Mortar Board Inaugurates New Infirmary Service

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, has inaugurated a new service at the College in its plan of visiting coed infirmary patients, which began Monday night.

Purpose of the new plan is to satisfy the material wants of infirmary patients after regular visiting hours have ended and means of contact of patients with their outside friends has been severed.

Visit Patients

Each night one member of Mortar Board is assigned to go to the infirmary to visit each woman student there and to ascertain her requests for any item which she may particularly desire but forgot to obtain from a visitor during the regular visiting hours.

After learning the various requests of women patients the member of Mortar Board then phones the patient's roommate and asks her to deliver to the infirmary the articles desired.

Special Permission

Special permission for the above plan was granted to Mortar Board when this organization inquired at the infirmary for some way of being a real service.

Another innovation which Mortar Board plans and which should be available for use by student organizations at the end of next week is a chaperon filing system. Names of faculty who have consented to be placed in the file and who have indicated the types of events they would prefer to chaperon will be available in the dean of women's office on request of interested organizations.

Negro Week---

Throughout the week, an exhibit featuring books written by and about Negroes will be displayed in the library. An art exhibit is being planned and will be shown throughout the week in one of the girls' dormitories. The exact location will be announced later.

Eisenhower---

(Continued from page one) granted by Milholland after undergraduate leaders had approached him and asked permission to meet the president-elect on his first visit here.

The president's office indicated that this would be Dr. Eisenhower's only visit to the campus before taking up his new duties July 1. He visited Penn State once before, some years ago.

Conferences

The schedule of conferences with administrators and officers of the College, plus a quick tour of the campus, "will keep him busy from morning until night" the president's office reported.

Purpose of the meetings will be to give Dr. Eisenhower a chance to become acquainted with College officials and conditions at the College. Probably no policy decisions will be made during the conferences, the president's office stated.

WSSF Drive---

(Continued from page one) each person contributed 60 cents—the price of a movie, the price of three packs of cigarettes or the price of two sundaes.

"Many of us know what it is to work our way through school—how little our dollars seem to stretch," she added. "And yet we are strong physically and are far from starving. In the war devastated areas of Europe and Asia, students also work their way through school, but they're still hungry, lack books and as many as 20 per cent have tuberculosis to retard their education.

"We should be able to give at least $5,000," she said, "to make education a reality for them instead of just a dream."

James Balog and Helen Dreher head the drive as co-chairmen. Other committee officers and chairmen are Janet Rosen, secretary; Ted Horner, treasurer; Alfred von Arx, Pelton Wheeler, Lynn Lapp, solicitation committee; Jane Kelley and William King, publicity co-chairmen; and Peter Sarantopoulos and Sue Halberin, special events committee.

Co-Edits Penn Haven Club

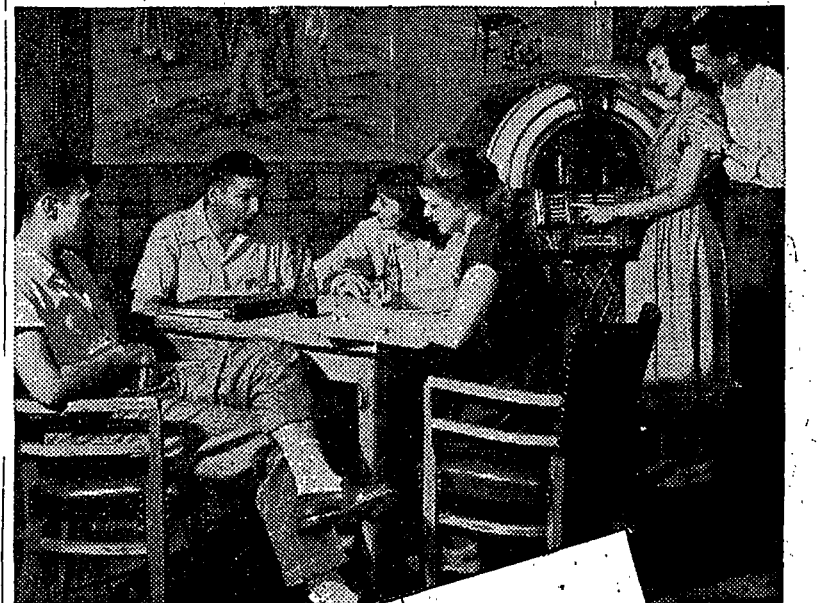

Officers of the Penn Haven Club for the current semester are Herman Kaplan, president; Robert Groff, vice-president; Wayne Cypher, secretary; and Daniel McDade, treasurer; Raoul Pratt, athletic chairman; Harold Kreiser, social chairman and John Neiderer, publicity chairman.

Delta Sigma Phi

New officers of Delta Sigma Phi are Donald MacIntire, president; Samuel Vaughan, vice-president; Casimir Boroway, secretary; Raymond Lefkoe, treasurer; Bruce Singer, house manager; John Jobe, caterer; and Morris Samuel, social chairman.

Recently pledged by the fraternity are John Brougher, Thomas Emerick, Charles Hunter, William Harkins, Ronald Moorehead, Benjamin Ruhe, Marlin Ristenbac, and Phillip Zimmerman.
