

Riemer Outlines Report On Civil Rights Laws

Dr. Neal Riemer, instructor in political science, outlined both sides of the case for and against civil rights legislation before Wednesday night's meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Dr. Riemer stated some of the arguments against civil rights legislation in his lecture "Report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights." He also listed a number of reasons for the necessity of such legislation.

Some of the arguments against it are that legislation is uncalled for in the face of progress being made, it seeks to abolish deep-rooted feelings, it will destroy certain other civil rights, it is an unconstitutional violation of state's rights, it would damage local responsibility, and the belief that alternate proposals are better.

In reply to this Dr. Riemer stated that the President's committee found legislation necessary because civil rights are still being violated, the purpose is to insure constitutional rights and not to effect sociological changes, such a program would destroy no more rights than other legislation such as the Taft-Hartley Act, civil rights have a constitutional basis. On the charge of eroding local responsibility, Dr. Riemer said that the same cry was raised

Future Teachers Install Officers

George Demshock, a junior in education, was installed as president of the Penn State Marion R. Trabue chapter, Future Teachers of America, at a recent meeting. Others who took office were:

Joseph Denham, vice-president; Lydia Kuharsky, treasurer; Dolores Hyden, recording secretary; Jacqueline Harter, corresponding secretary; and Joseph Gebhardt, librarian.

The oath of office was administered by Dean Trabue, of the School of Education.

Potter, Schafer Win Design Prizes

Two architecture students, Taylor Potter and Curtis Schafer, won first and second prizes in a problem requiring the design of a two-bedroom house.

The problem, judged by the Beaux Arts Institute of Design in New York, brought 280 replies from 13 different colleges. A 21-man jury judged the entries and Philip F. Hallock, associate professor of architecture, represented the College.

Besides Potter and Schafer, Stanford Seiple received a third mention and William Yochum was commended for the elevations of his design.

against the Social Security Act, the Federal Labor Standards Act, and others. Many alternate proposals such as economic reform, better education, and health benefits are desirable also, but must supplement civil rights, legislation, not replace it.

New Directories Are on Order

An additional one thousand copies of the newly-published student directory have been ordered and will be available to students and other interested persons next Tuesday, the department of Public Information announced yesterday.

The original order of 3,800 copies was disposed of within two days, and hundreds of students applied for copies after the last copy had been sold. Alexander W. Stewart, chief recorder in the Registrar's office, said the demand was unprecedented.

The printers have promised to deliver the additional copies next Tuesday, and they will be placed on sale immediately at the Registrar's office in Willard Hall. They are priced at 25 cents each.

The new faculty directories, which were recently distributed, have been separated from the student directory this year. Due to installation of a dial telephone system soon to be put in use, all phone numbers will be changed. To meet the need for new faculty directories, temporary booklets were multigraphed. After the new phone system is adopted, a permanent faculty directory will be printed.

Oliver Inaugurates Radio Talk Series

Dr. Robert T. Oliver, newly-appointed chairman of the speech department, tonight will inaugurate a radio lecture series entitled "Man in the Twentieth Century."

Dr. Oliver's speech tonight will deal with "Twentieth Century Man's Problems of Communication."

The program, beginning at 9 o'clock, will be carried over radio station WMAJ and will run weekly through December and continue after the holidays.

The lecture itself will take approximately 20 minutes and the remaining time of the half-hour program will be used as a question period.

Seven departments of the College will supply speakers for the programs. The speech department is attempting to get the program broadcast on a recorded statewide basis.

Band, Quartet To Highlight Sophomore Hop

The Statesmen and the Harmonaires will provide the musical entertainment for the Soph Hop, to be held in Rec Hall, Friday evening, Dec. 16.

Named the "Snow Slide," the hop this year will be under the direction of Murray Goldman and Walter Sachs, appointed co-chairmen of the committee by Joseph Arnold, newly-elected sophomore class president.

A committee of nine sophs will aid Goldman and Sachs in arranging the affair, which will be an informal dance with no corsage needed.

$300 Appropriated

George Donovan, director of Associated Student Activities, announced that $300 has been appropriated by the inter-class treasury for the dance. The appropriation was approved first by the all-College Cabinet.

Dancing will be from 9-12 p.m. to the music of the Statesmen, a 14-piece orchestra under the direction of John Zerbe. During the band's intermission, the Harmonaires, a new quartet on campus, will sing a few numbers.

Sachs, in charge of decorating Rec Hall for the dance, announced that the theme of the dance will be the merging of the sophomores from the centers into the class of 1952.

Class Theme

To carry out this theme, a blue curtain will be hung on the west end of the hall, and pennants from all the centers will form a huge "52."

Members of the committee are Goldman and Sachs, co-chairmen, Lois Pulver, Joan Kuntz, Katherine Dollon, Jane Auch, Jack Davies, Joseph Rosshirt, Melvin Bickel, Robert Sprague and Ray Reed.

Town Meeting Participants To Discuss Insurance Program

"Does America Need a National Health Insurance Program?" will be discussed by two College professors and a representative from the College health service at the fourth Hillel Town Meeting. This program will be held at the Hillel Foundation, 8 p.m., next Sunday.

Dr. Arthur F. Davis, professor of physical education; Dr. Arthur H. Reede, professor of economics; and Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the College health service, will discuss the question under the leadership of Rabbi Benjamin Kahn, director of the foundation, who will serve as moderator.

As always, the public is invited to attend the meeting which is to be the final formal presentation in the current series of town meetings.

Students are asked to decide what the topic for discussion for the fifth and final meeting is to be. They are to address their choices of questions and possible speakers to Ralph Cash, director, Town Meetings, ZBT house, by next Saturday. Hillel will procure speakers if necessary, but the choice of the topic is to be left entirely to student suggestions.
