

Sets Penn State Scoring Record . . .

Joe Lane

Standout Hurling Marks Yankees' 4-Game Sweep

By JOE BREU

The World Series of 1950 is now in the record books, much to the joy of Yankee fans and the dismay of Philies' followers.

Looking back on this year's classic, the one feature that stands out above everything else is the pitching. From the first toss of the opening game, the hurlers

Phil Rizzuto

held command throughout the entire series. As a matter of fact, the 15 runs scored by the two teams set a Series low mark.

The four game sweep was the sixth such feat for the Yanks and the first since the New Yorkers turned the trick in 1939 with Cincinnati as the victim.

DiMag Stars

Next to the pitchers, the Yankee heroes would include Joe DiMaggio, Jerry Coleman and Phil Rizzuto. DiMag proved that he still ranks as a top center-fielder when on two occasions he held Phil runners to doubles on hits that could easily have gone for triples against someone else.

In addition, his work with the stick accounted for one win and aided in the fourth triumph. Coleman is the fellow who ruined the Phils in the first and third games, driving in the winning run in both games. Rizzuto's fielding was a standout for the Series.

The Series was a source of frustration for Phil fans. Time and again the Whiz Kids left men on base in crucial moments. In fact, there were times when only a fly to the outfield was needed. But even then the Whiz Kids were unable to deliver the important blow.

Phils Tired

But the team which represented the Phils in the Series was not the same club which won the National League pennant. The Kids were a tired, beaten club. Most of the players had played

Engle Attributes Nittany Loss To Cadets' 'Experience, Depth'

Army had too much experience; too much depth.

That was Rip Engle's terse summary of the 41-7 loss handed to his Nittany Lion gridders by West Point Saturday.

"Our boys fought hard and gave everything they had," Engle said, "but they were playing against the best team in the country."

Despite the overwhelming speed and power of Earl Blaik's Black Knights, the Lions played well in the first half, only to stagger beneath the shattering force of the Army attack in the final minutes of action.

The Cadets rolled up a 28-0 advantage going into the final 6 minutes of play, but spurred on by State's lone touchdown and aided by the accumulated effects of 54 minutes of bruises and bumps heaped on by the Big White, the Cadets, rolled for two more six-pointers as the clock ran out.

Yesterday Engle took his charges out on the rain-soaked Beaver Field practice area in preparation for Syracuse this Saturday. Scouting reports have indicated that the Orange will be tough despite a record of one win and two losses.

Army's first four touchdowns were hard-earned and well deserved. For the first quarter the Lions staved off the Cadet horde and managed to come within 16 yards of the Black and Gold goal line. The turning point came in the closing minutes of the first period when linebacker Don Beck pulled in a Vince O'Bara pass at midfield.

Lion Defensive Star

Lane Scores Seven Goals As Lions Rip Bucknell, 11-2

Joe Lane, center forward for the Nittany Lion soccer forces, thundered his way into the all-time record books by scoring seven goals against Bucknell at Lewisburg on Saturday.

Joe's total set a Penn State individual record, while the team's 11 to 2 victory over the Bisons was the highest score since a 13-0 rout of Carnegie Tech in 1939.

The most difficult part of the game was trying to keep score as Coach Bill Jeffrey's boys were running wild. Clarence "Buzzer" Buss scored three, but his "hat trick" went almost unnoticed as Lane netted three in the first quarter alone. Harry Little tallied the other goal, which was the first of the day.

Bullet Strikes

Following Little's score at 4:50 of the first quarter, Lane, the "Baltimore bullet," pierced the Bucknell defenses in the eighth, twelfth, and fifteenth minutes of play to give State a 4-0 lead.

In the second quarter it was Lane who stopped a Bison rally which netted two goals in less than a minute, by banging in his fourth of the day. Buss then moved over to Lane's center position from his own right wing and kept things rolling by pushing two more past the beleaguered Bucknell goalie. The half ended at a 7-2 score.

The second half was dull by comparison as Buss added his third and Lane tapped in three more, getting his seventh with

National Record? Jeffrey Thinks So

Soccer coach Bill Jeffrey said yesterday that Joe Lane's seven goals in the Bucknell game may be a national record. He added that he did not know of any other college player who ever scored seven times in one contest. It is definitely a Penn State record.

"I took Lane out twice," he said, "and didn't tell him that he was breaking the record."

Commenting further on the game, Jeffrey said "Bucknell became completely demoralized. When they scored their two goals in the second quarter, our boys were determined to get them back."

One Bucknell goal was scored on a free kick, and the second was deflected in by a only a minute-and-one-half to play.

Coach Jeffrey cleared his bench in an attempt to keep down the mounting score, but it could not be halted. It was no real test for State's defense but the performance of the entire team indicated that here is a team that will not be defeated easily.

IM Mermen Open Campaign Tonight

The raising of the curtain on the 1950 IM swimming campaign will take place at the Glennland pool tonight. The first event of the tri-dual meet will start at 5 p.m.

Eugene C. Bischoff, director of athletics at the College, yesterday advised all team captains to arrive early so that they may present a complete and correct line-up of their respective teams.

On tonight's IM swimming agenda six fraternity teams are slated to see action. Delta Upsilon will meet Theta Xi; Phi Kappa Sigma is pitted against Sigma Phi Sigma; and Sigma Nu against Phi Kappa Psi.

Since 49 fraternity teams are entered in swimming competition this year, it will be necessary to hold meets daily Monday through Friday. This year's program will be run off in four quarters, with the fraternity winners meeting the independent champs on November 7.

Stew Scheetz

With Bob Blaik's passing eating up big yardage, the Cadets rolled to first down on the five, from where Blaik tossed a fourth down touchdown heave to Dan Foldberg in the end zone at 10 seconds of the second quarter. It was the same combination that clicked three minutes later to give Army a 14-0 halftime edge.

Army took the second-half kickoff and marched 63 yards in 10 plays with Gil Stephenson barging over for the score at 3 minutes 48 seconds of the third period. It took the Cadets 10 more
