

College To Grant Degrees to 2634

The largest graduating class in the history of Penn State, 2,634 students will participate in twin commencement ceremonies June 12 in Rec Hall to mark the end of their college careers.

Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, and Irwin D.

Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, will be the speakers for the program. Both are Rhodes Scholars.

Morning Session

The morning session, at which Dr. Carmichael will speak, will start at 10:30. His topic was not disclosed. Seniors in the Schools of Liberal Arts, Education, Home Economics, and Physical Education and Athletics will receive their diplomas at this time. Graduate students doing their major work in these schools will also receive their degrees at the morning program.

Canham, who has not announced his topic, will speak at the afternoon session, scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. Those who will receive their diplomas at this time are seniors in the Schools of Agriculture, Chemistry and Physics, Engineering, and Mineral Industries. Graduates majoring in these schools will also receive their degrees at this time.

Dr. Carmichael

Before becoming president of the Carnegie Foundation in 1946, Dr. Carmichael was chancellor of Vanderbilt University. During World War I he was a member of the Hoover Relief Commission to Belgium, and he was an advisor to the War Production Board in World War II. He is a member of President Truman's Commission on Higher Education.

Associated with the Christian Science Monitor since 1926, Canham has covered the League of Nations, the London Naval Conference, and was head of the Monitor's Washington Bureau before being named general news editor in 1939. He has been editor since 1945 and was vice president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in 1949.

$2 Alumni Ass'n. Offer Still Open

Graduating seniors have until Commencement Day to join the Alumni Association at the special rate of $2 for one year, Ridge Riley, executive alumni secretary, announced yesterday.

After that time, the regular rate of $3 per year will apply. Application forms may be turned into the Alumni Office, 104 Old Main.

The Alumni Association offers many services and benefits to the more than 40,000 alumni, Riley said. Membership entitles the alumnus to subscriptions to the Alumni News magazine, issued seven times a year; the Penn Stater, a quarterly newspaper; and the Football Letter, which reports the "inside story" in detail after each game.

First priority on reserved football tickets is given paid-up members. Class reunions and Homecoming are conducted by the Association, and the Alumni Office is the clearing house for alumni requests and problems and maintains the only mailing addresses and complete biographical and occupational records of all the members.

Kondourajian, Barr Head Senior Hat Societies

Other Skull and Bones officers will be Pami Nous vice-president, and Edwin Barnitz, secretary-treasurer.

Patrick Heims and Robert Fast will be Pami Nous vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Trustees To Weigh SU Financing Plan

Although the agenda for the June 9-10 meeting of the Board of Trustees has not been prepared, the $15 assessment approved by All-College Cabinet last week will be one of the matters that will come before the 32-man board.

The assessment, passed to finance the construction of the Student Union building, must receive the approval of the trustees before it becomes law.

Sigma Chi Cup Awarded to ZBT

The second presentation of the Sigma Chi scholarship award highlighted the annual banquet of the Interfraternity Council Tuesday evening at the Nittany Lion Inn. Winner of the award was Zeta Beta Tau, which climbed from 49th to 10th place in scholarship ratings among fraternities during the past year.

Peter Giesey, past IFC president, presided at the banquet. Speeches were given by Wilmer Kenworthy, assistant to the president in charge of student affairs, H. K. Wilson, dean of men, and Harold Leinbach, new president of IFC.

Kenworthy spoke on student-administration relations, while Wilson and Leinbach both emphasized the need for high scholarship in fraternities.

First Dorm Award Given to Munson

Arthur Munson, a sophomore in horticulture, won the first Nittany-Pollock Dorm Council Scholarship of $100 for next year. Munson was selected on the basis of high scholarship and need by a committee composed of members from both councils. Harry Sweptson of Nittany council was chairman.

This is the first year that the councils have given the scholarship, although the project has been in the discussion stage for some time. The councils hope to make the presentation an annual affair.

Class Day To Reveal Senior Gift, Awards

Presentation of awards to graduating seniors and the revelation of the class gift will highlight the class day exercises to be held at Rec Hall on Sunday, June 11. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Traditional awards for service to the class and the College will be given. Six women will be chosen to assume the titles of Bow girl, Fan girl, Slipper girl, Mirror girl, Class Poet, and Class Donor.

To Honor Five
Five men will be honored with titles of Spoon man, Cane man, Barrel man, Pipe Orator, and Class Donor.

The class valedictorian and salutatorian will also be named at the exercises. Both the men chosen have 2.93 all-College averages. Both positions are chosen on the basis of scholarship.

James Balog, chairman of the class gift committee, will also announce at the exercises what the class gift to the College will be.

Three Choices
There were three choices: an ambulance for the College hospital, a contribution to the student press fund and the establishment of a Hall of Fame in the proposed student union building. All-College Cabinet service awards to outstanding seniors will also be awarded at the exercises, which are open to all members of the College and their friends.

the trustees before it becomes law.

John Clark, a member of Nittany Dorm Council, which has come out in opposition to the assessment, disclosed yesterday that a petition will be presented to the trustees. The petition, which should be distributed tomorrow, will probably request a student referendum on the hotly-contested issue, Clark said.

Terms Run Out

Voting on three of the nine alumni representatives on the trustees will come to an end Saturday morning when the votes are counted. Up for re-election are James Milholland, president of the Board of Trustees; J. L. Mauthe, and Milton Fritzsche. They are being opposed by David H. Stewart, J. Kenneth Stern, and John A. Wood.

The terms of four of the twelve trustee representatives of industrial and agricultural organizations run out and the seats are up for election. Those whose terms expire are R. Johnston Gillan, St. Thomas; J. L. Krall, Cataqua; E. Lowry Humes, Meadville; and George W. Slocum, Milton.

Committees Meet

In addition, standing and special committees will hold meetings and make reports. Other activities include the trustee dinner for the 50-year class Friday evening, an alumni luncheon Saturday at 12:30 p.m., and the Sunday morning chapel services for the graduating seniors.

Football coach Rip Engle will be one of the speakers at the all-class alumni luncheon Saturday afternoon in Rec Hall. Gene Wettstone and his varsity gymnasts will perform.

Summer School Begins June 13

The inter-session and first six weeks' science session of summer school will begin June 13. Registration will be held in the morning with classes beginning that afternoon.

Students who have already received "Notice of Acceptance" cards will register in the balcony of Recreation Hall. Those who have not pre-registered will register in the Central Library.

Fees will be paid immediately following the registration procedure at the Bursar's Office in 6 Willard Hall. Students will also obtain validated class admission cards which must be presented to the instructor at the first class meeting.

Veterans going to school under the G. I. Bill must report to the Army to complete forms required by the Veterans Administration.

Main summer session will begin July 5 and end August 11, while post session will begin August 14 and last till September 2.

The second six weeks' science session will begin July 22.
