Dean Judges Teacher Traits

The ability to inspire students is the quality executives of teacher-education colleges judge most important in selecting instructors for undergraduate courses.

This conclusion was reported today by Dr. Marion R. Trabue, dean of the School of Education and chairman of the Committee on Preparation of College Teachers, before the annual convention of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Based On Survey

The report given today was based upon the returns from presidents and deans in 200 colleges for the education of teachers. The next most important trait, the survey revealed, was emotional stability and maturity.

An unusually high academic record in his special field was considered important, but not highly important. The executives felt that a prospective college teacher's graduate program of studies should include all the important divisions of his subject, plus extensive work in another broad field, rather than high specialization in a single subject.

Dean Hospitalized

Royal M. Gerhardt, dean of admissions at the College, was admitted to the Centre County Hospital in Bellefonte on Sunday for observation. Latest report indicates that his condition is improved, according to Mrs. Gerhardt.

Dean Gerhardt is under the care of Dr. Eugene H. Mateer, of State College.

Major Bill Reynolds, Oregon '40 Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force!

Bill was an all-round athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity teams at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

A Theta Chi, Bill enjoyed campus social life. Found that it eased the pressure of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill chose a future in the Air Force. He "flew" his first Link trainer as an Aviation Cadet in 1940. By March, 1941, he had won his pilot wings.

The 1st Observation Squadron, Fort Riley, Kansas was Lieutenant Reynolds' first assignment. While there he met the future Mrs. Reynolds. They married a year later and now have two fine sons.

The Squadron moved to Panama, then to the Pacific. Bill advanced from pilot to operations officer to squadron commander. He came home a Major and qualified for a Regular Commission.

Recently commended for peacetime work—organizing and improving instruction techniques—Major Reynolds, a "Pilot-Professor", looks forward to a long and gainful career in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Ait: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.
