Budenz Dubs Lattimore Red Espionage Agent

WASHINGTON—Louis Budenz, former editor of the Communist Daily Worker, yesterday testified before a Senate investigating committee that Owen Lattimore had been a member of a "Communist cell" that was engaged in espionage.

Budenz also testified that Lattimore had been working with two men whom Budenz had named as Soviet agents.

Testifying in Lattimore's behalf, Brigadier General Elliot Thorpe, a retired Military Intelligence officer, stated that Lattimore was "in no way an agent of the Communist party or of Soviet Russia." Lattimore has already testified under oath that he is not now, nor ever had been an agent for the Soviet.

Truth Campaign Set

WASHINGTON — President Truman, speaking before the American Society of Newspaper Editors meeting here, said that the United States is in the midst of a campaign of truth to convince the rest of the world that America has "no purpose of going to war except in defense of freedom." Mr. Truman said that he has ordered Secretary of State Dean Acheson to put into effect a program that will counteract Russian "deceit, distortion and lies."

Post Office Probe

WASHINGTON — Trouble developed in Congress yesterday for the Post Office Department's economy program. Representative John Walsh (D-Ind.) indicated that he will ask Congress to refuse the sharp cuts that are being planned in postal service. Falling in line with some of his Congressional cohorts, Walsh said he will ask for a "sweeping investigation of the entire postal system."

Phone Mystery Still Unsolved

The mystery remains unsolved. Nobody seems to know just how many columns are in front of Old Main. Thus far, six students have been quizzed via telephone by Leonard Allen and Seymour Barash, who are in charge of the phone contest co-sponsored by The Daily Collegian and Chesterfield cigarettes.

Each Wednesday night at 7 o'clock three students are asked a question concerning campus facts. The prize, two packs of Chesterfields for the correct answer, is accumulative. The first person who correctly gives the number of columns in front of Old Main when contacted by the Chesterfield Mystery Quizz, will win 14 packs of cigarettes.
