Cabinet To Coordinate School Council Elections

All-College Cabinet Thursday night approved the formation of an inter-council committee for coordination of school council elections. The committee will consist of representatives from the eight school councils.

Elliot Krane, chairman of the school council coordinating committee which proposed the plan, explained that an attempt will be made to schedule all school elections together so that new councils can take office at the same time.

Under the present system, he said, council elections are held at various times throughout the year. This has resulted in a generally poor turnout of voters and in vacancies of council offices since students often are graduated midway in their terms of office, Krane added.

Richard Schweiker presented proposals for amendments in the All-College Constitution. The amendments must be read at three consecutive meetings before Cabinet can vote on them. Proposed amendments will be published in the Daily Collegian Tuesday.

John Senior, chairman of the Spring Week committee, informed Cabinet that the State College Drum and Bugle Corp has contracted for use of the S. Allen street block in front of the main gate for the weekend of the College Spring Festival. The committee had planned to seek borough council permission to use the street for the carnival May 18.

Senior said that an agreement is being attempted whereby the carnival and the corp fair would share the area on the Spring Carnival date.

Lynn Lapp, chairman of the campus chapter of National Student Association, presented plans for the orientation of officers of campus organizations on parliamentary procedure.

It is planned that the sessions be opened to all interested students.

Following a final report by Robert Keller, Cabinet unanimously voted to dissolve the new dormitory committee which has been investigating the College housing policy for the enlarged West Dorms.

Allen directed the public occasions committee to make arrangements for the dedication of the student government room. He appointed a committee, headed by Cabinet Vice-President Harry McMahon, for all-college inauguration day.

The Nittany Lion Roars

FOR Ralph Johnson and Jean Bickerton, who so ably entertained the opening night crowd in the Player's production of "Life with Father".

The Pride of the Nittany Valley turns his majestic head and growls his approval of the good jobs done by the male and female leads in the long-run Broadway play.

Johnson and Miss Bickerton represent the alpha and omega of Player's performances, in the sense that "Life With Father" is the first show for Johnson and the swan-song for the latter.
