

Rogel Offered Mat Trial / Remember When ...

ring Saturday, the Pittsburgh grid management and Nittany star went into a huddle last night.

Meanwhile, a professional wrestling promoter has come forward with an offer to put Rogel in his mat circus. Francis, while anxious to turn his athletic talents to an honest dollar, was not expected to turn a receptive ear to the offer.

Rogel won his lone excursion into college wrestling but he still looks back and wonders how he ever got off the mat alive. Although a victor, his eyes were glassy and his legs looked like they were made of rubber. He admitted that he was never so exhausted in his life. That night Rogel won a resounding ovation from his student admirers but he never again turned his hand to wrestling.

In three years of varsity competition with Penn State, Rogel carried the ball 400 times and lost only 51 yards. His net gain on carries was 1598 yards for an average of approximately four yards per try.

'On the Ball' ---

England. For one-half hour after the game started the two teams played a scoreless tie. Then, with whippet-like speed, Walter Barr, from Philly, smacked a terrific shot which the goalie barely managed to deflect up into the air.

Playing heads-up ball, Joe Gaetjens caught the goalie going the opposite way and headed it in for the only score of the game.

"Then all hell broke loose in the stands," Jeffrey recounted. "It was like the Fourth of July in Ebbets Field. The Brazilians, who stood to profit from England's defeat, stood up in their seats shouting, 'Viva, Viva,' and tossed giant lighted firecrackers onto the field. It was wonderful. After the game they carried our boys off the field on their shoulders.

"That night the team really did up the town," he said. "Out in the streets they were having some sort of a festival in which young, eligible girls in their colorful native costumes were dancing around a bon-fire which was about four feet high.

"The theory behind this, we learned, was that if the girls jumped through the fire without scorching their petticoats they were sure to get married within the year.

"They also had another attraction there—some stuff called 'pinga' that tasted like denatured alcohol. After one sip of 'pinga' I was ready to jump through the fire myself," Jeffrey said with a laugh.

Why did America lose to Chile? Well, it could have been that they had the better team all along, but Jeffrey also points out, "We spent everything we had in that game against England. We just shot our bolt. The players felt as though they had done their part and as a result there was an understandable letdown."

In the two days following the English match the U.S. soccer force traveled over 2000 miles to get to Recife where they were scheduled to meet the Chilians. "Our fellows were not in shape to take on another competitor like England," Jeffrey declared.

ELIZABETHVILLE, Dauphin county community from which the grandparents of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower migrated to Kansas, was the subject of conversation when Dr. Eisenhower (left) on his five-day tour, met Larry Bingaman, of Elizabethville, at the Junior Conservation Camp in Stone Valley.

Said Larry to Dr. Eisenhower: "The people of Elizabethville are proud of the Eisenhower family and we hope you'll visit with us in Elizabethville."

Replied Dr. Eisenhower: "I'm looking forward to a visit to Elizabethville in the near future and I certainly will stop to see you there."

Houck Trophy ..

officials have been working on the details of assembling an intercollegiate boxing team for him.

A year ago Leo visited the Navy Pier after a special trip from Pennsylvania to present the first Leo Houck trophy to the all-college winner.

The fans who were there that night found it hard to believe the sad news that Leo had died suddenly and Tighe decided to continue the award in Leo's memory.

This year's trophy has a double meaning. It is first an award to symbolize the merits of collegiate boxing as a sport, and secondly, it is a silent tribute to a person who has contributed as much to intercollegiate boxing as Babe Ruth contributed to professional baseball.

Working with Jack for four years, Houck built the 155-pound battler into an Eastern Collegiate champ with a record of only two defeats in four years of tilting.

ting last is ahead) in order for the game to be considered in the standings. If it is necessary to call the game after 5 innings have been played, the score will revert to that at the end of the last full inning played.

4. Official 1950 softball rules will govern play except as follows.

A. The pitching distance will remain at 43 feet.

B. A batter hit by a pitched ball will not be awarded first base.

C. There shall be no stealing of bases. The baserunner may leave the base with the pitch, but must always return to the same base unless the ball is hit in fair territory. The defensive team can make a play on the baserunner and put him out. On an overthrown that occurs when playing the baserunner, the runner must go back and touch the base he occupied at the start of the play. He then may advance to the next base, provided that he can make it safely.

Bunting and sliding are permitted.
