

Lion Trackmen Eye Start Of New York IC4-A's Today

By JOE BREU

Coach Chick Werner and 13 members of the Penn State track team will invade New York today to compete in the annual IC4-A meet.

Capt. Jim Gehrdes leads the group of Nittany tracksters at the two-day meet. Jim will seek victories in both the 120 yard high hurdles and the 220 yard lows. He will be joined by teammate Guy Kay in the latter event.

Vic Fritts, the sometimes-up, sometimes-down high jumper, will also make the trip to the Big City. Vic, who has a long way to go before he reaches his practice jump of 6-feet 8-inches, will have to be in his very best form to finish among the leaders.

Lockhart in 440

Other Lions who will compete in the championship meet are Bill Lockhart in the 440 yard dash, Bob Parsons in the 880 yard run, Don Ashenfelter in the mile, Bill Ashenfelter and Al Porto in the two-mile run, Chuck Drazenovich and Doug Shearer in the shot put, Ted Roderer in the javelin, Owen Wilkinson in the pole vault and Dick Cripps in the discus.

Missing will be Wil Lancaster. Wil has been plagued with a bad leg and will miss both the IC4-A and the NCAA meets.

One of the features of interest for local fans will be the attempt of the shot putters to better the Penn State record. It was broken several times last week at the Pitt meet with Chuck Drazenovich finally hanging up a new mark of 48 feet 7 1/2 inches. The work of the putters was the outstanding feature of the tri-meet.

Hope For Repeats

Both Gehrdes and Fritts will be out to repeat former deeds in the IC indoor meet. Both Jumpin' Jim and Vic won titles in indoor competition. Jim finished third in both his specialties at the outdoor IC's last year.

The IC4-A meet brings together the outstanding stars of the East. National attention will be focused on the attempt of Seton Hall's Andy Stanfield to capture four events. He will go in the 100 yard dash, the 200 yard dash, the broad jump and the 220 yard low hurdles. Needless to say, the odds are stacked against him accomplishing the feat.

Phi Deltas Are H-Shoe Titilists

Bill Aiken and Jack Pickett, Phi Delta Theta, captured the fraternity horseshoe title by defeating the defending champions Al Porto and Jack Naylon, Phi Kappa, 21-18, 18-21, 21-12.

The Phi Delta Theta duo entered the finals by downing Theta Chi's Ted Collins and Ken Waltenbaugh, 21-6, 21-14. Phi Kappa moved into the finals topping Penrose Hollowell and Bill Santell, Alpha Gamma Rho, 21-4, 18-21, 21-15.

Aiken and Pickett opened their tournament play by edging Triangle 21-17, 18-21, 21-14. In their next encounter Delta Chi forced them to three games 21-14, 14-21, 21-16, before they registered a victory and in the quarter-finals they easily defeated Phi Kappa Psi, 21-16, 21-4.

IM Tennis In Third Round

Intramural tennis teams entered the third round of competition following second round play last week.

Amarnek-Goldbloom, Alpha Epsilon Pi, and Helm-Dietz, Pi Kappa Alpha, won second round victories.

Third round victories were recorded by Fader-Youngerman, Pi Lambda Phi; Gainsburg-Wolfson, Zeta Beta Tau; Yeatman-Fink, Sigma Phi Alpha; Helm-Dietz, Pi Kappa Alpha; Manes-Schmuckler, Phi Sigma Delta; and Hallman-Black, Sigma Pi.

Double Winner

Schoolboys Vie Here

By ART BENNING

This weekend's full agenda of PIAA track, golf and tennis competition at the College, gets underway this morning with schoolboys from the entire state, except urban Philadelphia, participating in the tennis and golf matches. Fifty-four holes will be played on the course today and 18 tomorrow. Track events get underway tomorrow morning at 10 a.m.

Approximately 700 schoolboys will compete in the three sports. A large crowd is expected to witness the track events tomorrow. Students at the College will not need matriculation cards to gain entrance to the Beaver Field track program.

There are a number of repeating champions entered in the track show, but both golf and tennis show a lack of last year's winners. Last year's golf champion was Rod Aiken, from Reading.

Stickmen Close Season With Ithaca and Cornell

By ERNIE MOORE

Coach Nick Thiel's Nittany stickmen will go after their third victory of the season this afternoon when they take on Ithaca College on the Ithacans home field.

The Lion lacrossmen wind up their season tomorrow, traveling across town to take on the Big Red of Cornell.

The Lions' chances for a double sweep were dimmed somewhat when it was learned yesterday that ace midfielder, Jack Wilcox, would not make the trip because of tonsillitis.

But Thiel was still optimistic over his team's chances in the two games.

"The loss of Wilcox will definitely hurt our attack, but if we play like we did it against Hobart, and have been playing all week in practice, we'll win them both," he said.

Change Payed Off

Thiel contributes the Lions' showing against Hobart to the revision of the lineup which had Bud Wolfram, a regular attack man—playing at midfield and Ned Herring taking Wolfram's place on attack.

"Herring played a good game against Hobart and Wolfram definitely bolstered our midfield," he said.

Paul Raffensperger will fill Wilcox's spot in the first midfield. The husky junior has played extremely well in the last few games and may take up the scoring slack left by the absence of the high scoring Wilcox.

Ithaca is only in its second year of intercollegiate lacrosse competition, and although the Bombers have a veteran outfit, they are "seriously lacking in experience."

According to "Babe" Kraus, coach of the Hobart stickmen whose team just eked out a victory over the Ithacans, the Bombers are getting stronger game by game, and might surprise the Blue and White.

Starting Lineup

The starting lineup for the Ithaca contest will have Co-Captain

Eddie Belfield, Jim Reed and Herring at attack; Co-Captain Bob Louis, Wolfram and Raffensperger at midfield; John Hagerman, Joe Drazenovich, and Vance Scout at defense, and Phil Benedetti in the goal.

Coach John McHugh's jayvee stickmen will entertain Swarthmore Center in the cubs' final game of the season tomorrow afternoon. The game is scheduled for 2:30 on the golf course field.

Little Giants

Tiny Wapato high school with a three man team won first place honors in the 21 Annual Interscholastic Track and Field meet of 1930. Wapato scored 11 points.
