

Safety Valve...

On the New Dorms

TO THE EDITOR AND THE STUDENTS AT PENN STATE: Dean Emeritus A. R. Warnock is about the finest man I have ever met. He raised student government at Penn State from its infancy to what it is today. Those of us who have graduated and those of you who are still attending Penn State ought to be proud of the student government we have...

In the Daily Collegian of Feb. 10, I read "A Chat with ARW" in which it was stated that a committee was formed, of which I was a member, to set up the policy governing use of the new men's dormitories. The recommendations of this committee were to go to the Board of Trustees.

I never represented the students on such a committee. I was a member of the Student Union committee, which sometimes mentioned the new dorms but never set up a policy deciding who was to live in them. I don't want to disagree with ARW, but I do think this point should be cleared up.

My opinion on the new dorms is that the men now living in Nittany and Pollock Dorms have been there for a long time and have had some hardships, but in working with student government have done a good job. Except for the few who will always find something to complain about, the fellows have earned their reward of moving into the "hotels."

I don't think freshmen should have first choice in the new dorms. The policy of putting new men in the new dorms and later moving them to the Nittany and Pollock dorms is absolutely out of the question.

If the Trustees think that by putting the freshmen in the new dorms they can be easily controlled, then I believe the Trustees are denouncing student government. If student government is to do its job I think it must be given a chance. With student government working effectively in the Nittany and Pollock area I see no reason why the incoming freshman can't do a good job in the area.

—Bill Lawless
All-College President,
1948-49

The Daily Collegian

Successor to THE FREE LANCE, est. 1887

Published Tuesday through Saturday mornings inclusive during the College year by the staff of The Daily Collegian of The Pennsylvania State College. Entered as second-class matter July 5, 1934, at the State College, Pa., Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879.

Editor: Tom Morgan; Business Manager: Marlin A. Weaver

Managing Ed., Wilbert Roth; News Ed., Jack Reen; Sports Editor, Elliot Krane; Edit. Dir., Dottie Werlich; Society Ed., Connie Keller; Feature Ed., Sylvia Ochner; Asst. News Ed., Jack Senior; Asst. Sports Ed., Ed Watson; Asst. Society Ed., Barbara Brown; Promotion Co-Mgr., Charlotte Seidman; Photo Ed., Ray Benfer; Senior Board, George Vadas, Albert Ryan, Bob Kotzbauer, Myrna Tex, Roy McHenry; Staff Cartoonist, Henry M. Progar. Asst. Business Mgr., Joe Jackson; Advertising Dir., Louis Gilbert; Local Ad Mgr., Don Baker; Asst. Local Ad Mgr., Mark Arnold; Promotion Co-Mgr., Karl Borish; Circulation Co-Mgr., Bob Bergman and Tom Karolick; Classified Ad Mgr., Thelma Geier; Personnel Mgr., Betty Jane Hower; Office Mgr., Ann Zekauskas; Secretaries, Marion Goldman and Sue Stern.

STAFF THIS ISSUE

Night Editor: L. D. Gladfelter
Assistant Night Editor: Mary Krasnansky
Copy Editor: Jack Boddington
Assistants: Doris Golub, Dot Grosky, Mary Ellen Grube, Elizabeth Hill
Advertising Staff: Claude DiPasquale, Bill Schott

Little Man On Campus by Bibler

Repeat Tour

Recently one of the Collegian sophomores took students on what purported to be a tour of the Collegian office in an article on this page. However, I'm afraid she wasn't too accurate; so here we go on another tour of this "newspaper" office.

THIS BARREN ROOM, crowded with a score of typewriters and three score joes and coeds is where we do our work—where the Collegian is produced. The three haggard young men who look like they haven't been fed in a week and are pitching pennies in the corner are the student government reporters. They have the most responsible news assignments, but have nothing to do today because Cabinet officials are too busy reading "Sane Sex Life."

Another responsible news assignment is the activities of the office of the president of the College. Much information of value to students is released by this office. The unkempt fellow over by the window—the one with an unlit cigaret in his mouth and a burning butt behind each ear—is in charge of this beat. He's waiting around for the College publicity agent to come back from vacation so that he can find some "hot scoops."

And that weary, undernourished nymphomaniac in the tight sweater who's throwing dice on the editor's desk? She writes the Church Calendar.

That worried, scowling and haggard character who's reciting Shakespeare to a bored coed is the drama critic. Hamlet is his Bible, and he doesn't like anything else.

WHO'S THAT tired, thin, red-headed guy sunk in thought over by the window—the one with the malicious sneer on his lips? He's the managing editor and he's thinking up some nasty things to say about the trustees for not getting a permanent president for the college. He never reads the Collegian and no one's told him about senhower.

The scowling, unkempt character arguing with the haggard fellow in a tuxedo is the editor. He bet on California in the Rose Bowl game and is trying to get out of paying off. The guy in the tux is the sports editor—he always dresses the part.

What's that? Who's the fellow at the typewriter near the door—the only one who's kempt, unworried, happy, well-fed and not scowling—the only one who's writing anything? Oh, he's not important. That's President Eisenhower and he's writing a letter to some character he knows up at Columbia.

—L. D. GLADFELTER

Safety Valve...

Biological Virtues

TO THE EDITOR: It is with great irritation that I read these critical comments on the Sweater Girl. Speaking as one who believes that sex should be man's most noble and inspiring expression of human dignity, I take sharp exception with those who relegate eroticism to the demimode of the pimp, prostitute and the pervert.

To continue this idea, I advocate not only Miss Ankles, Miss Hips, but also Mr. Shoulders and Mr. Muscles. Indeed, there is no reason why the biological virtues of miladies should be masked by the bourgeois custom of idle inhibition.

—John Fedako

Letter Cut

Doesn't Seem Fair

TO THE EDITOR: I am writing this letter in behalf of the men in my dormitory and for some of the men in surrounding dorms. Our main gripe is that we do not see the reason for placing the Freshmen men in the new dorms. We believe that they should be made to live in the same "in-the-rough" atmosphere that we have been living in the past few semesters.

The seniors, juniors, and sophomores in that order, should have first preference in the dorms. If there is still any room left, then allow Freshmen to move in. To us, the present arrangement does not seem fair. On the other hand, we offer no complaints and are not crying about our living conditions here now, but when newer and better dorms are built in State College we upperclassmen should live in them.

• Name Withheld

Gazette...

Friday, February 17

The Ingersoll-Rand Co., Feb. 27, 28. June grads in ME, IE, MngE. Applicants must have 1.8 or better average.

COLLEGE PLACEMENT

Further information concerning interviews and job placements can be obtained in 112 Old Main.

Bethlehem Steel Corp. is interested in receiving preliminary applications for their loop training course from June grads in MngE, ME, EE, IE, CE, ChE, Metal, and Cer. Applications must be returned to Placement Service by Monday, Feb. 20.

Linde Air Products, Feb. 21. Advanced degree candidates in Organic and Physical Chemistry interested in research and development work with silicons, ozones, and rare gases.

Procter and Gamble Co. is interested in receiving preliminary applications from June grads, and also sophomores and juniors interested in summer employment, in Chem, ChE, EE, IE, and ME. Applications must be returned to Placement Service before Thursday, Feb. 23.

Sylvania Electric Products, Feb. 21, 22. June grads in EE, ME, ChE, Chem, Phys, Metal, and Cer. Applicants must have 1.5 or better average and should be single, or married without children.

COLLEGE HOSPITAL

Admitted Wednesday: Myles Werley, Victor J. Fritts, Delores Hyden.

Admitted Thursday: John Ingham, Yolana Kosa, Barbara Thomas.

Discharged Thursday: Raymond Sipe.

AT THE MOVIES

CATHAUM—Jolson Sings Again.
NITTANY—The Doctor And The Girl.
STATE—Twelve O'Clock High.

Pocahontas lost her chance with John—
Had no Judy Bond blouse to don!

JUDY BOND BLOUSES ARE SOLD AT BETTER STORES EVERYWHERE

See them in Altoona at Wm. F. GABLE Co., CHARLES SHOP State College
Free booklet: "WARDROBE TRICKS", Write Judy Bond, Inc., Dept. N, 1375 Broadway, New York 18

TICKETS NOW ON SALE AT STUDENT UNION

Players present:

TIME IS A DREAM

..... a thought provoking play .....

OPENS RUN TONIGHT

Friday — 90c
Saturday — $1.25

- REFRESHMENTS -

at CENTER STAGE
Allen and Hamilton St.

"Centre County's only continually running LIVE Theatre"

Curtain—8 p.m.

The First National Bank

Of State College

Member of

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
Federal Reserve System