

Delta Upsilon Secures IM Boxing Crown

By MARV KRASNANSKY

With Mike DeBone banging his way to the 165-pound championship, Delta Upsilon had the intramural boxing championship safely wrapped up and secured as two furious weeks of legalized mayhem came to a close before more than 2500 in Rec Hall last night.

DeBone's triumph over Alpha Gamma Rho's Dick Dum only served to make the margin of victory larger. Although Harry Papacharalambous, the other DU semi-final entrant, was defeated, AGR lost its one remaining chance of overhauling DU when John Hanby bowed to Jack Reese, Phi Delta Theta, in the 128-pound title clash.

Delta Upsilon completed the season with 105 points. Phi Kappa Sigma deadlocked for runner-up honors with AGR, both having 80 points. Phi Delta Theta took the number four position with 75 points, while Sigma Nu, last year's champion, completed the top five with 65.

CODER, REESE WIN

DeBone scored heavily with rights and lefts to the head in the first two rounds against Dum. He started slow, but came back strong in the middle canto with two lefts and a right to the head and a jolting left hook. Dum fought back in the third, but DeBone held his own.

Both Ron Coder and Reese, champions from last year's tournament, banged their way to victory. Since IM regulations forbid a champion to box in the same weight class, both had to move up one division.

Coder, 175-pound titlist in 1948, had little difficulty blasting Dalton Rumberger, Alpha Zeta, for the heavy weight crown. He started fast, racking Rumberger's head with both hands. He staggered Rumberger with a crushing right upper cut and straight left to the jaw in the second and rights and lefts to the head in the third.

Reese was his usual self as he outboxed and outhit Hanby in the 128-pound final. Reese scored consistently with a hard, looping overhand right and staggered his man with a booming right to the head in the third.

For the third night in a row, Al Porto, Phi Kappa, won by the TKO route. This time his victim was Papacharalambous, who was unable to answer the bell for the second round because of a badly bruised or possibly broken nose. Porto, who won four of his five fights by TKO's, was ahead at the close of a bruising first round.

They started off fast, landing viciously to the head with both hands. Porto took the upper hand for a few seconds, scoring with four hard rights to the left, but Papacharalambous shook the winner with a stinging left jab. It was a roaring, crowd-pleasing brawl while it lasted.

PROFESSIONAL SKILL

A finalist for the past three years in the 155-pound division, Sigma Chi's Jack Long finally won the championship. He did it by banging out a clear-cut decision over Bill Hanley, Theta Chi. Long stayed on top all the way, and punished Hanby badly through the middle round, landing four hard lefts and a thundering one-two combination.

Jerry McCartney and Ed Rohrbeck boxed with professional skill in a bout which saw McCartney land the 145-pound independent title. Using a sharp left hook to good advantage, McCartney shook Rohrbeck several times.

Chan Johnson, sophomore football star, outboxed and outboxed John Morgan, Alpha Chi Rho, to gain the 175-pound championship. The Alpha Phi Alpha light-heavyweight proved the stronger of the two as he pulled away from the tiring Morgan in the second and third rounds.

Milt Nemeroff, Phi Sigma Delta, outslugged Dave Conover,

Sigma Pi, Delta Chi Continue Undefeated in IM Court Play

Sigma Pi stretched its unbeaten string to three games Wednesday night when it smashed Kappa Sigma, 30-1, in a fraternity league A contest. Robbins Mather continued to pace the strong Sigma Pi squad tossing in ten points.

Delta Chi continued to press Sigma Pi for League A supremacy by grabbing its second straight win without defeat. It dumped Alpha Zeta, 13-8, but had to come from behind to do it as the losers held a 6-4 lead at halftime. Jim Connell was high man for the winners with six points. The other League A result saw Gene McDonald match Zeta Beta Tau's 11 points as he lead Alpha Chi Sigma to a 28-11 win.

League B went into a three way tie as Alpha Phi Alpha whipped Tau Phi Delta, 24-9, to deadlock Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Kappa Psi for the leadership. Charlie Murray led the winners with nine points, Sigma Phi Sigma edged Phi Epsilon Pi, 17-15, and Sigma Phi Alpha smacked Theta Kappa Phi, 24-8, in other League B contests.

In League C, Beta Sigma Rho took over first place by downing Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 9-4; Pi

Delta Theta Sigma, to cop the 145-pound title in a bruising battle, while Tom Lucas, Sigma Nu, outboxed and outhit Don Watkins, Phi Delta Theta, for the 121-pound championship.

Varsity boxers Jack Bolger and Chuck Drazenovich, and Paul Smith and Bob Keller boxed in two round exhibition matches.

Basketball Game

Last night's basketball game with the American University Eagles at Washington, D. C., was not completed by the time this issue went to press. Tomorrow's Collegian will contain a fully detailed story of the encounter.

Basketball Team Loses 70-63 to Georgetown U

The Nittany Lion basketball team dropped their 11th straight away game over a three-year span Wednesday night as Georgetown romped to a 70-63 win on its spacious Washington, D.C. court. The loss also gave the Penn State quintet its first reversal of the season against one win.

Last night Coach Elmer Gross' underdogs again went into action with American University in the Eagles' Uline arena.

Georgetown riddled Penn State's zone defense in gaining its fourth straight win, knocking down quite a bit of the prestige the Lions had gained in holding Susquehanna to only 44 points last Wednesday.

Coach Elmer Gross' first team trailed only by 20-18 at the end of the first period but at this point he inserted his second platoon and the taller Hoyas built up a 36-24 half-time edge.

At one time during the third period the Lions whittled the Georgetown edge to only six points but a concerted scoring spree boosted the Capital City cagers out of harm's range.

Marty Costa came through with his best collegiate scoring effort over three seasons as he led Lion point producers with a 20 tally effort. His hook shots from the pivot, plus accuracy from the foul line, kept State in the ball game.

Joe Tocci, who proved the game's outstanding play-maker, also hit for 11 points, concentrating on long set shots. Starting center Lee Schisler continued his sterling play with five field goals and two free throws for 12 points.
