

British To Debate In Schwab Tuesday

The annual international debate will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Schwab auditorium, when a combined British universities team meets the Penn State group.

Participating in the debate will be Ernest Alwyn Smith, University of Birmingham; John Gwenn Williams, University College of North Wales, Bangor; and Marlin Brenner and Clair George representing Penn State.

Question for the debate will be, "Resolved: That the United Nations is a good international debating society, but a poor pattern for world government."

It will be a split-team debate with Brenner opposing Smith, and George opposing Williams. Williams and Brenner will take the affirmative, and Smith and George will argue the negative.

The Penn State varsity debaters are anxious to repeat last Saturday's performance when they defeated the Army debate team at West Point.

Smith is 24 years old, and was born at Walsall, Staffordshire. He attended Queen Mary's school, Walsall, where he was secretary of the debating society and won a debating prize.

Williams is 26 years old. He received his diploma in Education in 1949, and was awarded the Gladstone Memorial essay prize in 1949. He was elected to University studentship the same year to pursue a 2 year M.A. course, and has a degree in modern history.

Following the debate a sway of opinion ballot will be taken.

The debate is open to the public. W. E. Kenworthy, assistant to the President in charge of student affairs, will act as chairman for the debate.

Marlin Brenner is debate captain this year, and Professor Joseph F. O'Brien is debate coach.

played a great game at West Point, as anyone could see if they saw the movies of the game. Paterno introduced Shephard as the man who made 80 per cent of the tackles last week. Shephard said, "We took it last week, but we're going to give it this week."

Head cheerleader Rudolph Valentino introduced a new cheer of which the crowd roared its approval. Frosh were especially active in cheering and a dancing line. The cheer-leaders joined the line while the Blue Band played fast numbers. Some freshman girls even ventured to lead a new yell.

Coed Committee Meeting Slated

The Coed Coordinating committee will hold its first organization meeting of the year tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the WSGA room in White Hall.

The committee, which has not been functioning for several years, was organized during the war. The group is composed of representatives from various women's organizations on campus. Originally it aimed at clearing up difficulties which arose among the women's organizations concerning conflicting meetings.

Anne Forrest, senior senator of WSGA, is chairman of the committee. The main purpose of the revived organization is to plan for the formal faculty reception which is held every spring by the women students. Last year the reception was held in McElwain lounge.

In addition to planning the reception, the committee may be called upon to perform any particular job needing the work of an organized group.

The vice-presidents of the following groups are the members of the committee: Women's Recreation association, Women's Student government, Cwens, Chimes, Alpha Lambda Delta, Mortar Board, Leonides, Philotes, and Pan-Hellenic council.

Grad To Speak At Chapel

An alumnus of the College will be the speaker at Chapel service in Schwab auditorium Sunday.

The Rev. William E. Kistler, a graduate of the class of '17, will deliver the Chapel sermon entitled "What Shall I Do With My Life?" Music for the service will be presented by the Chapel choir directed by Mrs. Willa Taylor, with George Ciega at the organ.

As an undergraduate at the College, Reverend Kroll was a member of the baseball team, served on the cabinet of the YMCA, was a member of Forensic council, Lion's Paw, Alpha Zeta and Phi Delta Theta fraternities.

He also was associate editor of Collegian and the 1917 La Vie. He was historian of his class.

He is now pastor of the Arlington Avenue Presbyterian church in East Orange, N. J.

Fellowship Council To Stage Party

The Inter-Christian Student Fellowship council will hold a party at the Lutheran Student association house, 412 West College ave., at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

There will be games, songs, skits, and, after 8:30, square dancing. Milt Snodgrass will do the calling. Refreshments will be served at 9:30.

This is the annual party sponsored by ICSF council, composed of two representatives of each of the local Protestant fellowship groups.

Tenors Needed For Glee Club

The College Glee club is in need of men who can sing first or second tenor, Prof. Frank Gullio, director, has announced.

A male accompanist and a male tap dancer are also needed.

All men interested in trying out for these positions are asked to report next Monday to 109 or 216 Carnegie, any time after 10 a.m.
