of its former role and entering the class of "big" dances. In former years it was held in the PUB or TUB, where it was an informal affair. Its predecessors had only five or six piece bands, and, in some instances, records were used for dancing.

Sponsored by the Agriculture Student Council, the Harvest Ball is really spreading its wings this year. Besides the other additions, refreshments will be served, with Robert Gregory and Roger Madigan in charge.

The other committee chairmen include John Early and William Stone, publicity; Harold Wenker and Mary Lois Kauffman, decoration; Penny Hallowell and Paul Shogren, orchestra; and Al Saylor, arrangements.

Forum Speaker

Dr. Harold C. Urey, shown lecturing to a large audience in Schwab Auditorium last night shortly after arriving in State College. Due to misconnections enroute by plane, Dr. Urey traveled from Harrisburg by auto, and went directly to the stage upon arriving. Unbothered by the delay, he immediately captured the interest of the audience by his discussion and explanation of "The Case for Atlantic Union."

Debate Squad To Use VisAids

Something new will be added to intercollegiate debating on campus tonight, when the local debaters will use visual aids in an all out attempt to put the women in their places.

The annual debate with Mt. Mercy College for women has developed into a real battle during its 10 years. Always a topic which pits men vs. women, this year's topic is, "Resolved; that the emancipation of women has done more harm than good."

David Schmuckler and John Meszaros will attempt to outwit and out-talk Peggy McGill and Jenine Coleman at 7:30 tonight in 121 Sparks. Mt. Mercy last year won second place in state intercollegiate debating.

Both Schmuckler and Meszaros expressed their confidence, but expect lots of competition. Schmuckler said, "We expect an uphill battle, but rely on visual aid to carry us to victory."

The debate will be cross-examination type. The use of visual aids in debating is being studied, and its effect in tonight's debate will serve as a proving ground for the new innovation.

Others to Debate Also debating this weekend will be 12 other members of the local debate squad. This is the largest number of men ever to participate in meets at the same time. Eight will travel to Temple University to take part in the Temple Novice Tournament, accompanied by Prof. Harold J. O'Brien of the speech department.

The team which led the College to second place in the Vermont Tournament, comprised of James McDougall and Peter Geisey on the affirmative, and Richard Schweiker and Richard Schultz on the negative will travel to the University of Richmond to debate in the Old Dominion Invitational Tournament.

The topic for both meets will be the same as for the Vermont debate. Resolved: that the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries."

Mystery Drama To Open Tonight at Centre Stage

"Kind Lady," Players 300th play, will begin a six-week run at Centre Stage tonight at 8 o'clock under the direction of Robert D. Reifsnieder. The play is a modern mystery drama written by Edward Chodorov and adapted from a story by Hugh Walpole.

The play, which covers a period of several years, is set in Mary Herries' wealthy conservative home in London. She meets

Departments To Present New Function

Something new in functional education is being tried at the College as seven different departments team together to present a series of radio lectures on the theme, "Man in the Twentieth Century." The program is being organized by Dr. Harold Nelson, director of the radio curriculum in the speech department.

The lectures will be delivered this winter over station WMAJ, Friday evenings from 9 to 9:30 p.m.

The schedule of lectures on "Man in the Twentieth Century" is as follows:

Dec. 2, Dr. Robert T. Oliver, chairman, department of speech, "Twentieth Century Man's Problem of Communication."

Dec. 9, Dr. C. Ray Carpenter, professor of psychology, "Psychological Problems in the Twentieth Century."

Dec. 16, Dr. Brice Harris, chairman, department of English literature, "Literary Trends in the Twentieth Century."

January 13, Dr. Richard C. Raymond, associate professor of physics, "Scientific Programs and Problems in the Twentieth Century."

Jan. 20, Dr. Walter Coutu, professor of sociology, "Sociological Implications of the Twentieth Century."

Jan. 27, Dr. M. Nelson McGarry, chairman, department of political science, "Political Problems in the Twentieth Century."

Feb. 3, Prof. Aaron Druckman, assistant professor of philosophy, "Philosophical Considerations in the Twentieth Century."

Each lecture runs for approximately 20 minutes, followed by an additional ten minutes of questions, such as students might ask in a class.

Greeks To Sponsor Party for Kiddies

The Interfraternity Council Wednesday night approved plans for a Christmas party to be held in the TUB, Dec. 18, for underprivileged children of the State College area.

The party, being sponsored jointly by IFC and the Pan-Hellenic Council, will include refreshments and gifts for some 100 children expected to attend. Games and other forms of entertainment are also being planned.

In addition, it was announced that the practice of each fraternity sending a Christmas food basket to a needy family will be continued and names of families will be mailed the fraternities in the near future.

Business Staff—

Edwin Singel of the Daily Collegian business staff was promoted from candidate to sophomore board at the Wednesday night meeting of the Senior Board, Business Managers. Marlin Weaver said yesterday and brings into her home a handsome, dashing young beggar, Henry Abbott. As the play continues, Henry makes life miserable for Mary as he and his friends make her a virtual prisoner in her own home, and he leaves her with no contacts to the outer world.

The "kind lady," Mary Herries, will be played by Joyce Rexford, who recently was seen as Aunt Lily in "Ah, Wilderness!" The role of Henry will be taken by Larry Buchart, a newcomer to the College who has a varied theatrical background.

Supporting Roles

Supporting roles include Wayne Eckley as Mr. Edwards; Corrine Kivnik, Mrs. Edwards; Peg Mulligan, Aggie Edwards; Laryn Sax, Ada Abbot; Anne Wahl, Rose; Marilyn Stewart, Lucy Weston; Regina Friedman, Phyllis; Dave Owen, Peter; Bernard Friedman, the doctor; Ray Rackowski, Mr. Rosenberg; Robert Stryker, Mr. Foster; and Nancy Mechling, the servant. Sylvia Goldberg will understudy Miss Rexford, and Nancy Mechling will serve as assistant to the director.

This is director Reifsnieder's third play at Centre Stage, previous shows having been "Out of the Frying Pan" in the fall of 1947 and last year's "Ten Nights in a Barroom." This is the third year that Players have been using Centre Stage for their performances.

"Kind Lady" was a Broadway hit in 1935, and since then has been filmed with Henry Daniell as the male lead. It also still is very popular with summer theater and stock groups. This past summer Sylvia Sydney played the female lead in summer theaters.

The manager of the advertising crew is Nicholas Morkides; his assistants are Nancy Mechling and Bernard Friedman. The costume staff is headed by Rita Lang, assisted by Marjorie Duffy.

Jack Ricalton will serve as house manager with Walter Vail as his aide. Manager and assistant manager of the property crew are Ray Phillips and Phoebe Dalzell. Light manager is Clifford Wheeler; sound manager, Nancy Dundon; and make-up manager, Bernard Bernstein.

Tickets for tonight and tomorrow night are still available at Student Union. Prices are $90 for tonight's performance and $1.25 for Saturday evening, including refreshments.

Econ Department Name Is Changed

Department of Economics and Commerce has been announced as the new official name for the former Department of Economics and Department of Commerce and Finance, now combined into one department.

The change is to compensate for the large volume of work in the commerce and finance field handled by the department. Dr. William N. Leonard, head of the department, had favored the change in order to work some phase of commerce and finance into the official department name.