

Dr. Reid To Speak At Schwab Tonight Spring Week Carnival Date Set for May 18

Senior Dance, Houseparties Follow Event

The date for this year's Spring Carnival, feature attraction of Spring Week, has been set for Thursday, May 18, it was announced by Jack Senior, chairman of the Spring Week Committee.

The Spring Carnival previously had been scheduled for April 21, but All-College Cabinet last Thursday authorized the new date for three main reasons:

1. Preparations and publicity for the Carnival at the April date would interfere with All-College elections, which will be held April 19 and 20.
2. Chances of bad weather postponing the festive event as was the case last year will be less likely in the latter part of May.
3. Senior Ball and the houseparties will follow on May 19 and 20 and will provide a gala climax to Spring Week.

Committee Adds Member
Senior is head of a committee of six members appointed by All-College President Ted Allen at a Cabinet meeting several weeks ago. Since then the committee has added one new member.

Working with Senior are William Norcross, AIM; Robert Gabriel, IFC; Dorothy Werlinich, Panhel; Florence Freeman, Leonides; John Dalbor, Daily Collegian; and Fred Auch, recently appointed member-at-large.

Tentative plans have been made by the committee for Spring Week to begin on Tuesday, May 16 and continue through Saturday, May 20. Many outstanding events are being arranged to make the week the outstanding program for the Spring semester.

Carnival Was Success
Spring Week, in spite of the postponement for almost a month because of rain, was a success last year. It was originally planned by James Dunaway, last year's promotion manager of Froth. He took the plan to Interfraternity Council in November, 1948, and suggested it as part of Froth's 40th anniversary celebration last Spring.

A survey of the students was conducted and it showed that a great majority favored not only Spring Week but also the Carnival. In an All-College Cabinet meeting in December, 1948, the plan was approved and Dunaway was appointed chairman of the committee.

LA Council Probes Accused Teachers

A number of instructors in the School of Liberal Arts are currently under fire because of their teaching tactics.

The names of these teachers have been turned over to the Liberal Arts School Student Council for action. The Council's Teacher Rating Committee, headed by Roger Dietz and Ed Shan-ken, is now investigating the charges.

Letters of complaint, and possible remedies are sent by the Council to Dean Ben Euwema, who then takes the necessary action towards the teacher in question.

The Council and the International Relations Club are also currently sponsoring a series of lectures and discussions which are part of a program to make students at the College more conscious of international problems.

Giesey Calls Health Facilities Inadequate

Peter Giesey asked All-College Cabinet Tuesday night to appoint a committee to investigate what he called the present "inadequate facilities of the College Health Service."

Giesey said he had investigated the matter "to some extent" and revealed to Cabinet some of his findings.

He declared that Dr. Herbert H. Glenn, director of the College Health Service, estimated that the waiting room in the Dispensary was built to facilitate about 11 people. Many students know, said Giesey, that the room often overflows into the outer hall and even up the steps.

Space Is Limited
"Space is so limited," Giesey said, "as to allow only three or four doctors to work at one time. At least one doctor is forced to stand and wait."

Giesey turned his attention to the Infirmary, and declared that twice during the past semester the women's quarters were filled. Women who should have been hospitalized were sent back to their rooms, he said. Once, in the past semester, the men's quarters were filled, and again, men were sent home.

"One year ago, students with temperatures of 102 had to be sent to their quarters," Giesey continued, "but in 1938, one-half million dollars was allotted to finance the building of two new wings on the present Infirmary. This sum was about a quarter million dollars short. Why wasn't at least one wing built?"

Police Seek Stolen Painting

A highly valuable oil painting which disappeared from the window of a local restaurant Tuesday afternoon is being sought by police, John R. Juba, captain of the State College police disclosed yesterday.

The painting, an original by Count Geraldando DeGubby, French impressionist, was loaned to the Players by Alpha Epsilon Pi as an exhibition for "Time Is A Dream," current Players production. The painting was the gift of an alumnus.

Players are offering a $100 reward for information leading to the return of the picture.

Count DeGubby painted the picture after seeing a performance of "Time Is A Dream" in Paris in 1927, Henry Glass, faculty adviser to Players said. At the Paris exposition the following year, Count DeGubby's work won third prize in the international art competition, Glass said.

Tickets Will Be Available Until Lecture Program Begins

A number of good seats remain for Dr. Ira DeA. Reid's Community Forum lecture tonight at 8 o'clock in Schwab Auditorium. Dr. Reid will speak on "The American Race System: Democracy's Dilemma."

Tickets, which are $1, will be sold at Student Union desk in Old Main right up to the time of the program, according to Jo Hays, chairman of the ticket committee. Previous to Dr. Reid, the State College Community Forum has brought to the College such important figures as Dr. Harold Urey, atomic scientist; Hanson Baldwin, military analyst and military editor of the New York Times; and Carl Sandburg, American folk poet and Pulitzer Prize winner.

Sen. Styles Bridges was listed to appear on this date, but was stricken with virus pneumonia and had to cancel his lecture. He may appear here in the Community Forum series in either March or April.

Wrote Several Books

Dr. Reid, known to many who heard him speak on Religion-in-Life Week programs at the College in past years, is at present professor of sociology at Haverford College. He has written several books on the Negro in America. Among them are "The Negro Immigrant," "In a Minor Key," and "Adult Education among Negroes." He is also co-author of "Sharecroppers All."

Dr. Reid was formerly professor of sociology and later head of the department at Atlanta University. From 1940 to 1947 he served as editor of Phylon, the University Quarterly Review of Race and Culture.

Holds Many Positions

He also is a member of the executive committee of the American Sociological Review. He is a member of the Federal Advisory Committee on Employment Security of the Department of Labor.

Formerly Dr. Reid served as a consultant on minorities for the Social Security Board and for the War Manpower Commission. He was also on the Board of Managers of the YMCA in New York and Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. Kent Forster, professor of history at the College, will introduce Dr. Reid tonight.

Cabinet Adopts Class Ring

All-College Cabinet, at an open meeting Tuesday night, adopted an L. G. Balfour Co. design as the official Penn State class ring.

The design had been accepted by Cabinet for consideration at a previous meeting upon recommendation by the ring committee. According to Ted Allen, All-College president, students may order the ring immediately. Negotiations are already underway for the Balfour Co. to begin manufacturing the ring.

Charles Beatty, ring committee chairman, made it clear that the ring's size, weight, and stone will be left to the student's discretion, once official specifications are made. Allen appointed a committee to set the ring specifications. It includes Charles Beatty, chairman, James Balog, Philip Barker, and Morton Snitzer. The original ring committee was instructed to continue investigating plans for ring distribution.

Truman Urges Telephone Truce

WASHINGTON — President Truman yesterday urged both the telephone company and the union to accept a sixty-day truce which he proposed and to exhaust every possible means for settling their dispute without a strike.

White House observers predicted that the company will accept the truce, since Mr. Truman asked a continuation of present wages and working conditions. At present there has been no indication on the union view.

British Vote Today

LONDON—Britain's voters will cast their ballots today in its general election, during which 34 million voters will be able to make their opinions known. The Labor Party is given a slight edge over the Conservatives, led by Winston Churchill, but it is expected to be a close race.
