

Tankmen Look Toward Upset Win Over Orange

Faced with the tough task of trying for an upset win over the Syracuse tankmen this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Glennland pool, the Lion swimmers are hoping the home scene will again bring out their best efforts.

While winning one and tying one on the road in five meets, the Lions have fared better at home. They defeated Delaware, 39-36, and lost a close decision to Seton Hall, 38-37, in the local pool.

While most of the other athletic teams are on the road, with the exception of the gym team, the aquameet affords a chance for students to see some exceptionally good swimming, both by the Orange and the Lion natators.

NEW MARKS

Captain John McGrory, Rod Waters, Gene Kolber and company have come up with new time marks throughout the season, and pushed the opposition to many record breaking times, also.

Coach Ted Webster, Syracuse coach, will bring a veteran squad to face the Lions this afternoon. Only three swimmers were lost to the Orange team via graduation last year. Roommates Brent Clark and Hal Auer will bear the brunt of the work in the distance events, and the three Jacks; Faxton, Gary and Watkins will lead the Orange in the medley and sprint events.

Penn State's ace backstroke,

Rod Waters, will meet tough competition from Ken Heller and Skippy Mullin in the 150-yard backstroke. Rudy Valentino, who has come to be termed a "swim-nast" because of his participation in the fancy diving for the mermen and his tumbling antics for the Wettstonemen, may not be able to dive for the Lions in this afternoon's meet.

TOP TEAMS

The tankmen close the dual meet season next Saturday when they meet Virginia in Glennland pool. Their present record stands at an unimpressive 2-1-4, after meeting some of the top teams in the East.

The Lions, early this year, looked like a good bet to wind up with the best record in recent years, because of the return of a veteran squad after a highly successful season in 1949, but competition has proven itself exceptionally tough. Two more wins would look good to the game Nittany natators.

Wrestling Picture

A picture will be taken of the wrestling team at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon on the Rec Hall mat. Coach Charley Spedel would like to have at least three teams present for the picture. Squad members may pick up the necessary equipment at the stock room.

State Matmen Oppose Navy At Annapolis

Central Pennsylvania invades the domain of the Naval Academy this afternoon when Penn State's wrestling team goes against a potentially-good Middle mat unit.

Six of the eight grapplers on the Lion team that meets the Sailors in combat today are from the Keystone state's District 6-9. Jack Dreibelbis, 128 pounds; Cec Irvin, 155, and Spider Corman, 165, hail from State College, while Don and Jim Maurey and heavy-weight Homer Barr are from Clearfield.

The other team members are 121-pound John Reese of Kingston, and Dormont's pride and joy, Mike Rubino, Nittany 175-pounder.

SANTEL REPLACED

Corman's presence in the Spedelmen's lineup is the only change from last week's Army win. He replaces Bill Santel, who was injured in his battle with the Cadets' Dean Mulder.

Navy boasts a record of four wins and two losses, while the Nittanians will be seeking their sixth win in seven starts, having bowed only to Syracuse. The Middies have taken Columbia, Penn, Yale and Rutgers into camp and were surprised by Michigan and Lehigh.

Last year, Coach Charlie Spedel's outfit smacked Navy into submission by a 20-10 score. It

Syracuse, Lion Gymnasts To Battle at 2 O'Clock

Chances are slim that the Nittany Lion gymnasts will be able to upset the powerful bar-team of Syracuse this afternoon, but Rec Hall gym fans are nevertheless in for a treat when the two squads square off at 2 o'clock.

As far as individual performances are concerned, the meet may be almost a talent preview of the forthcoming Eastern Intercollegiate.

Syracuse is loaded, with men like Joel Baba, one-time Philadelphia high school champ who works the side-horse, parallel-bars, and flying rings; Gene Rabbitt, NAAU and Eastern Intercollegiate side-horse champion; Leo Minotti, Eastern Intercollegiate record-holder with a time of 3.5 climbing the rope; and Captain Norman (Bud) Matthews and Bob Bean, former PIAA tumbling champs.

TOUGH LIONS

And Penn State, although its one-won, two-lost record isn't impressive, has several competitors who are expected to make things tough in the Easterns.

Foremost among these is tumbling Rudy Valentino, runner-up in the Easterns to State's Bill Meade last year, and top candidate for the title this season. Rudy has bounced away with firsts in every meet this year.

Lions Dave Benner, side-horse; Dick Spiese and Captain Joe Mirenzi, parallel-bars, and Lee Perna, rope-climb, are the best of Coach Gene Wettstone's present crop. Spiese and Mirenzi finished one-two against Navy last week, while Perna chalked up a new low for him, 3.9, to earn second in the rope-climb in the same meet.

Syracuse has won three meets, defeating Cortland State Teachers, Temple and Navy, and tied one, 48-48, with Army.

The lineups:

Syracuse	Penn State
Side-Horse	Seifreid
Baba	Kump

Quintet at Syracuse Tonite

Penn State's basketball team will move over to the State Fair Coliseum in Syracuse, N.Y., tonight for its court battle with the Orangemen scheduled to start at 8:45 o'clock.

Aiming at win No. 12 the Nittany charges of Coach Elmer Gross last night opposed Colgate University in the first of two tilts which mark the final weekend bill on the Lions' 1949-'50 schedule.

The Nittany cagers will seek to repeat an earlier performance in which they downed the Orange by 67 to 61 count in Recreation Hall. Since that time the Syracuseans have won 6 and lost 1, while their season's record now stands at 15 and 6.

KILEY

Coach Lew Andreas' All-American candidate Jack Kiley and 6-foot 6-inch Ed Miller will have to be stopped if the Lions expect to upset a favored Syracuse outfit.

Although only a sophomore last year, Kiley scored 351 points to lead his teammates to a mark of 18 wins against 7 losses. Because of its outstanding record, Syracuse was awarded the Allie Seelback Award as champions of Upstate New York.

MILLER SURPRISES

After the graduation of 6-foot 8-inch Royce Newell, Coach Andreas expected to encounter plenty of trouble in the height department, but the altitudinous Miller has been a better-than-pleasant surprise. His 225-pound bulk under the baskets can cause as much damage as his dangerous pivotal shots. Last year he led the Orange freshmen team in scoring.

Supplementing Miller defensively is Bob Savage, smooth 6-foot, 4-inch 200-pound opportunist who utilizes a head shot from the corners with telling effect. Last year Savage tallied 128 points

Boxing Meet

The results of last night's boxing meet between Penn State and Wisconsin reached The Daily Collegian too late for publication this morning. A full account of the outcome of the fights will appear in Tuesday's issue.

despite being used sparingly at the start of the '48 season.

At the guards Syracuse has three equally well-regarded floor-men who are fast, deceptive and experienced. Dick Suprunowicz came along fast last season and scored 128 points for Bill Orange while starring defensively. He is usually assigned the job of holding down the opposition's high scorer.

MILLER, ROSEN

Captain Stubby Miller and Ed Rosen compose the operatives at the other guard position. Miller has the speed and court savvy while Rosen is labeled as "a genuine spot player" with a good set-shooting eye. Rosen scored 108 points last year.

Among other teams to have already felt the sting of the potent Syracuse scoring are Niagara, twice; Canisius, Princeton, Columbia, Fordham, N.Y.U., Army and Colgate.

Probable starting lineup:

Penn State	Syracuse
Tocci	F Kiley
Lamie	F Savage
Schisler	C Miller, E.
Costa	G Suprunowicz
Williams	G Miller, F. or Rosen

Three Outlanders

The roster of the Syracuse basketball team lists only three non-New York players. The three are Carmine Deer, William Fash, and John Kiley all from New Jersey.
