- PRE FOUR

THE DAILY COLLEGIAN, STATE COLLEGE, PENNSYLVANIA

. SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1950

Record Number of A lums Ba All-Class Luncheon It's Never Slated for Today Too Late?

A record number of alumni of the College are returning this weekend for the annual Class Reunion program, Ridge Riley, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, said yesterday.

Highlighting the weekend during which the College will be host to more alums than on any previous Class Reunion occasion will be the five-year reunion dinners and the gen-eral alumni luncheon, to be held in Recreation Hall at 12:30 p.m. today.

Riley said that advance registrations indicate about 1,200 will attend the luncheon and that it may be necessary to turn away some graduates because of the limited facilities. Charles A. "Rip" Engle, new Lion football skipper, will be introduced to the alumni at the introduced to the alumni at the luncheon. The program also in-cludes dance numbers by siudents of Ann Curry, of State College, and gymnastics exhibi-tions by Gene Wettstone, Lion of reservations, facilities in Ath-erton Hall were not adequate and The Seco

Alumni will participate in the Sessions will be the Main Sum-re-dedication of the sun dial on mer Session which attracts the front campus at 2 p.m. today. The largest number of students. It dial is the gift of the class of 1915, will begin July 5 and close Today busses will be available August 11. Generation for the Inter-Sector for alumni desiring a bus tour of their expanding campus. Other activities of the weekend include Science Session will be held at the golf tourney which began the College on Tuesday morning yesterday and will continue until and classes will begin in the 9 a.m. today. Many of the schools afternoon. on campus held open houses yesterday for visiting alums. Business affairs of the weekend include a meeting of the Alumni Council at 10 a.m. today in room 121 Sparks building. Yesterday was highlighted by a meeting of the executive board of the Alum-ni Association in the Nittany Lion Inn.

Oldest Alumnus

The oldest alumnus returning is J. C. Barrett, of Youngstown, O., of the class of 1885, while Robert Swank, of Mahanoy City, a member of the 1889 class, will be the oldest graduate from a be the oldest graduate from a non-reunion class. Reunions and chairmen for them are as follows: 1895 George Snyder, of State College, Presby-terian Church; 1900 Mrs. J. W. Henszey, State College, at the State College Hotel; 1905 France Torrence, of State College, Nit-

Expected To Hit 7000inSummer

Enrollment for the Summer Sessions at the College this year him for his college degree at the is expected to approach 7,000 stu- age of 55. dents, Dr. M. R. Trabune, director, reported recently.

He said that as in past years, Chem-Eng'ers chool teachers, the majority of them taking advanced work, and regular students, many of them veterans about to complete their of reservations, facilities in Ath-erton Hall were not adequate and many more alumni are being boused in private homes in State September 2 and Post-Session will Baden, vice-president; Joseph D. College, and in cottages on the begin August 14 and end on Sep-Soltis, of Philadelphia, secretary; tember 2. Overlapping the Science and J. H. Sinfelt, of Philipsburg,

Registration for the Inter-Session and for the First Six Weeks

Dr. Trabue said that qualified students would be admitted for either of these sessions until Tuesday and although they may not

150 Graduate With Honors

More than 150 students will be all scholastic honor societies; and graduated with honors at double Sigma Gamma Epsilon, mineral Commencement Exercises to be industries honor society. He is held at the College on Monday vice-president of Sigma Gamma morning and afternoon, James Epsilon. Milholland, acting president of Durin the College, said yesterday. Gerhard

Baseball Today

Ralph B. Yountz, of 1726 Par-ker St., Berkeley, Calif, who last attended college 30 years ago, has now completed his thesis and will be awarded a bachelor of science be awarded a bachelor of science degree in mining engineering at the College on Monday. A native of Mountville, Pa., Yountz was enrolled at Penn State from 1913 to 1916, inter-rupted his college work to serve in World War I, then completed his work in 1919-20, except for his thesis. He had 172 of the 174 required credits.

required credits. Now a construction engineer Yountz took several weeks off from his job to complete a thesis on the geology of the Allegheny District and of the Plumbago Mine in California. The thesis qualified

The formal installation of a tions by Gene Weitstone, Lion gymnastics coach, and a doz-en of his gymnasts. Registration for alumni began at noon yesterday and will con-tinue throughout tonight at the Alumni Headquarters in Frances Atherton. Hall. Many of the re-turning alumni, particularly those from classes to 1925, will be housed in Atherton Hall. Because of the large number of reservations, facilities in Ath-and president of his social frater-nity, Sigma Phi Alpha. He has been named to Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Beta Kappa,

(Continued from page three) the orchestra.

During the past two years, Gerhard also held two John W. White Scholarships, top honors at Penn State.

Baseball loady In a varsity baseball game slated for 2:30 p.m. today on Beaver Field, Coach Joe Be-Fall has accepted a graduate SHOWN ABOVE are proud Barbara Hummel, 9, at left, and the Rev. Charles L. Rummel, her dad who'll graduaic with nearly 2,270 others: come Monday. At 37, the Rev. Hummel has taken time off from the full-time job of a rural pastor to earn a bachelor's degree in education.

Rural Pastor Takes Time From Job To Earn Degree

Serving as a rural pastor for four charges would seem to be a full-time job.

But the Rev. Charles L. Rummel, possibly with the help of his wife and three children, also found time to go to college and earn his bachelor's degree at the age of 37.

Rev. Rummel, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Houserville, near here

Father's Day Gifts

will be graduated Monday at the College in the education curricu- 2 Are Named his class of nearly 2270.

Born in Huntingdon county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rum-mel, of RD Mount Union, Rum-mel was graduated from Mount Union high school in 1932. He Pennsylvania Railroad, yesterday worked in the refractories at Mt. class president, sang in the glee club, and played a trombone in as a farmer before entering the meeting of delegates from agriministry in 1943.

Photo Editor At Penn State, Gerhard has been photo editor for the Engi-neer magazine, has been presi-the the Engi-the Engi-t dent of the Earth Sciences Club, His transfer to Houserville three years ago facilitated his enrollment at Penn State.

"Getting my degree means the fulfillment of a long-time ambition," Reverend Rummel commented. His wife, Sarah, also a native of RD Mount Union, and children, Joan, 15; Charles, 11, and Barbara, 9; are equally pleased.

H. Thomas Hallowell, Jr., vice-president and general manager, were named to the Board of meeting of delegates from agri-cultural and industrial socities who annually meet on the cam-of St. Thomas, and George W. Slocum, of Milton.

Hallowell and Patchell, who is a graduate of the College in the class of 1919, will replace E. Low-ry Howes, of Meadville, and Jesse L. Krall, of Catasauqua.

For the fourth year in a row, Penn State will play nine foot-ball games in 1950.

lum. He ranked near the top of To Trustees Was Brakeman

