

News Agency Conducts Drive

The Student News Agency is now conducting a new subscription drive for both daily and Sunday papers. The drive will continue until the end of this week and papers will be available beginning next Monday.

The agency's representatives are now going through the dorms collecting subscriptions. Anyone who wants a subscription should see any one of these agents or call 2049 for information.

Sunday papers will be delivered between 9 and 10 a.m. at no extra cost, but only to the campus area and Windcrest. No deliveries will be made in town this semester.

Refunds will be made if a subscription is canceled during the semester, and also if for some reason the paper is not delivered at any time.

The agency will also have a pick-up station in the Nittany Dining Hall for daily papers which will be on sale at the noon and evening meals. Sunday papers will also be available, but only at the noon meal. A station for daily's will also be set up in the TUB.

According to Joseph Reinheimer, supervisor of student agencies, personnel for both the Student News Agency and the Student Dry Cleaning Agency are badly needed. Anyone interested in such part time employment may inquire at the Student Employment office, now located in Old Main.

The dry cleaning agency will resume operations in the very near future, Oscar Fleisher, director of the agency, said today.

Book Agency

The Used Book Agency will accept students' books in the TUB until 5 o'clock this afternoon. Richard Evans, co-chairman, said yesterday. Used books will be sold every day this week from 9

Interclass Committee Plans Annual Budgets

By STAN DEGLER

Any ideas students may have about graft and corruption in campus finances are unfounded. A class treasurer, publications business manager, or dance chairman "couldn't get away with a nickel," according to George Donovan, manager of the department of associated student activities.

He called the College's system of financing student activities one of the best in the country, as he explained the monetary problems encountered.

The Interclass Finance Committee, consisting of the All-College secretary-treasurer and the treasurers of each class, draws up All-College Cabinet's budget subject to approval of Cabinet and the manager of the department of associated student activities. The money at Cabinet's disposal is derived mainly from the 75 cents-per-semester fee collected from each student. Money is also derived from dance profits, but is not included in the annual budget, since this revenue is unreliable.

The finances for other student organizations are kept separate from student government, but all pass through the office of student activities and all accounts are audited by the College Auditing Department.

Year's Budget

The budget of the interclass finance system for the college year 1949-50 is:

All-College Cabinet.....	$2000
Blue Band	$3000
Scholarships	$1255
Class organization	$ 300
School Councils	$1000
Student Union	$ 720
Class Day	$ 100
Printing and Supplies....	$ 100
National Student Association	$1000
Tribunal	$ 100
Orientation	$ 250

a.m. until 5 p.m., excepting noon hours. Saturday's hours will be 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Student government booklet	$ 500
Senior Class Permanent Fund	$ 500
Carry-over fund	$ 500
Miscellaneous	$ 500

The finance committee also considers proposals for further expenditures by Cabinet, for instance, the awards which were recently made to the soccer team. Cabinet is not obligated to accept the recommendations of the committee, however.

Comittee System

The committee system of budgeting for inter-class finances dates back to the years of the First World War. One of the objectives of the financial and auditing system is to ensure honesty by removing the chances for dishonesty.

Members of the finance committee this year are James MacCallum, all college secretary-treasurer; Loraine Stotler, Rudolph Valentino, John Baron, and Lucy Barr, the secretary-treasurers of each class.

Collegian Candidates

Students interested in joining the staff of The Daily Collegian are requested to attend a meeting in 8 Carnegie Hall at 7 o'clock tonight. Meeting time for regular Collegian candidates has been set back until 8 o'clock tonight.

College Plans Travel Tours

Travel in England and France and a study of their economic, political and cultural conditions will be included in a Summer Seminar in Europe now being planned by the College.

The five-week program, being sponsored in co-operation with the New School for Social Research and World Study tours, Columbia University, will enroll persons from all walks of life, including school teachers, college faculty members, and leaders of women's clubs, civic groups, trade unions, and other organizations.

Hugh G. Pyle, the College's administrator for the seminar, explained that special emphasis will be given to the European Recovery Plan. The seminar will combine recreational travel with study. Lectures will be supplemented by field trips to cultural centers, schools, industrial plants, and government agencies.

Enrollees will leave Quebec on June 20 and return to this country in mid-August. Plans are being made for a series of special tours of 10-days in which enrollees may participate at the close of the seminar.

Vocational Guidance

All sophomores and freshmen registering on main campus for the first time are required to take vocational guidance tests, accord-

Froth Issues Candidate Call

Froth issues of the last few dozen years have proved that magazine's desperate need for real talent in one or two of its minor departments such as art, photography, writing (humorous), writing (serious), business, promotion, and janitorial.

In a last gasp attempt to remedy these conditions and put the magazine back in the running with classy competitors like Bloody Detective and True Romance, the magazine has issued a desperate call for new talent. This talent must come primarily from the newcomers on campus, since the possibility of any arising from its present staff has been laid dismally aside.

Froth will hold a meeting for new candidates at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in 1 Carnegie. Anyone new on campus with ability in the above fields is urged, enjoined and begged to attend. The Froth editorial board will meet in the same room an hour later.

The February Froth will appear on Feb. 21. It features an article on the President's residence, soon to be reopened under new management.

ing to Dr. R. G. Bernreuter, director of the student advisory service. Part 2 of these tests will be administered tonight at 7 p.m. in 10 Sparks.
