Pro Carlos

—Photo by Ken Cai lei Diminutive Phil Benedetti will tend goal for the Penn State lacrosse team against Western Maryland tomorrow.

20 Nittany Trackmen Meet Nation's Finest in Relays

Where They're Playing

Baseball - Georgetown at Washington, D.C., today and tomorrow.

Track-Penn Relays at Philadelphia, today and tomorrow.

Lacrosse --- Western Maryland, golf course field, tomorrow, 2 p.m.

Golf - Syracuse, College Course, tomorrow, 1:30 p.m.

By JOE BREU

Coach Chick Werner will send his Nittany tracksters against the best teams in the East this afternoon and tomorrow in the Penn Relays.

The Lion mentor has selected 20 of his athletes to compete in 11 events at the Relays which includes four relay runs. The State thinclads will be out to defend two of their last year's titles. Captain Jim Freebairn the three-quarter mile Gehrdes is entered in the in-Gehrdes is entered in the in-vitational 120-yard high hur-dles which he won last year and the four mile relay team will go three-quarter mile. the four mile relay team will go after its fourth successive victory in that event.

Wil Lancaster, who turned in a brilliant 9.6 100-yard dash in last week's triangular meet, will run in the invitational century dash.

RELAY TEAM

Gehrdes and Lanc will be joined by Guy Kay and Bill Lock-hart for the quarter mile and the half mile relays. This quartet did the 440-yard relay in 42.8 seconds in time trials Tuesday night which represents the come night which represents the same time as Seton Hall won its own relays event last Saturday.

The four runners named by Werner to try to retain the four ter, Don Ashenfelter, Bob Free bairn and Bill Ashenfelter. All four did well in last weeks meet Both teams are winless. The and turned in good times in the Lions have been beaten by time trials.

The sprint medley relay will have Lockhart running the quar-high jump, Owen Wilkenson and ter, Bob Parsons the half mile, (Continued on page seven) ter, Bob Parsons the half mile, Besides Gehrdes and Lancaster in the individual events, the Lions will have entries in at least five others and maybe six.

FRITTS SEEKS VICTORY Vic Fritts will attempt to repeat his last week's victory in the high jump. Should Vic win, it will be his second victory of the year in Philadelphia. He previously captured the Inquirer meet jump in January. Three Lions will go in the two-mile run. They are Jack St. Clair, Al Porto and Foster. Dick Cripps and Max Schlighner will Cripps and Max Schlienger will toss the discus and Doug Shearer will team up with Cripps for the shot put.

Ted Roderer, who shows promise of becoming an outstanding javelin tosser, will do his specialty at Philly over the weekend. Coach Werner has decided to enter three other men. He will choose between three of the following seven: Leroy Lewis in the

Stickmen Plan To Ambush Western Maryland Squad By ERNIE MOORE

Tomorrow afternoon, the migrating tribe of Nittany stickmen who have been away for many moons, will engage in combat the fierce lacrosse tribe from Western Maryland.

This will be the first home appearance of the Lion braves who have already been defeated by three foreign tribes. Sachem Thiel and his lieutenants, Big Jawn McHugh and mile relay crown are Dudley Fos-Little Beaver Baer, urge the reservation out to cheer them on-squaws too.

By MARV KRASNANSKY

Rip Engle returns to State College this afternoon to start the reconversion of the Penn State football machine. Engle, here last weekend to sign the contract that made him Penn State's football coach, returned to Providence, R.I., to complete his business there.

Engle, pioneer in the winged-T formation, will confer with his assistants, Al Michaels, Sever Toretti, Frank Patrick, and Jim O'Hora over the weekend. Monday he will resume Spring drills which Takes Command . . . had been scheduled to close last Saturday.

SEEK QUARTERBACK

The job of rebuilding the graduation-hit Lions will not be an easy one for the 41-year old winged-T exponent. Toughest part of the task will be to find a man to fill the vital quarterback role. Engle and his assistants will be seeking a man who can handle the ball from under center and pass well. Engle has said that passing is one-third of his offense.

No indication has yet been given as to whom the staff has in mind for the job, but speculation has narrowed the choice down to single-wing tailbacks Vince O'Bara, and Tony Orsini, and fullback Len Shephard, all of whom are good passers.

In addition to concentrating on

Loyola, Navy and Rutgers, while the Green Terrors have been dropped by Williams, RPI, Washington College and Loyola. THIEL OPTIMISTIC Coach Nick Thiel seemed very optimistic over his team's chances "We're ready to go. This is the first team we've played that's in our class and if the boys play the way they can, we'll win," he said.

The starting array for the Nit-tanies will be the same one that started against Rutgers except for one change in the defensive posi-

At the close attack will be Cocaptain Ed Belfield, Jim Reed and Bud Wolfram. Co-captain Bob Louis, Jack Wilcox and Jim Ful-ton will be the midfielders, while Joe Drazenovich, Vance Scout and John Amber will start at defense. Amber, who made a good showing against Rutgers, replaces veteran John Hagerman who is sidelined with a pulled leg muscle. Phil Benedettis will be in the nets.

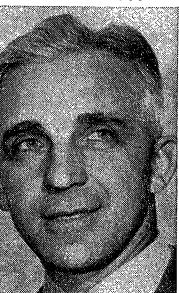

Lion boxing fans will recognize one face in the Western Maryland lineup. Heavyweight Chuck Draz-enovich's old nemisis Joe Corleto plays at midfield for the Terrors. But this time it'll be brother Joe giving the opposition.

IM Badminton Nears Finale

Four flight champions were crowned and six men moved into the finals in the intramural bad-minton tournament . Wednesday

Are you a campus leader? Do you have nerve? We dare you to wear these new pullovers! Such blinding colors ... such zany patterns! Yet some Bright Man On Campus is going to start sporting one of these Tee-zers ... and the fad will spread like wildfire (and we mean, wildfire). Solid colors in fine new Van Gab gabardine ... stripes and

Rip Engle

