

Tkac Pitches Batsmen To 9-5 Win Over Owls

By GEORGE GLAZER

Four-hit pitching by Al Tkac and a 12 hit attack put the Lion baseball team back on the winning path with a 9-5 victory over Temple yesterday afternoon.

Under ideal weather conditions for the first time this season, the Nittanics exploded for five runs in the first inning and were never headed after that.

Tkac gave up three bases on balls to the Owls, but struck out six. Temple's starting pitcher Clayton Liddell walked one and struck out one while Owl reliever Tony DiLaurentis walked two and struck out one.

Joe Tocci started things off with a walk and then stole second. Chris Toney, who now has six hits in eleven times at the plate, smashed a triple to right center and Tocci galloped home with the first run.

Hopper, batting in the clean-up slot, drilled a single to right to drive in Toney and went to third on Captain Dick Wertz's bingle to center. Jack Kurty advanced Wertz on a tap to the pitcher and Owen Dougherty singled to left to send Hopper and Wertz across the plate. Dougherty never stopped and came all the way in when the left-fielder let the ball get through him.

KURTY SINGLES

In the sixth, Kurty singled, went to third on Dougherty's double to left-center and came in as Tkac singled to left to send both runners across.

Tkac went to third on Hen Albright's single and came in on Tocci's fly to left. State's ninth run was scored in the eighth when Albright walked; went to second on Tocci's sacrifice and came around on Toney's second hit of the day, a single to left.

Until the seventh inning, Tkac had a no-hitter. Temple got an unearned run in the fourth when Vic Napolitano walked, went to third on Kurty's error and came in on Fred Barlow's fly to center.

OWLS FLY

The Owls came to life in the seventh and got to Tkac for three runs on a walk, an error, a double and a single. Completing the cycle, Temple's last run was scored in the eighth when Tkac walked relief pitcher Tony DiLaurentis. Napolitano sacrificed him to second and Barlow rode him home with a single to left.

The Lions' record now stands at two losses and one defeat while the Owls have a card showing two wins and three losses. State's only loss came at the hands of Rutgers last Saturday.

The loss to Rutgers caused Coach Joe Bedenk to revamp his lineup and shakeup the batting order.

Toney, who's hitting has made everybody sit up and take notice, was moved over to short-stop from third base to replace Carmen Troisi. Soccer Captain Harry Little was moved into the third base slot.

Hopper moved up from fifth to fourth in the batting order to replace Kurty, who dropped to sixth and Wertz moved up into the fifth spot.

Keystone Spartans

Seven Pennsylvania-groomed sophomores are in contention for starting berths on Michigan State's 1950 football team. They are Willies Thrower, Renaldo Kosikowski, Frank Kush, and Dick Tamburo, all of New Kensington; John Yocca, Windber; Frank Kapral, Courtdale and John Rhodes, Lewistown. Tamburo is the younger brother of Sam Tamburo, Penn State's 1948 All-American end.

CONGRATULATIONS—Penn State's recently appointed boxing tutor, Ed Sulkowski (l), congratulates the Lions' boxing captain for the 1951 campaign, 155-pound battler, Pat Heims.

Boxers Pick Heims To Captain '51 Team

By GEORGE VADASZ

Pat Heims, the cinderella boy of the recent NCAA boxing show at Rec Hall, was selected by his teammates to captain the 1951 boxing Lions.

The lanky Nittany 155 pounder, given little recognition prior to the tournament, advanced into the finals of the classic before being eliminated by Gonzaga's NCAA champ, Eli Thomas.

Last year Heims sported a 0-2-1 record. This past season he won three out of five contests. He succeeds three-time Eastern and one-time National champion Chuck Drazenovich.

Also at the recently held boxing banquet, Felton Wheeler was elected next year's head manager. He succeeds Bill Shade.

John Vasilakis, Jim Wharton and Bill Albert were elected first assistant managers.

HOUCK TROPHY

The Leo F. Houck Memorial Trophy, in memory of the late Lion boxing tutor, was presented to John Hanby, highly regarded 125 pounder.

The trophy will be presented annually to the first year boxer who best exemplifies Houck's standards of skill and sportsmanship.

Also at the banquet the Nittany sluggers selected an all-opponent boxing team.

Three boxers from Michigan State and Syracuse and one each from Virginia and Wisconsin were represented on the 1950

Penn State all-opponent ring unit.

Two Spartans, lightweight Chuck Spieser and heavyweight Gabby Marek, Virginia's 130-pound Allen Hollingsworth and Syracuse's 145-pounder, Ben Dolphin were unanimous selections.

REPEATERS

None of last year's all-opponent first team repeated, however, two battlers, Syracuse's heavyweight Marty Crandell and Virginia's 135-pound Grove Masterson did land second team berths.

Two others who appeared on last year's second team placed on the first team this year. They are 165-pound EIBA champ Jim Rollier of Syracuse and Hollingsworth of Virginia.

Nittany Tennis Open Bill Against Bisons Today

The Bucknell tennis team, coached by Hank Peters, meets the Penn State netmen in the inaugural match for the Nittany Lions today at 4:00 p.m. Coach Sherman Fogg has not yet decided which courts will be playable for the event.

The varsity courts are definitely out of the question, and the match will either be played on the Beaver Field clay or on Community Field on South Atherton street.

Bucknell has a decided edge in the matter of matches played since they have been through a tour of the South and have competed in six games.

FOGG OPTIMISTIC

However, Coach Fogg is still very optimistic over his squad's chances in the coming season. He believes his racquetmen will overcome the handicap that weather, ineligibility and other hazards have confronted the Lions with in the last few weeks.

The six singles matches will have co-captain Owen "Sonny" Landon as number one; Dick Wieland, number two; Jim Howells, number three; Bill Walls, number four; Gerry Gearhart, number five, and Mark Borland, as the number six man.

In the doubles event, Coach Fogg plans to use Howells and Wieland as the number one team, and Spence Boyer and Dave Jones as the third combination.

No. 2 NOT SET

The number two duo is not yet definite, and can only be decided if the Nittanyites win their first matches. In this case Harry Kaufmann and Ed Davis would fill in, but Landon and Walls would take over if one of the singles matches is dropped.

The reason behind the deliberation on which courts the match will be played today is that the recent dry spell practically wrecked the varsity tennis courts. They are dried up and completely useless to the squad.

Coach Fogg is hoping for a good rainfall sometime before this afternoon's engagement, since the water will make it easier for the grounds-keepers to fill in the holes both on the Beaver Field courts and on Community Field.
