

Finalists Named For May Queen

Arlene Connor, Lorraine Stotler, and Victoria Williams are the finalists for the title of May Queen, announced Ella Louise Williams, chairman of the House of Representatives.

Barbara Baker, Jo Hutchon, and Sue Knapp will run for the Maid of Honor position as a result of yesterday's election in which approximately 450 coeds voted.

Final elections will be tomorrow on the second floor balcony of Old Main from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The two senior women who are the runners-up for May Queen will be the senior attendants, and the freshman runners-up for Maid of Honor will be freshman attendants.

At yesterday's elections, senior women signed for the Hemlock chain. These girls will assist in making up the chain.

The Queen and her court will reign over May Day, Saturday, May 13, and will be honored at a dance in Recreation Hall that night.

A special committee selects the remainder of the court. The coeds they pick will be sophomore and junior attendants, freshmen jesters, sophomore heralds, and 20 senior women who will form the Honor Arch.
