Ag Hill--

Picnic Favorite

Hort Woods, equipped with picnic tables, a fireplace, and ample wood supply, has always been a mecca for various informal groups wishing outdoor meals or picnic facilities. No advance arrangements are required to utilize these facilities, Imhof pointed out.

More than 110 acres of orchard crops beckon beyond Ag Hill and the cherry picking season will be in full swing within a few weeks. Groups are encouraged to inspect the orchards only after making arrangements with members of the Horticulture staff. Apples, peaches, pears, cherries, and other small fruits are among the important crops.

For those interested in scientific advances made in artificial breeding of dairy cattle, Penn State now has the finest Dairy Breeding Research Laboratory facilities in the nation. Dr. John Almquist, in charge, welcomes visiting groups and provides special explanations of the facilities and research techniques employed in the newly built center.

Football season can't be too far away.

The Penn State Athletic Association today announced that applications will be accepted from this date through September 15.

Each ticket is priced at $9.60, including Federal tax, and entitles the holder to a reserved seat at home games against Georgetown (September 30) Temple (October 28), West Virginia (November 11), and Rutgers (November 18).

H. R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, said a saving of $4.80 is effected by the purchase of a season ticket.

Under the regulations, only members of the faculty and full-time employees are eligible to buy season tickets; no application can be accepted for more than two tickets; additional tickets for individual games will not be allotted to season tickets (although persons wishing to sit together may file application blanks attached); and season tickets will be allocated from the goal line to the 35-yard line in the West stands.

The last time Syracuse's varsity won the Intercollegiate Rowing Association's championship (more commonly known as the Poughkeepsie Regatta) was 1920.

In the American League — which boasts a 4-game winning streak and 12 out of 16 in All-Star competition — eight of Stengel's World Series stars dot the lineup followed by 5 from Boston, Cleveland and Detroit. Chicago, Washington, St. Louis and Philadelphia have one each.

Casey's moundsmen include Tommy Byrne of the Yanks (9-3) and Ted Gray of Detroit (9-3), both lefthanders, or Vic Raschi (10-5) and Allie Reynolds (8-6) of the Yanks; Art Houtteman of Detroit (11-6); Bob Feller (8-6) and Bob Lemon (12-4) both of Cleveland, and Rae Scarborough of the Chicago White Sox (8-8).

After Roberts and Miller, Shotton has in reserve Don Newcombe from his own staff (7-5); Jim Konstanty of Philadelphia (7-3); Larry Jansen of New York (9-4);

Warren Spahn of Boston (9-10); Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati (6-8), and Bob Rush, Chicago Cubs color-bearer (9-7).

It was the fifth time that Blackwell has been honored while Jansen, Konstanty, Rush and Roberts will be making their first appearance. The real veteran of the Senior League lineup is Walker Cooper who has been selected on 8 previous 'Star teams.
