FRANK GULLO

HUMMEL FISHBURN

Gullo, Fishburn Continue Monday Sing Tradition

By STAN DEGLER

Frank Gullo and Hummel Fishburn are in the groove. Those who attended last night's sing, or who have sung lustily to the leadership of this combination on other occasions have little doubt of that.

For with Professor Gullo leading songs and Professor Fishburn at the piano, singing is easy, as thousands of persons throughout the state have discovered.

The Monday night sings at which these two less academic Professors display their talents are not new at Penn State. Since 1924, when the sings were begun by Prof. Richard W. Grant, summer students have enjoyed the get-togethers. This year as usual the sings will be continued every Monday night during the Main Session.

Well-Known Team

The team of Gullo and Fishburn is better known than most students realize. After starting in the State College Rotary Club, the two soon received invitations to other clubs, teachers institutes, and other gatherings. Says Fishburn, it started a "chain reaction." Since then the pair has traveled to all parts of Pennsylvania as "good will ambassadors of the College." Last year they led singing at teacher's institutes or other educational meetings in 30 counties. They estimate their total audience at 80,000. The largest group was a Lincoln Day dinner in Washington, D. C. attended by 12,000.

Made Recordings

Since they cannot accept all invitations, they have recorded their wares on film for the Eastern States Cooperative Association. The two colored motion pictures are used at meetings of farmers and vocational groups. Fishburn says, "It's the same as if we were standing there."

They use no slides, words, music, song sheets or books, and the singing is unrehearsed and spontaneous. Fishburn credits Gullo as a "genius" for that sort of thing. Fishburn, who has been here for 32 years, mentioned some persons who have attended the Monday night sings for years. Miss Anna Louise Laub, a grade school teacher from Lewistown has been coming ever since the beginning. Even during gasoline rationing, Miss Laub saved her coupons to come to the sings.

Attendance Dropped

Other old-timers are Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Weaver, the assistant director of summer sessions; Mr. and Mrs. John Friese; and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bischoff. Attendance isn't what it used to be however, according to Fishburn, and he says, "I'd like to fill the place up."

Some years, two pianos were used. Guy Wood, who taught piano at the College, played with

PSCA Plans Trip To Cave, Work Party

A trip to Penn's Cave is only one of the features offered by the Penn State Christian Association this week. In addition, there will be a conversation group, a work party, and a dance for graduate students.

At 8 p.m. a conversation group will meet at the home of Luther H. Harshbarger, 930 North Atherton street. No set topic has been set, but the discussion will center around the interests of those present.

This group is open to all students, but any one interested is requested to register beforehand at the PSCA office, 304 Old Main.

The Penn's Cave trip is scheduled for Thursday, July 20. The group will leave from the rear of Old Main at 1 p.m. Tickets must be purchased in advance at the Student Union Desk, Old Main, or at the PSCA office. The price, including transportation, will be $1.75 per person.

Work Continues

The weekly work project of painting nearby rural schools will continue Saturday, July 22. All interested are asked to register at the Student Union Desk. This group will leave from the rear of Old Main at 1 p.m. and return at 5:30.

A dance has been organized for Friday night, July 21. To be held in the TUB at 8 p.m., the dance sponsored by the Graduate Club, is for graduate students and staff members.

The next Artists Series program will feature Anatole Kitain, Russian pianist, the following Tuesday.

Fishburn, going to Wayland College in Texas where he died recently. Before that, Jay Kennedy had teamed with Fishburn on the keyboards for several years.

Gullo, a hearty, affable man with a mellow voice, practically exudes personality when he directs the sings. As they talked about their work it was evident that both Frank Gullo and Hum

Circle Eight . . . .

FRED HARTSWICK calls as the second square dance, held during the Inter Session swings into full sway at the TUB. Music was by the Keystone Four. This Saturday's dance will feature Andy Mastalski's orchestra.

Square Dance To Feature Recreation For This Week

The first square dance of the Main Summer Session will be held at the TUB Saturday night. Always popular this event is expected to attract a capacity crowd.

Andy Mastalski will furnish the music for the affair which will get under way at 9 p.m.

No admission will be charged and all are invited according to "Dutch" Sykes, recreation director. Polkas and waltzes, as well as square dancing will be featured in the evening of fun.

Outdoor Movie

"Texas," starring Glenn Ford, is to be this week's outdoor movie scheduled for tomorrow night at 9 o'clock. The film will be shown on the front campus at the Pugh street gate. In case of rain it will be shown at Schwab Auditorium.

Mixed swims continue each Tuesday and Thursday nights from 8:30 to 10 o'clock at Glennland pool. Students are furnished towels and lockers, but must bring their own suits. Admission is matriculation card.

combination, it has resulted in a substantial increase in yield.

Pointing out that the plots will continue to serve in soil studies, Richer quotes a recent foreign visitor who commented, "These plots are sacred. They no longer belong to Penn State, but to the world."
