

Mine Workers Offer Loan To Striking Auto Union

Late (AP) News, Courtesy WMAJ

WASHINGTON — The coal strike won, John L. Lewis yesterday offered a one-million-dollar loan to the CIO Auto Workers to help them with their strike against the Chrysler Corporation. At the same time, Lewis urged other unions to follow his example to assure a union victory in the strike. Lewis himself received help from the CIO in the coal strike just ended.

The signing of a new contract for an added $1.40 per day in wages and welfare benefits sent the soft coal miners back to work yesterday. The signing meant relief for many areas hard hit by the strike, as railroads resumed full shipments of coal on a rush basis.

Claims Patient Dead

MANCHESTER, N. H. — Dr. Hermann Sander, taking the stand in his own defense here yesterday, told the jury that Mrs. Abbie Borroto was already dead when he injected air into her veins. Sander said that he didn't know why he did it, but added that "something snapped" when he saw the expression of pain on the woman's face.

Jury Deliberates

NEW YORK — A jury of six men and six women yesterday was deliberating on the fate of Judith Coplon and Valentine Gubitchev at their spy conspiracy trial here. Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan told the jurors that although no direct proof had been offered, it was often necessary for the government to rely on circumstantial evidence.

Statehood Up for Vote

WASHINGTON — The House has tentatively approved a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii. The final vote will be taken today and approval is expected. Both the Hawaii and Alaska statehood bills are expected to run into opposition in the Senate however.

The annual Red Cross drive for funds at Penn State, which began yesterday, will continue through Friday.

The College contributed $550 to the State College chapter last year. This year students will be approached through individual solicitors.

Fraternities and sororities are urged to contribute from their treasuries. Coeds will cover the fraternity houses for funds during the week. Independent men will be canvassed by representatives from their dormitories while women will be solicited in their individual dormitory units.

The State College chapter's goal for this year has been set at $6600. Of this amount, approximately $4100 will be set aside for local needs and the remaining $2500 will be sent to the National Red Cross.

Chairman Robert Longnecker has stated that if each student would contribute ten cents to the drive, last year's goal would be doubled.

Perkins Releases Standards For Weekend Import Housing

A set of standards for the housing of imported women guests has been released by Harold W. Perkins, assistant to the dean of men. Copies were sent to fraternities last week.

The standards go into effect immediately, although some provisions have been modified for the houseparty weekend of the IFC-Panhel Ball. Four plans are available to house guests. Under all, guests are expected to observe the regulations of the Women's Student Government Association.

Shared Housing

The plan commonly used at present is shared housing; that is, guests are housed in a separate portion of the chapter house. Houses must be approved for this plan three weeks before the first weekend for shared housing. After that, approval is granted for an indefinite period.

Tomorrow is the date set for application for approval for IFC weekend. Approval or rejection is scheduled for Mar. 13, and Mar. 17 is the deadline for the submission of information about guests, escorts, and letters of acceptance from chaperones.

To receive approval, houses must be of a construction which does not present a fire hazard when partitioned. Muslin is suggested as a suitable material for dividing the sections. The "reasonable capacity" of the house must also be determined by the dean of men's office.

Exchange Housing

A second plan, which has been used in the past, is known as "exchange housing." Two or more fraternities cooperate under this plan to house guests in one fraternity and brothers in the other. Annexes may also be used.

Under both plans, the guest quarters must be vacated by noon by their regular occupants, and chaperones approved by the dean of men and dean of women's offices must be engaged. Either two wives or a couple must remain in both men's and women's sections overnight. Social functions must be terminated an hour before the time when women must be in the dorms, which is 2 a.m. on "big weekends."

Imported guests may also be housed in private homes, or hotels, or in vacant rooms in the women's dorms for a nominal amount. The rules of WSGA, IFC, and the College are to be observed by imports under all plans. This means that they must be returned to their quarters at the same time as women students.

These privileges are available only for "name band" weekends. The committee which formulated the rules included Dean Perkins, chairman, Ted Allen, Cyrus V. Bissey, and Mrs. George Leffler.

The Association of Fraternity Counselors has approved the plan, but Interfraternity Council took no action last week. Their approval is not necessary to apply the standards, however.

College Eyes Art Collection

The College would like to become permanent custodian of the Gimbel collection of over 100 paintings shown here two years ago, but at present can provide no gallery for a permanent exhibition of the paintings.

Prof. M. S. Osborne, head of the department of architecture, said yesterday that no formal overtures have been made to Gimbel's concerning guardianship of the paintings. However, when they were shown here in 1948 the College indicated that it was interested in the idea, he said.

The collection, valued at between $125,000 and $150,000, is composed of works by Pennsylvania artists and paintings of Pennsylvania scenes by other artists. Many galleries probably would like to have the collection, commissioned by Gimbel's, said Professor Osborne.

Probably the collection could not be purchased but would be placed in the gallery that could exhibit it best, on a permanent loan basis, he explained.

Chorus Directors To Plan IFC Sing

IFC sing chorus directors will meet in 405 Old Main at 8:30 tonight to plan their annual affair, according to Otto Grupp, co-chairman.

The sing will be held March 19, 21 and 22 in 10 Sparks. Half the fraternities and sororities will sing the first night and half the second night. Winners will sing the third night. Judges have not yet been chosen.

Order in which the groups will appear will be determined at a drawing tonight. Groups will be judged on tone quality, intonation, interpretation and phrasing, balance of parts, diction, and general effect.

Co-chairman are Otto Grupp for IFC and Nancy George for Panhellenic Council.
