

Today
is
Froth Day

The Daily Collegian

"FOR A BETTER PENN STATE"

Today's Weather:
Cloudy and mild,
with showers

VOL. 50 — NO. 119

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 18, 1950

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Officials Take Action On Violated Dorm Rule

Approximately 150 hot plates and percolators were removed from rooms in both men's and women's dormitories during the Spring vacation.

The action was taken by College officials after several appeals, directed largely at the Tri-dorm area, were ignored. There is a College regulation which prohibits cooking in the dormitories.

According to Daniel A. Demarino, assistant dean of men, this has been a problem for a long time. The dorms are "not established for that purpose," he said, but "for sleeping and study purposes only." He said that the goods taken "will be returned when ever the owner leaves campus this Spring." They have been marked and stored in the meantime.

Sentiment against the move seemed bitter in the dorms, however, with the possibility that Pollock and Nittany Councils will take some action to protest the search.

Demarino cited the annoyance caused by smoke and cooking odors, and fire hazards as the reason for the regulation. He also said that coffee is provided in the PUB.

Late AP News Courtesy WMAJ

U. S. Rebukes Soviets For Baltic Attitude

State Department To Delay Reply

WASHINGTON — The United States has chided Russia for lacking "calmness and restraint" in the Baltic incident involving a United States military plane. The Soviet Union has protested that the American plan violated Russian territory when it flew over Latvia on April 8. The department announced formally yesterday that its reply would be delayed until the incident is fully investigated.

Reds Gain Toehold

HOIHOW — The Chinese Nationalists admit that a Chinese Red invasion force has gained a toehold on the island of Hainan of the South China coast. At last report, fighting was still in progress near the island capital of Hoihow.

News Briefs

Five O'Clock Theater

"Apple Pie," a one act play by Bert States, will be presented at Five O'Clock Theater in the basement of Old Main at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Pre-Vet Club

The Pre-Vet Club will hold its monthly meeting in 206 Ag Building at 7 o'clock tonight. Plans for the club picnic will be made. Following the business Dr. Bortree will speak on "X Disease of Cattle," and Dr. Shook will talk on "Brucellosis."

American Metals Society

Dr. Stephen F. Urban, director of research, Titanium Alloy Manufacturing Division of the National Lead Co. will address the Penn Stat Chapter, American Society of Metals at 8 o'clock tonight in the MI Art Gallery.

Photo Club

Dr. George S. Johnson will present a lecture to the Penn State Photo Club at 7 o'clock in Room 1 ME. Dr. Johnson is a noted judge of colored photography slides and one of the leading color photographers in the country.

Puhan To Give Final LA Talk

The final lecture of the current Liberal Arts series will be presented by Alfred Puhan, of the United States State Department, at 8 o'clock tonight in 121 Sparks. His subject will be "The Voice of America as an Instrument of U.S. Foreign Policy."

As acting chief of the program operations branch, International Broadcasting Division, U.S. Department of State, Puhan directs the Voice of America program and is responsible for its planning and execution.

During World War II, Puhan was on the staff of the Office of War Information where he was program director. He has been with the State Department since 1946, where he has been chief of the Europe and Latin American sections, special assistant, and now acting chief of the Programs Operations Branch.

Puhan is a graduate of Oberlin College and has studied at the University of Cincinnati and Columbia University. He also has served on the faculty at Columbia.

Froth Announces Promotions; Sam Vaughan Named Editor

Sam Vaughan has been appointed editor of Froth and Quint Toews business manager, co-editors Elliot Krane and Philip Yedinsky announced yesterday. Vaughan has been serving as temporary editor of the Inking, newly formed photo-literary magazine.

Other editorial and business staff promotions announced were Jesse Miller, managing editor; Arthur Keen, editorial director; Henry Progar, art editor; Charles Billman, photography editor; Carl Liachowitz, promotion manager; John Erickson, editorial associate.

Donald MacIntire, advertising art director; Bernard Gutterman, assistant photography editor; Burt Rothstein, advertising manager; Donald Weinberg, circulation manager; David Schmuckler and Irvin Kricheff, business associates; Bill Brady and William Molloy, promotion associates.

Advanced to junior board were

Polls Open Tomorrow For Spring Elections

College Politicians To Appear At Collegian Mixer Tonight

Candidates for All-College and class offices to be decided in voting tomorrow and Thursday will make their final public pre-election appearances at a Daily Collegian-sponsored political mixer in the TUB at 7:30 tonight.

Admission to the mixer is free. All students are invited to attend. Each of the candidates will be introduced by Henry "Hank"

Glass, master of ceremonies, and will give a brief talk.

The "Debonaires," a local dance combo, will provide music for dancing beginning at 7 o'clock. Following the introduction of the candidates for office, the band will continue to play until 10.

The mixer is one of a series sponsored by the Collegian before each of the All-College and class elections in the interest of better student government.

Hugh Stevens and Richard Weisburg, heads of the Lion and State parties respectively, have urged students to turn out en masse for tonight's social-political get-together.

Both clique chairman emphasized the importance of having the electorate meet the candidates in person if they are to vote wisely in the elections beginning tomorrow. Only in this way, they said, can we be assured of a more progressive and representative student government.

IFC Chooses New Nominees

The Inter-fraternity council met Wednesday night and held nominations for officers for next year.

Nominated for president were Robert Houseworth, Triangle; Harold Leimbach, Pi Kappa Phi; Fred Wiker, Alpha Chi Rho.

Those nominated for vice president were Edwin Barnitz, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Robert Sabina, Phi Delta Theta and H. Curtis Wessner, Phi Kappa Psi. The lone nomination for secretary-treasurer was James Yerkes of Sigma Pi.

Further nominations will be accepted by IFC until noon, Wednesday April 26. These nominations will be checked by IFC for proper qualifications as to grades and eligibility before the nominees will be allowed to campaign.

Blanks are available in the Student Government room for independent men who are interested in joining a fraternity. Some of the questions included are name, age, average, race, religion, address, curriculum, activities, interests and house preference.

Glee Club Names Incoming Officers

Emerson Jones has been elected president and Robert Neff vice-president of the 1950-51 College Glee Club.

Elections were held recently at the club's annual banquet at Hotel State College.

Manager of next year's club will be William Detweiler, publicity manager Charles Swartz, and secretary Peter Farrell.

Frank Gullo, director of the club, has asked that all music still out be turned in at the department of music office for refunds by the end of the week.

To Give Program

The Centre County Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation will present a program titled "Horsemanship as Part of the Physical Education and Recreation Curriculum" on Tuesday, April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the Stock Pavilion.

Captain Gregory Gagarin, assistant professor of physical education, will conduct the program.

'Fight Reds With Ideas' - St. John

By HERBERT STEIN

Communism cannot be fought with any weapon other than a better idea, Robert St. John said here last night.

Speaking in Schwab auditorium for the final Community Forum program, St. John warned that the United States cannot export this better idea along with atomic bombs. Though the U.S. has this idea, he said, it has not tried to export it to the countries of Europe, that might turn to communism.

In Greece, for example, the U.S. has demanded the people choose between their old monarchy or communism and told them that "they better not choose communism," he said.

Never Given A Chance

"But we have never given them a chance at our way of life," he continued.

On supporting Yugoslavia, St. John said that "Americans must first decide why we are fighting the Cold War. If it is to contain Russian imperialism, he said, then Yugoslavia is already on our side.

If it is to contain communism, he said, we have already lost the Cold War.

St. John said that Stalin broke with Tito because he swallowed the reports of his own diplomats in Belgrade, who reported that 80 per cent of the Yugoslavs were opposed to Tito and were pro-Russian.

Several years ago St. John said he had been criticized for reporting that 80 per cent of the Yugoslavs were enthusiastically in favor of Tito's regime. He also said that there was a group of Washington diplomats who reported that 80 per cent of the Yugoslavs were anti-Tito and pro-United States.

90 Per Cent Back Tito
He estimated that today there are 90 per cent supporting Tito. The gain is due to recruiting of those who didn't like the tie with Russia which has now been broken, he said.

Three factors were listed as leading directly to the Tito-Stalin break. They were:

1. Tito wanted to adopt communism to the conditions in Yugoslavia while the Russians wanted him to copy the soviet system.

2. Tito wanted to industrialize the country while Russia wanted to keep it rural and dependent on the Soviets.

3. The Yugoslavs are a fiercely independent people with long and belligerent traditions of protecting their independence.

In discussing the rise of communism in Yugoslavia, St. John pointed to the feudal land system which has existed since the country was created after the first World War. He also singled out the intervention of foreign business men.

Famous Grid Quotes

"What you hicks need is a big time coach." —W. Stark

Campaigns End As Both Parties Urge Huge Vote

By JACK BODDINGTON

The question of who is to take the reins of student government next year will be decided at the campus polls tomorrow and Thursday.

The election will conclude several weeks of active campaigning by the State and Lion parties, during which candidates have toured fraternities and dormitory units enlisting support for themselves and their party platforms.

Keynote of the campaign has been an appeal for more students to vote, with both cliques asserting that greater effectiveness in student government affairs can be attained through stronger evidence of support. The elections committee too, under chairman William Shade, has urged a record turnout at the polls.

Top Contenders

Top among contenders for student offices are Blair Green and Robert Davis, State and Lion party candidates for all-College president. Also to be selected are presidents of the senior and junior classes and vice-presidents and secretary treasurers in each of the three categories. President of the Athletic Association will also be selected.

Must Present Cards

Balloting will begin in the lounge of Old Main at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and continue until 5 o'clock, with the procedure duplicated Thursday. Students will be required to present their matriculation cards to receive ballots which will be available at tables arranged alphabetically for that purpose.

All students will be permitted to vote for all-College officers, but ballots for class officials will be restricted to members of the respective classes.

Both the campaign and the election are subject to provisions of the elections code and violations can bring penalties of not less than nine and not more than 99 votes from the elections committee.

Under the present code, all officers are elected separately, bringing forth the opinion from several party members that individual campaigning has increased in intensity. Party officials have also observed that a greater degree of platform difference is in evidence than in previous years.

Today . . .

The Nittany Lion Roars

FOR Sam Vaughan, newly appointed editor of Froth and the others who will guide the fortunes of the College's sometimes funny humor magazine, which makes another appearance today. Despite his undying loyalty to The Collegian, the Lion casts aside his bias and emits a loud and lusty roar for Vaughan and his cohorts.