Persons interested in this type of work should contact the Student Employment Office, now in Old Main, as soon as possible.

Students interested in part-time employment during the semester also should visit the office to fill in schedule cards. Those who registered with the office last semester also should fill in new schedule cards if they have not already done so.

Reece also said that there is a current opportunity for employment for a senior or a graduate student with a knowledge of sales or meats, or both. More information can be obtained at the office.

Pollock Council Elects Officers

Pollock Circle Dorm Council elected officers for this semester at its second meeting of the term last Monday night.

Officers elected were Charles Edwards, president; Paul Kulp, vice-president; John Bundy, secretary; and Malcolm Yaple, treasurer.

John Ogro, president last semester, summarized the achievements of the council under his regime, pointing out what he called improved food and mail situations, and the installation of the coke, candy, and cigarette machines in the dorms.
