

News Briefs

Panhel Council

The Panhellenic Council will meet at 7:00 p.m. tonight in the Chi Omega suite in Grange Dormitory.

Players

There will be a meeting of all people interested in doing advertising work for the Players production "Life With Father" at 7:30 tomorrow night in the loft of Schwab auditorium.

Talent Show

The Penn State Club will make final plans for the talent show at its meeting in 109 Main Agriculture Building at 7 o'clock tonight.

Language Placement

All students who wish to take French or Spanish courses this semester and whose previous course in these languages were taken at the high school level only are required to take the placement test in 119 Osmond at 4:10 this afternoon.

The test is optional for students whose French or Spanish courses were taken at institutions of college level other than Penn State. Students with two or more years of high school French or Spanish will not normally be allowed to carry Spanish 1 or French 1 for college credit.

PSCA

A Valentine mixer for new students will be given by the PSCA in 405 Old Main at 7:30 tomorrow evening. The Roundtable will act as the host group.

Page One of the First Collegian Ever Printed at the College State Collegian.

Vol. 1, No. 1. STATE COLLEGE, PA., 1904. Price Five Cents.

CALENDAR
SATURDAY, OCT. 1.
7:00 P. M.—Allegheny vs. State.
SUNDAY, OCT. 2.
11:00 A. M.—Chapel. Sermon by Prof. Benj. F. Gill.
6:30 P. M.—Y. M. C. A. in Old Chapel. Subject, Bible Study. Address by W. J. Miller, State Student Secretary.
MONDAY, OCT. 3.
7:00 P. M.—C. E. Society in Room 20 Engineering Building.

OPENING OF COLLEGE.

College opened Thursday morning, Sept. 15th, with chapel exercises at eight o'clock. The registration up to date had been a little below that of last year at the same time, but this was accounted for by the large number of old men out on conditions. The incoming class numbers about two hundred and fifty men, considerably less than had been anticipated.

President Atherton welcomed the old and new men with his usual felicity and gave the latter some good advice on their future conduct in college. After the exercises, the rest of the day was spent in the usual organization of classes.

Looking about for familiar faces, quite a number are found missing. The Senior class numbers about ninety, the Juniors, one hundred and ten, and the Sophomores, one hundred and seventy.

Among the faculty and instructors there, are quite a number of new faces. We have endeavored to give a list which will be found in another column.

The choir appeared much depleted, but is now in a healthy and flourishing condition.

So we start in another year. For a good many it will be the last lap for many others, the beginning. Let us all get together, however, and see if we cannot make this college year even more successful than ever before.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION.

The annual reception to new students was given in the College Armory Friday evening, September 16th, by the Young Men's Christian Association. The first half-hour was given to handshaking and general greeting, among the fellows after which the following short program was rendered:

Invocation.....The Rev. Benj. Gill, D. D.
Words of Welcome.....by P. M. Rainey '00, Pres. of the Assn.
Address.....Pres. Geo. W. Atherton.
Address.....Gen. James A. Beaver.
Address.....Rev. Wilcox.
Glee Club.
Literary Life at State.....V. B. Hoke '00
Solo.....F. J. Souders '00
Football.....Capt. C. B. Forkum
General Address.....Prof. G. C. Butts.
"Come Brothers, Raise the Song".....by the Glee Club.

Although Gen. Beaver was recovering from a recent illness, he seemed to have lost none of his old-time force, which he used, as ever, in vigorous support of the incoming class. A reception would hardly be complete without the General. He brought with him an interesting talker, Rev. Wilcox, a graduate of Marietta College. The program was supplemented by refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, and coffee. Everything contributed to make it one of the most successful and enjoyable receptions ever given by the Y. M. C. A. of this college

SOPHOMORES WIN

The long-deferred annual wrestling match between the Sophomores and Freshmen finally occurred on Wednesday evening, Sept. 28th. The whole student body assembled on Beaver field to see the champions of the two classes battle on the mat. The wrestlers and their weights were as follows:

HEAVY WEIGHT.

Kunkle, W.175 pounds
Kiebeck, W.175 1/2 "

MIDDLE WEIGHT.

Mumma, W.165 "
Leathers, W.165 "

LIGHT WEIGHT.

R. Smith, W.137 "
Lorah, W.137 "

Kunkle easily won the first two heavy weight bouts for the Sophs and Leathers as easily won the middle weight point for the Freshmen, notwithstanding that Mumma put up a game fight against his heavy opponent. The first bout of the light-weights was the chief event of the evening. It lasted one hour and a quarter and finally resulted in a draw. In the other two trials Lorah seemed to lose confidence and Smith won the point for 1907. Very little science was displayed except in the light-weight bouts.

The substitutes for 1907 were Rainey, Staud, Tawney and Wilson and for 1908, Van Horn, Bowdine and Finklestein.

No College man should allow his studies to interfere with his education.—Ex.

This page is reproduced from Vol. 1, No. 1 of the first publication at the College ever to carry the name Collegian. It is the oldest direct ancestor of the Daily Collegian, which this year marks its tenth year of daily publication.

The State Collegian was the successor to a campus literary magazine, the Free Lance. The Lance lived for 17 years on an irregular monthly publication schedule. In 1904, however, the staff realized that a monthly could not serve the information needs of a rapidly growing College, and abandoned the Lance for a weekly newspaper. It was the first attempt to produce a real newspaper at the College.

In Sept. 1911, the paper's name was changed to and the size expanded to the Penn State Collegian 5 columns. As the Penn State Collegian, the paper suffered its only break in continuous publication when war born shortages closed it down for three months in 1918-19. After the war, the paper expanded to eight-column size and bi-weekly publication. Sept. 1940 the paper became a daily as the rapid expansion of the school again forced more frequent publication. Sept. 16 will be the tenth anniversary of the Daily Collegian.

Phi Kappa Phi Initiates 66 New Members

Sixty-six students were initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, general honor society, in ceremonies at the Nittany Lion Inn, Thursday evening, January 19. A reception and business meeting followed the initiation, and Dr. Frank D. Kern, dean of the Graduate School and national president of Phi Kappa Phi, spoke on activities of the Society, including the recent biennial convention in New York City.

Those who were seniors and graduates initiated were Joseph F. Albert, Marian E. Alderson, Lydia M. Barraclough, George M. Betts, Jack Bonney, Walter G. Bowditch Jr., Mrs. Mary F. D. Boyd, Frederick A. Brennan, David G. Browne, A. Viola Campbell, Wayne H. Carter, Steve M. Cebulko, Harold B. Clark, Roland F. Daley, Beverly A. Davis, Forrest R. Enders, Edward H. England, Robert J. Eshleman Jr., George A. Etzweiler and Mark B. Fries.

Robert C. Gerhard, John A. Geyer, Kenneth E. Glessner, Robert B. Hessert, Bernard Hoffman, Mrs. Jane R. Hopkins, Russell J. Hutnick, Harold A. Johnson, Thomas H. Kilgore, Alfred J. Kovell, Olen Kraus, Catherine E. McAllister, John W. McNair Jr., Glenn A. Marburger, William F. Markley, Joseph H. Moore, Milford D. Myers, John C. Nott, and Hervey M. Painter.

Ralph J. Pecora Jr., Norman Pomerantz, Horst M. W. Prehl, Sydney E. Pulver, Francis H. Raven, Joseph P. Rettger, William D. Rice, Irwin E. Robinson, Wayne S. Rockwell, Jack N. Rosenberg, Charles H. Schellhase, Richard S. Schweiker, John R. Senior, Francis J. Shinaly, Grant F. Stetzler, Richard A. Strand, Buddy A. Strozger, Edward P. Sugrue, and Donald W. Thomas. Robert A. Vetter, David R. Weindorf, Robert H. Weisenfluh, Robert C. Wheeler, Hiram D. Williams, Jack W. Wyker, Martin H. Ziv, and Eugene M. Zorn.

9 points over Rutgers this Saturday, but let's not get over-confident, boys... Johnny Dewhirst, Charlotte High School, Rochester, N. Y., must be reading Pittsburgh's Doc Carlson's mail. Set up a no-shot offense against Marshall Hi the other night but lost, 9 to 5... co-captain Marty Costa can't figure these Navy-Penn State games. "Everytime we go down there it seems like Christmas. The refs don't give you a dog-gone thing," he burns. Which is exactly what Lion basketball coaches have been moaning about for a long time... Joe Tocci blames State's weekend lapse to the long lay-off during semesters. Thinks the boys will be "up" for West Virginia tomorrow.

Vocational Guidance

Tests

The Student Advisory Service announces that all sophomores and freshmen registering on campus for the first time are required to take the vocational guidance tests. These tests will be given in 10 Sparks at 7 o'clock tonight.

Romeo and Juliet

Tryouts

Tryouts for "Romeo and Juliet" will be held in 312 Sparks at 7 p.m. tomorrow night. Tryout selections must be memorized. Selections for each character are listed in the dramatics department on the second floor of Schwab auditorium.

Forestry Society

H. H. Jefferson, training officer of the American pulpwood association, will speak to the students and faculty of the Forestry department in 105 White Hall at 7:30 tonight. Slides and a short film will be shown and the nomination officers for the society will also be held at this time.

Froth Promotion

The promotion staff of Froth magazine will meet in 6 Carnegie at 7:30 tonight.

Student Dry Cleaning

Student Dry Cleaning Agency will open later in the week. Watch Collegian for announcement.

Floormen---

(Continued from page four) and Hen Belber took up his slack to account for 44 points among them.

With only five seconds to go, Ted Panoples fouled Ross Sachs who converted and sent the game into over-time.

Previously, Costa had given the Lions a 55 to 54 lead via a tap-in with 45 seconds of time remaining.

Saturday's encounter saw the Naval Academy make it three out of three with a 46 to 40 win at Annapolis.

NAVY SET-SHOTS

In tabulating 46 points the Tars resorted mainly to long set shots as the tight Penn State zone successfully warded off any penetration.

At half-time Navy held a commanding 29 to 18 edge. Only for a brief moment late in the contest were the Lions able to come within five points of the future admirals' lead.

COURT DRIBBLINGS — It's no wonder the Naval Academy comes up with an impressive won and lost record year after year. A look over their schedule shows that they play almost three-quarters of their competition on the home boards...

An article in the Sporting News points out that a team playing on its home floor has a definite 3 to 1 edge over its visitors according to Big Ten records... Joe Harris is giving the Lions

BOARD & ROOM FOR MEN
Inquire At
MARILYN HALL
317 E. Beaver Ave.
Telephone 3935
Ask For Mrs. Elleard

STAY REFRESHED
... VISIT ...
Rea & Derick's Fountain
TODAY!

NEW & USED
TEXT BOOKS
FOR ALL COLLEGE COURSES
SLIDE RULES — TYPEWRITERS
DRAWING INSTRUMENTS & SUPPLIES
FOR ALL SCHOOL SUPPLIES
TRADE AT KEELERS
CATHAUM THEATRE BLDG. OPPOSITE ENGINEERING