Troops Await Orders To Pursue Koreans

WASHINGTON—United Nations troops in Korea are awaiting instructions as to whether or not they will cross the 38th parallel in pursuit of the communists. Key officials want the UN assembly to approve a resolution authorizing the troops to follow the enemy as soon as possible.

The Reds are continuing their flight to the north, and in Seoul enemy resistance is finally at an end. Taejon, where American troops took such a beating two months ago, was seized by American forces yesterday.

The Third Battalion of the Royal Australian Regiment has already arrived in Korea. A French battalion is expected to leave for Korea some time next month.

UN Rejects Reds

NEW YORK—The United Nations Security Council has rejected two Russian demands that communist China be permitted to participate in the UN discussions. Russia wants the Chinese Reds to present their complaint that the United States has invaded Chinese territory by sending the US Seventh fleet to patrol the Strait of Formosa. The Soviet Union also wanted communist China to take part in the discussions of a complaint that American airmen had attacked Manchuria.

Refuse To Ban Reds

LONDON—Britain's conservative party has declared that it will not ban the communist party from Britain if it ever should return to power.

In planning the program for their annual convention, the conservatives barred four resolutions from discussion concerning a ban on communism in Britain.

Concert Series Begins Drive For Members

More than 125 persons will handle the membership sales for the Community Concert series during the coming year, Dr. Henry S. Brunner, membership chairman said yesterday.

About 75 students, headed by Suzanne Scurfield, and approximately 50 faculty members and townspeople will solicit memberships.

The membership campaign will open with a dinner meeting on Monday night, Dr. Brunner said. He urged those who desire memberships for the series to get in touch with any of the representatives.

The Dean of Men and Dean of Women at the College yesterday termed the concert series as an important part of a college education.

Dr. Pearl O. Weston said, "A college education is not limited to the work in the classroom. The wider and more varied our cultural opportunities, the richer will be our personal lives."

Wilson Comments

Dr. H. K. Wilson commented that "with Penn State isolated from large centers where concerts of fine music are immediately available, students here will be fortunate that several concerts will be brought to the campus by the Community Concert Association."

He said that he was sure that those who are able to attend the concerts will find the programs an important part of their life at Penn State and a chapter in their college life.

Male salesmen will be announced Tuesday. Women students who will sell series memberships are Carolyn Royce, Chick Russell, Madeline Gardner, and Shirley Gayuse in the Grange dormitory; Rosemary Scott, Joan Fleming, Roberta O'Dell, and Norma Lee McCormick in McElwain; Nancy Thomas, Ann
