 year has defeated all opponents except Hartmeyer of Temple. Hartmeyer, and Syracuse stars, Norm Matthews, Jack Bean and Hugh Goldstein are expected to give Valentino most of his competition. Army's duo of Webster and Knapp will be in the limelight also.

P-Bar Precision

Precision work will hit its peak on the parallel bars where the Lions have a chance to place high on the merits of sophomore Dick Spiese. Spiese, however, will be up against the toughest competition of the day in Army's Carl Brunson, and John Keossian of Temple.

Flying Rings

The flying-rings is anybody's event and may produce a surprise winner. Many departing seniors will be giving this event a last fling, and double flyaways and other difficult maneuvers will be the order of the day.

Presents Award

The meet will open with Charles Graydon, head of the EIGL advisory board, making the award of the traveling-trophy to Syracuse and Army who tied for team honors earlier in the season.

Four winners in each event will be awarded medals, one gold, one silver, and two bronze, after each event is concluded. All-around winners will receive a cup.

SPIRITUAL AMBULANCE SERVICE

The present vogue of psychiatry, psychoanalysis, psychosomatic medicine, and even "mind healing" indicates that humanity is more than sick—humanity is dangerously ill and dying! In the face of this can the Church be content with "emergency ambulance service"? Can the Church with her power for the "healing of nations" be content with "band-aid" treatment? If you are a member of the Church and do not attend—do not support the Church, you vote for "band-aid" treatment.
