

PSCA Students, Alumni Celebrate Anniversary

Nearly 100 people were on hand to launch the seventy-fifth anniversary celebration of PSCA, the College's oldest established organization, at the dinner-dance held at Skytop Saturday night. Included in this number was an aggregation of alumni who had returned to the campus for the event.

Highlights of the banquet included an address by Harry W. Seamans, general secretary of the PSCA from 1928 to 1943, now serving with the Division of Public Liaison of the State Department, Washington, D.C. He spoke on "Reflections Upon the End of an Era".

Harlow Lectured

Dr. S. Ralph Harlow, professor of religion and ethics at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., followed Seamans on the program and thrilled the audience by recounting the experiences of his last 50 years as a missionary to various European countries during two world wars and the intervening interim. His topic was entitled "Fifty Years in the Student Christian Movement".

Presentation of awards for distinguished service to the PSCA were made by Harold Campbell, president-elect, to Ted Allen, Biddle Atlee, Ray Benfer, James Cleaver, Helen Dreher, Donald Horton, Jane Kelley, Marjorie Land, George Lukacs, Charles Oerkvitz, Reta Reed, Lavern Seth, Edward Wetherald, Norman Wheeler, and Priscilla Wilson.

Extended Greetings

Greetings were extended by Wilmer E. Kenworthy, on behalf of acting-president of the College James Milholland, and James H. Moyer, chairman of the PSCA Board of Directors. Group singing was led by Dr. William Smith Jr., assisted by Charles Oerkvitz, pianist. Luther H. Harshbarger, general secretary of the PSCA, offered the invocation. Dr. John H. Ferguson, chairman of the 75th Anniversary Committee, served as toastmaster and introduced the speakers.

Election of officers to the PSCA board of directors rounded out the business transacted at the banquet. Results of the election will be announced on or about May 15. Following the business meeting, the group engaged in dancing to the music of Ray Fortunato and his orchestra.

New VA Law May Affect GI Education

Veterans attending school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act as well as those who have not yet begun their training, may be vitally affected by the date of July 25, 1951, Robert E. Galbraith, faculty advisor of veterans at the College reminded today.

The law provides that a course of education shall be started within four years after discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is the later. This training must be completed by July 25, 1956, except for those veterans who enlisted under the Voluntary Recruitment act of Oct. 6, 1945.

According to the law, when the veteran has undertaken an approved course, he must pursue the course continuously until completion, except for normal interruptions, such as holidays and vacations.

He may change his course only while in training and then for reasons satisfactory to the administrator. Galbraith also pointed out that when the veteran completes or discontinues his course, the law does not permit the initiation of another course of education.

Penn State Club Initiates 41 Men

The Penn State Club initiated 41 new members Tuesday night. As part of the initiation program, the lip-sticked, dungareed group presented a cake to each of the women's dorms following the singing of the current song hit, "If I'd a Known You Were Coming, I'd a Baked a Cake."

The group then invaded the Collegian political rally at the TUP with several stunts and cheers. The initiation proceedings were concluded in the club's meeting room, 405 Old Main.

New members are George Anderson, David Ammerman, Howard Ayers, John Benson, William Berchin, Harold Beringer, Joseph Bower, Charles Brockmiller, Harry Calhoun, John Clark, Dale Croasmun, Robert Davis, Joseph Denham, Charles Desaulniers, John Derenzo, Edward DiPolvere, Ray Evert, Donald Garverich, George Gougoulis, Daniel Hippensteel.

Sidney Hoffman, Wayne Homan, Thomas Irving, Burton Jahns, Nelson Kauffman, Richard Kelly, Charles King, Edward Kleypis, Theodore Kocak, Edward Lopus, James McMahon, David Mutchler, George Perko, Charles Pifer, Fred Pope, Joseph Rubert, Walter Showak, Leonard Shucavage, James Virosco, Charles Weaver, and Bernard Zahradnik.

Lorch ---

(Continued from page one) ate, where I heard it for the first time, as being 'scrupulously correct,' in its facts is not true. There are numerous gross errors both of fact and interpretation. I corrected some, but only some, on the Senate floor. Not having had an opportunity to study this report, I could not naturally make any definitive statement on it at that time."

The Collegian reported Thursday, from an unimpeachable campus source, that the Senate heard the "Lorch case" and gave no objections to the Trustee action in not tendering Dr. Lorch a permanent contract. It said further that Dr. Lorch, who was present at the Senate meeting, was reported as stating that, "except for a few details," Mr. Morse's facts were "scrupulously correct."

Second Appearance . . .

Barbara Troxell

Chester Watson

Professional Soloists To Appear With Choir

Two professional soloists will make their second appearance with the Chapel Choir in its presentation of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" in Schwab Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

They are Barbara Troxell, soprano, and Chester Watson, bass-baritone. Both sang with the choir in its first performance of the oratorio in 1948.

Other professional guest artists will be Margaret Tobias, mezzo-soprano, and Arthur Bailey, tenor.

Mr. Watson, who sings the title role, is currently appearing in the Broadway production of "The Consul." Miss Troxell, a graduate of the College, has gained a high reputation through her work in sacred productions, and studied in England last summer.

Doors of the auditorium will open at 7 p.m. No tickets will be issued, and seats are not reserved. A section of the auditorium will, however, be set aside for the families of choir members.

There will be no admission charge for the concert. In order to defray part of the heavy expenses, a free-will offering will be taken during the intermission.

The 117-voice choir is directed by Mrs. Willa Taylor, associate professor of music education. The group has been augmented for the performance by several former members.

George Ceiga, chapel organist, will accompany the choir and soloists.

1950 Economic Outlook Good—Brown, McKinley

Approximately 1,750,000 students graduated from or quitting school will be added to the ranks of the job-seekers this June, two members of the department of economics recently reported.

Speaking in a broadcast over Radio Station WMAJ, Douglas S. Brown and David H. McKinley, assistant professors of economics, took note of economic trends in government and business. They concluded that, with qualifications, the economic outlook in the United States for 1950 is good.

Both pointed to the addition of the student group to the labor market as a factor to be noted when considering the business trend for the remainder of the year.

Considering the present high savings rate—seven and one-half cents out of every dollar—Mr. McKinley said that huge savings will be necessary, "if we are to build the factories, machines, and tools which we simply must have to force unemployment to a lower level and make places for the 500,000 college graduates next June."

Long-Range View

Taking a long-range view, Mr. Brown concluded, "To look ahead, it does not appear that the economy is in immediate danger of a downturn which would match the severity of our last serious recession in 1937-38. The year 1951, however, may be a different story."

Considered as unfavorable signs by Mr. Brown were the 7.8 percent profit-decline in 1949, five million now unemployed, and price increases resulting from increased manufacturing costs.

The radio program was second in a series of talks on current economic developments presented by the College department. The next program, dealing with the Marshall Plan, will be presented tomorrow at 7:45 p.m.

Newman Club To Play Host At Convention

Penn State Newman Club members will play host to representatives from 79 other chapters in the organization's Middle Atlantic Province convention in Bedford, Pa. this weekend.

Approximately 200 students from colleges in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and Washington, D.C., will discuss the appointment of official delegates to the national convention in Cleveland this summer. Election of province officers will also be held.

Program for the weekend includes religious panels, informal dances Friday and Saturday night, a banquet Saturday, and a Communion breakfast Sunday morning.

Six Schools ---

(Continued from page one) from the physics curriculum.

One student from chemical engineering, two from pre-med and science, and one from physics will be elected to the junior posts.

Engineering

A senior and a junior from each curriculum in the School of Engineering will be elected. Candidates are:

Aeronautical engineering—SENIORS Richard Gavalis, William Hendershott, John Hennessey; JUNIORS John Frantz, William Schlegel, George Yuscavage.

Architecture—SENIORS Regis Gallagher, Raymond Miller, Richard Newton; JUNIORS Gifford Albright, David Margolf.

Civil engineering—SENIORS Robert Edmundson, Bernard Gutterman, Ernest Hartsley, Kenneth Kapp, Harlan McMullen, William Reasner, Harry Smith; JUNIORS Clifford Dennis, Lawrence Schniepp.

Electrical engineering—SENIORS Albert Fegley, Donald Gribble, Donald Techow, Robert Williams; JUNIORS Michael Geromimo, Raymond Markle, Peter Mylnar, John Sparhawk.

Industrial engineering—SENIORS John Booth, Harold Bowditch, Gorman Fisher, Edward Ruch, Benjamin Ungerleider, Harold Wilson; JUNIORS William Hewton, Karl Miller, Richard Mills, Howard Sprankle, Robert Wilson.

Mechanical engineering—SENIORS Robert Artz, James Gresh, Joseph Holmes, Donald Stalcup; JUNIORS Charles Falzone, David Pierson, Vaughn Rotz, Herman Vinokur.

Home Economics
In Home economics representation is proportional according (Continued on page seven)

News Briefs

Five O'Clock Theatre

Robert Kendall's "Uniform", a one act play written in Drama 421, will be presented this afternoon at Five O'Clock Theatre. The show was directed by Rita D. Lang and will begin promptly at five in The Little Theatre, Old Main basement.

Women Students

All women students planning to attend Summer sessions must call at the Dean of Women's office tomorrow or Thursday to apply for rooms.

Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Sigma Pi, national commerce fraternity will hold elections for its 1950-1951 officers. The meeting is scheduled for 7 o'clock tonight at 228 Sparks. All actives are urged to attend.

Date Bureau

The Date Bureau will be open today and tomorrow afternoons from 1:30 till 5 o'clock.

Evangelical Brethren

Evangelical United Brethren Students, are invited to a social at 7:30 this evening at the church.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation will hold its spring banquet Friday evening at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the Wesley Foundation on or before Friday. A speaker and entertainment is planned.

judge a play by its audience

Sigmund Freude
Roberto Rosilini
Earl Flin
Willie Stark
Jane Rusell
Tommy Manville

These personalities and others as well as a legion of selective playgoers have come to see

YES, MY DARLING DAUGHTER

every weekend . . . Centre Stage

NOW!
At Your Warner Theatre

Catham
Robert Cummings
Elizabeth Scott
Diana Lynn
"Paid in Full"

State
Bill Williams
Jane Nigh
"Blue Grass of Kentucky"

Nittany
International Film Club Presents—
ROSSELLINI AT HIS BEST
"Germany Year 0"
"OUTRANKS 'OPEN CITY'"
—NEWS WEEK