

Chimes Adds Five Chapters In East-West Coast Merger

Chimes, national junior honorary, recently increased its membership from eight to 13 chapters as it merged with Key and Scroll, a junior honorary active on the West Coast.

The merger was completed at the Chimes national convention held at Ohio State university from Sept. 1 to Sept. 3.

Chimes was founded on the Pennsylvania State College campus

Freshmen Women With 2.5 Average May Join Honorary

Girls who maintain a 2.5 average during their freshman year whether on campus or at a center are eligible for Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman honorary.

WRA To Sponsor Fall Cabin Party

All new women students including freshmen, sophomores and transfers are invited to attend the WRA overnight cabin party on Saturday, September 23. Sponsored by the Outing Club, the party will be held at the WRA Cabin in the Tussey Mountains.

At a meeting Thursday in Room 2 White hall, final plans will be made. Upperclassmen are urged to attend the meeting in order to help with the new students.

Twenty-seven students signed up at Play Night to attend the affair. Those who have not signed up and wish to attend should contact Carolyn Barrett, 163 Simmons, or attend the meeting Thursday in White Hall.

in 1947 with four chapters as charter members.

Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and campus activities. At present there are 19 active members on campus, who recently aided in Orientation week activities.

This semester the local chapter has a new advisor. Miss Patricia Thompson, assistant to the Dean of Women, will be on campus for the first time to guide the Chimes activities.

Soon to be published on campus will be the first edition of Key Notes the national publication of the organization. Before the honoraries combined the magazine was called the Clapper. The new national editor, Elizabeth Hill, a junior at the College, will become a member of the National Executive Council.

This year's officers are Nancy McClain, president; Grace Porrello, vice president; Eleanor Griffith, secretary; and Margaret Betz, treasurer. Rose Eifert is senior advisor.
