

Editorial —

(Continued from page one)

All that is known publicly about the case so far has originated from Dr. Lorch's immediate supporters, who certainly appear to be justified in their fight for his reinstatement if the facts as they have been reported are substantially true. However, basing our conclusion on past liberal attitudes and actions of the College in relation to discrimination in sports and other fields, we sincerely believe that there is more meat to the story.

Although the College's policy is not to publicize the fact when temporary profs are not tendered permanent contracts, this case warrants some statement by the College, for the sole reason that the publicity on the case—begun by the Progressive Party of Pennsylvania—can be dubbed nothing but damaging to the College. That is our gripe against the College.

Our gripe against the Liberal Arts Student Council and the NAACP, which dispatched hasty letters to the Trustees and others protesting the dismissal of Dr. Lorch, is that they protested without knowledge of the complete story. The LA Council, especially, went off the deep end when it inveighed, "In taking stock of our administration, from the Board of Trustees down, we must conclude that principles and ethical responsibilities have been sacrificed for the interests of a select few."

PART OF THE UNTOLD story, heretofore not divulged in print, appears on page one of today's Collegian. The College Senate—principal legislative body of the College faculty—has reportedly heard the complete story on the "Lorch case" and has raised no objection to the Trustee action.

ALTHOUGH WE FEEL this fact does not obviate further need for a clear College statement, it packs a wallop because the Senate is predominantly profs. The profs, and not the students, should be closest to the "Lorch case" both in interest and verbal concern, because it is their academic freedom which is apparently being jeopardized. When the College profs, through their legislative body, give consent to the Trustee action, it rubs a little of the unhappy smear away.

There's still room for student concern, but we hope Cabinet does not go off the deep end.

The Daily Collegian

Successor to THE FREE LANCE, est. 1887

Published Tuesday through Saturday mornings inclusive during the College year by the staff of The Daily Collegian of The Pennsylvania State College.

Entered as second-class matter July 5, 1934, at the State College, Pa., Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879.

Editor Tom Morgan Business Manager Marlin A. Weaver

Managing Ed., Wilbert Roth; News Ed., Jack Reen; Sports Ed., Elliot Krane; Edit. Dir., Dottie Werlich; Society Ed., Commie Keller; Feature Ed., Bob Kotsbauer; Asst. News Ed., Jack Senior; Asst. Sports Ed., Ed Watson; Asst. Society Ed., Barbara Brown; Photo Ed., Ray Benfer; Senior Board: George Vadasz, Kermit Fink.

Asst. Business Mgr., Rodger Bartels; Advertising Dir., Louis G. Gilbert; Local Adv. Mgr., Donald J. Baker; Asst. Local Adv. Mgr., Mark Arnold; Promo. Co-Mgrs., Harold Wolin, Ruthe Phillips; Circulation Co-Mgrs., Bob Bergman and Tom Karolick; Classified Ad Mgr., Shirley Faller; Personnel Mgr., Betty Jane Hower; Office Mgr., Ann Zekauskas; Secretary, Sue Stern.

STAFF THIS ISSUE

Night Editor Wilson Barto
Assistant Night Editor Dick Kolbenschlag
Copy Editor John Dalbor
Assistants — Paul Beighley, Rosemary Delahanty, Virginia Mayes, Jack Garretson-Butt
Advertising Manager Nancy Gorden
Assistants — Herb Blough, Jack Glick, Ed Singel

Little Man On Campus by Bibler

"It's a little sweater she knitted for me—I just wear it on dates."

Senate---

(Continued from page one)

End Discrimination in Stuyvesant Town, of which Dr. Lorch is vice-chairman, and—on campus—the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Liberal Arts Student Council.

To Lose Job

Dr. Lorch, who was dismissed as a teacher by the City College of New York last year, will lose his job as a Penn State prof in June.

Dr. Lorch said Mr. Morse told him the dismissal is an outgrowth of Dr. Lorch's fight against Negro discrimination in the Stuyvesant Town (New York) housing project. This has never been confirmed or denied by the College.

Dr. Lorch told the press he "got into hot water" when he invited a Negro couple and their five-year-old son to occupy his Stuyvesant Town apartment as "guests" after he came here to teach. He said Mr. Morse told him the Trustees viewed this as "extreme, illegal and damaging to the public relations of the College."

Court Rulings

Two New York courts have recently affirmed the lawful right of Stuyvesant Town owners to set their own rules. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., which operates Stuyvesant Town, was defendant in a court suit involving three ex-GI's who are Negroes and were reportedly refused Stuyvesant Town applications. One court affirmed the right of the insurance company as landlord to determine who shall live in the district, and the decision was later upheld by a higher court. The case is now pending before the New York State Supreme Court.

An unofficial campus spokesman said last night that in Dr. Lorch's case as in many others, the College appoints a prof on a temporary one-year contract which provides that the agreement will expire without notice unless renewed specifically by the College. "For the sake of both the College and the prof," he added, "the College does not ordinarily announce reasons for non-renewal of contract."

The "Lorch case" was released to the press originally by the Progressive Party of Pennsylvania; the College has made no official press statement.

Student Committee Formed

Meanwhile, a "Student Committee on Academic Freedom" was formed Tuesday night to investigate the factors surrounding the College's failure to tender a permanent contract to Dr. Lorch. The committee was organized by the NAACP. Attending the meeting Tuesday were unofficial representatives of several student organizations.

An executive committee was appointed to study the various sides of the "Lorch case" and to formulate policy to be presented to the larger committee at its next meeting Monday night.

A motion was also carried to draft a letter to the Trustees seeking a statement on the case.

Elections ---

(Continued from page one)

and class elections, considerable attention has been focused on the Athletic Association race through active campaigning. Homer Barr, Louis Lamie, and Rudolph Valentino are competing for the presidential post, while Henry Albright, Victor Fritts, Patrick Heims, and Owen Landon are running for the secretary-treasurership.

AA presidential candidate with the second-highest number of votes will automatically become vice-president of that group. All undergraduate men are eligible to vote for AA officers.

The Daily Collegian will carry complete election results tomorrow.

Safety Valve ...

Difficult Line

TO THE EDITOR: Once upon a time a group of high-minded citizens launched a campaign to do away with intolerance in their community. All but one person in the community joined in the holy war against intolerance. Because this man stubbornly refused to crusade for tolerance the citizenry finally voted to kill him—and did. It is very difficult to draw a line between tolerance and intolerance.

• Name Withheld

Gazette

Thursday, April 20

- WRA FENCING, 1 White Hall, 7 p.m.
- WRA BADMINTON, White Hall gym, 4 p.m.
- WRA SWIMMING, White Hall Pool, 7:30 p.m.
- CLOVER CLUB, 103 Ag. Bldg., 7 p.m.
- EARTH SCIENCE, Club Sigma Xi, 7:30 p.m.
- PSCA BIBLE Study-Harshbarger, 304 Old Main, 4:10 p.m.
- "RELIGION-IN-LIFE" General Committee meeting, 4:10 Old Main, 7 p.m.
- PSCA RADIO Broadcast, 7:45 p.m.
- PSCA CABINET, 304 Old Main, 8:15 p.m.

COLLEGE PLACEMENT

Further information concerning interviews and job placements can be obtained in 112 Old Main. Seniors who turned in preference sheets will be given priority in scheduling interviews for two days following the initial announcement of the visit of one of the companies of their choice. Other students will be scheduled on the third and subsequent days.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., April 20, 21. June grads interested in insurance sales in this area. Applicants must be 21 years of age or over.

Ralston-Purina Co., April 25. June and summer grads for sales department.

Carpenter Steel Co., April 21. June grads in IE and ME for production engineering. No priority list for these interviews.

Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., April 25, 26. June grads in Education and Liberal Arts for both claims and sales work.

Allied Stores, Inc., April 25. June grads for their retail training program.

New York Life Insurance Co., April 21. June grads for straight commission sales in this area. No priority list for these interviews.

Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., April 25. June grads in Chem; B.S. and M.S. in Metal; M.S. candidates in Organic and Inorganic Chem.; and PhD candidates in Phys. Chem. and Phys. No priority list for these interviews.

Mergenthaler Linotype Co., April 26. June grads in ME for either sales trainee program or management trainee program.

Eli Lilly and Co., April 24, 25. June grads in ChemE; PhD candidates in Organic Chem, Bact. and Microbiology (major in bact., minor in biochem.)

Moore Products Co., April 27. June grads in ME for a variety of positions; IE, and ChemE.

General Fireproofing Co., Ortho Pharmaceutical Corp., Timken Roller Bearing Co., and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., April 27. June grads in C&F, Liberal Arts, Pre-Med, Zool, ME, IE, ChemE and Metal.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Information concerning these positions can be obtained at the Student Employment Office in Old Main.

Substitute waiters and kitchen help in college dining commons leading to permanent positions in September.

Summer camp and resort jobs available to persons with various specialties.

Dietitians for several camps.

Hotel dining room managers and staff. Seats 150. May be operated under rental agreement.

Sales personnel sought for both current and summer work.

Fuller Brush Co. Full time positions open for summer. Various counties in Pa. available.

Summer farm job outside Philadelphia. Ag students with farm background preferred.

Summer sales opportunities with Marshall Field enterprises. Group meeting and interviews, Saturday, April 22.

AT THE MOVIES

CATHAUM—All the King's Men.
STATE—Captain China.
NITTANY—Pygmalion.

College Sportswear

SECOND FLOOR
MEN'S SUITS

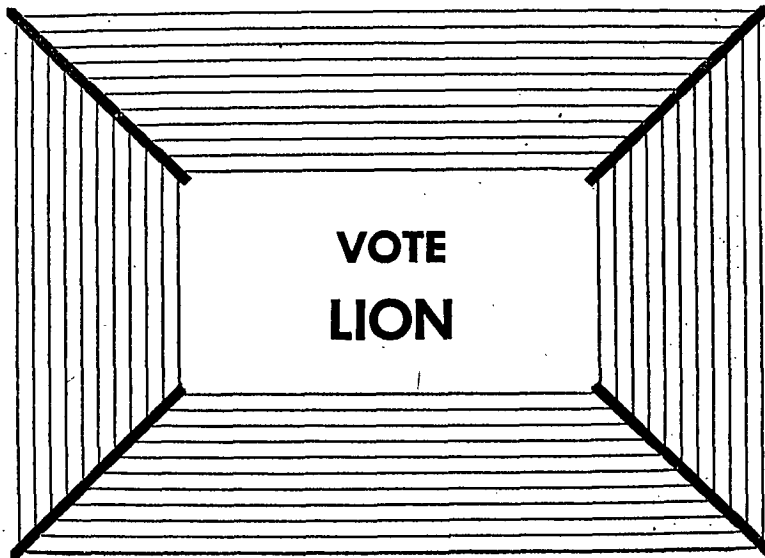

Have to Be Good

BECAUSE WE WILL GIVE A NEW SUIT FREE IF YOU CAN BEAT OUR PRICE ANYWHERE

Economy $29.50
Grade All Wool Gabardine

Better Grade $34.50
Gabardine and Worsted Plus Alterations

SECOND FLOOR
BARGAIN ROOM
103 E. BEAVER

Remember Mother on Her Day With Flowers ...

If you're looking for a gift that will express your feelings best for the "number one girl" in your life—send flowers, she'll appreciate your taste and thoughtfulness.

Give Us Your Order Today

WOODRING'S
FLORAL GARDENS

117 E. Beaver PHONE 2045 James E. Wolfe '39 Mgr.