

Jr.-Sr. Faculty Reception Honors Outstanding Women

As an additional purpose of the Junior-Senior Faculty Reception, senior women who have contributed outstanding service to the College will be honored at the Reception as pourers, Ruth Lehman, chairman of the affair, announced yesterday. The Reception will be held in McElwain Lounge from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 2.

The women who have been selected as pourers are Francis Bergdol, Marie Card, Mary Cohen, Connie Croushore, Francis Eshleman, Gertrude Fetzer, Mary Louise Hollis and Dottie Werlinich.

Chairman of the various committees organized to organize the Reception are Gay Brunner, entertainment; Anne Forrest and Eileen Bonnett, hostesses; Audrey Brua, decorations; Marie Card and Anna Keller, publicity; Rachel Smith and Elizabeth Swift, refreshments; and Rose Eifert, invitations.

Invitations, already mailed, have been sent to all department heads and to faculty members with whom women at the College are associated in class.

All junior and senior women who attend are actually hostesses of the affair, Miss Lehman, stressed. Members of Mortar Board, Chimes, and Cwens will act as special floaters.

The reception, held annually by WSGA, is to promote better and more informal relations between the faculty and women students.

Jr. Pan-Hel Fosters Sorority Spirit

As sorority membership increased, the College's Pan-Hellenic Council began to feel a need for an associate body which would foster sorority spirit, provide training for future sorority leaders, and help formulate sorority policies.

Out of this feeling the Junior Pan-Hellenic Council was founded, and the new body was chartered by the Senate Committee on Student Welfare and began activities this semester.

The Junior Council, under the direction of Nancy George, Pan-Hellenic president, organized by electing the following officers: Mary Lou Elliott, Chi Omega, as president; Susan Knapp, Kappa Alpha Theta, as vice-president; Mary Lee Coy, Zeta Tau Alpha, as secretary, and Sally Lyddon, Gamma Phi Beta, as treasurer.

Senior Council enabled the group to become financially independent by presenting a gift of $100 to Junior Pan-Hel.

Activities for the spring semester include discussions of college honoraries and clubs, work with the Pan-Hel workshop on rushing procedures, pledge teas, and studies on etiquette.

Advisers of the group are Mrs. A. K. Anderson, Miss Kay Lang, and Miss Ella Mae Jackson.

Gilbreth Talks On Job Needs

The right person for the right job prevents loss of valuable energy and enables the worker to produce at his peak, Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, author and lecturer, said at the WSGA Convocation at Schwab Auditorium last night.

Appearing before a College audience for the second time this year Dr. Gilbreth discussed the topic "You and Your Job."

Each job has physical, mental, emotional and social demands, the speaker added. These demands can be applied to all work and even home life.

Dr. Gilbreth continued that a person has to have ability, interest, and willingness to work to be effective at his position.

Following the lecture, installation of the new WSGA officers was held. The officers are: president, Barbara Sprenkle; vice president, Virginia Miller; secretary, Ella Louise Williams; senior senator, Anne Forrest; junior senators, Mary Jane Woodrow and Barbara Klapp; sophomore senator, Joan Hutcheon; and town senator, Robin Brunner.

An informal reception in McElwain lounge completed the evening.
