Marines Fight Way Into Seoul

TOKYO—American Marines are driving into the streets of Seoul, unconfirmed reports from South Korea disclosed last night. Marine Commander Lieutenant General Lemuel G. Shepherd said his men may get into the city proper in the next 24 hours. Shepherd added that it will be at least a week before Seoul will be securely in the hands of the U. S. Marines fighting in the Seoul suburb of Yongdungpo, across the Han River from the capital, have run into some of the strongest Red opposition since the Inchon landing a week ago. After being thrown back by an apparent fight-to-the-death stand by the enemy the Marines with the aid of the U. S. airmen crashed through and knocked out the main transport lines leading southward into the suburb from Seoul.

Truman Veto Expected

WASHINGTON — President Truman, according to a high source on Capitol Hill, is expected to veto the anti-communist bill today. The communist control bill which came out of congress with overwhelming approval, is expected to have enough supporters to override a presidential veto. The communist control measure is designed to tighten up the home front defenses against subversive persons and groups. Truman had opposed previous editions of this measure because he felt that they are unnecessary and dangerous to American freedoms.

The President yesterday won a partial victory in an effort to get Congress to drop a Senate plan which, he said, might push some countries into the Soviet sphere. The President objected to a Senate amendment to the 17 billion dollar emergency defense plan.

The Senate provision would mean a complete ban on economic aid to any country sending war potential goods to the Soviet bloc.

Livestock Team 3rd in Exposition

Penn State's livestock judging team finished third in inter-collegiate events this week at the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass.

Rolland Herring, senior, was high individual on swine, second in sheep, and fourth in the entire contest. J. Fred King, senior, was fifth in both sheep and cattle judging.

The College's percheron horses also added more championship ribbons to the collection at the exposition. "Lynda Hope" was chosen both junior and reserve grand champion of the show, while "Lynwood Nievre II" won reserve senior championship honors.

Campus Societies Honor Students

Forty-eight professional and honorary societies, whose requirements range from a 2.5 All-College average to direction of full-length plays and outstanding achievement in debating circles, are on campus to reward deserving members of all classes.

Of the 48 societies, four, Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma, are strictly scholastic societies, with only a specified scholastic average as an entrance requirement.

Both Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi tappings are made in the senior class, while Alpha Lambda Delta (women) and Phi Eta Sigma (men) take their members from the freshman class.

Seven of the eight schools of the College have at least one society honoring its topflight students, most of them having two tappings, one in the Fall and another in the Spring.

LA Has Most

The greatest number of societies honoring outstanding students in their varied fields can be found in the School of Liberal Arts, which has 170.

Rewarding women are the Louise Homer club, music, local; Theta Sigma Phi, journalism; and Delta Alpha Delta, local debate.

For men, Alpha Delta Sigma rewards outstanding work in the field of advertising; Phi Mu Alpha, music; and Sigma Delta Chi, journalism.

No Distinction

The other eleven honoraries in the Liberal Arts School make no distinction in membership.

For commerce and finance majors there is Delta Sigma Pi; for outstanding students of Russian, Alpha Rho Omega; for debating, Delta Sigma Rho; Phi Sigma Iota for romance languages; Pi Gamma Mu, social science; Pi Lambda Sigma; pre-legal, Pi Mu Eta, mathematics; Sigma Alpha Eta, speech and hearing, and Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics.

Chemistry and physics students have a choice of Phi Lambda Upsilon, chemistry; Sigma Pi Sigma, physics; Alpha Nu, astronomy; Sigma Xi, science. For women in the pre-medical curriculum there is Gamma Pi Epsilon, for men, Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Engineering

Chi Epsilon, civil engineering; Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering; Pi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering; Sigma Tau and Tau Beta Pi, engineering; and Scarab, architecture, all are found in the school of engineering.

Agriculture

Outstanding agriculture students find rewards in Alpha Tau Alpha, agricultural education;

Gamma Sigma Delta, agriculture; Xi Sigma Pi, forestry; and Alpha Phi Omega, scouting.

Education has Iota Lambda Sigma, and Phi Delta Kappa, industrial education; Tau Phi Sigma, business education; Psi Chi, psychology; and Pi Lambda Theta, women's education.

Mineral Industries honors its students with Sigma Gamma Epsilon, and Sigma Epsilon Sigma, local women's earth science honorary.

Omicron Nu, senior home economics; Phi Upsilon Omicron, junior home economics and Sigma Epsilon Alpha, hotel administration, are found in the School of Home Economics.

Two In Phys Ed

Physical Education men have Phi Epsilon Kappa, while, the women are honored by Lakonides, a local society.

ROTC units on campus honor their men with membership in Scabbard and Blade, for advanced ROTC students, and the Pershing Rifles.

Dry Cleaning Agency Open For Business

The Student Dry Cleaning agency opened its offices in most campus living areas this week, and is now available for student use, manager Guy Temple, has announced.

Temple pointed out that a number of local cleaners and laundries are cooperating with the agency, and the student may send his clothing to the establishment of his choice. Cleaning, pressing and washing can be done for varying rates posted in the agency offices.

In the Pollock Union Building office, students may have cleaning done Monday through Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. and from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m., Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., Saturday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, and Sunday from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m.

In the women's dorms, the locations are: Simmons playroom; McElwain playroom; Atherton, Sally's room (east); 218 McAllister, and Grange 315.

Women's hours are Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.; Friday from 4 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday from 1 to 2 p.m.

In the West dorms, facilities are not yet available for the agency to open due to construction.

Axelrod, Caveny Get Wave Training

Two College juniors, Lois Axelrod and Carolyn Caveny, spent a six-week period at the Great Lakes, Ill., Training Center as WAVE reserve officer candidates.

Along with 142 women undergraduates from colleges all over the country, the two co-eds took intensive training in general naval orientation, correspondence, organization, and general administrative procedure.

THE BROWSE

The purpose of this advertisement is to attempt to obliterate a bit of the confusion which we understand exists among some of the members of the Class of 1954. By this time you have undoubtedly discovered where you sleep and eat. And it won't be many days before you are able to find the correct class room. Our personal advice is that you should never be without a pair of scissors with which to cut the red tape. But we are getting away from our point—there is nothing like being confused when writing about confusion.

Confusion say—After you learn where to eat and sleep (because it might be a bit difficult to do that here) and your way around the campus, discover for yourself THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE. It's the little store (ten feet wide) with the big personality. And you will be surprised what you can find in such a small place! Since we are small, we have to pick our stock with quality in mind. Just to mention a few of the items we have: books, a rental library, phonograph records, greeting cards, stationery, and all kinds of odds and ends which we like to believe are different from anything else you will find in town. The best way to discover what we have is to come in and see for yourself. Browse all you want; make THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE a part of your college life. Take a good look at the cut below; remember it and you'll remember us. Tell your friends:
