

Lion Booters Favored To Defeat Western Maryland In Home Opener

Jeffreyemen Seek 17th Straight Win

By BUD FENTON

Western Maryland will be the foe tomorrow as the Lions of soccer fame open the home season on New Beaver Field. The booters defeated Bucknell at Lewisburg last week, 11-2.

The visitors will present an unknown quantity right up to game-time since they have not appeared on a Nittany Lion schedule in recent years.

The Jeffreyemen will be favored on the strength of their past records and the performance of a week ago. At present they are riding the crest of a 16-game undefeated streak, a list that dates back to the early part of the 1948 season.

Joe Lane, who broke the all-time scoring record for Penn State by tallying no less than seven times, will lead the home array. Clarence "Buzzer" Buss, who performed the "hat trick" against Bucknell by netting three goals, will be another man to watch. His feat went almost unnoticed but he is capable of breaking out into a one-man offense.

Two IM Mermen Gain Triple Wins

Delta Sigma Phi, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Phi Epsilon captured swimming victories in the intramural tri-dual meet yesterday afternoon at Glennland.

In the opener Delta Sigma Phi easily outscored Sigma Alpha Mu, 37-3; Pi Kappa Alpha routed Phi Gamma Delta, 25-16, and Sigma Phi Epsilon dunked Phi Sigma Delta, 26-15.

George Hamilton, DSP's "herculean swimmer," sparked his mates to victory with a triple triumph.

SPE also produced a triple winner in Bob Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald won the 60-yard breast stroke, free-style, and diving.

Captain Harry Little will be expected to provide his usual brilliant ball-handling to give the balance that the offense needs. He and Ron Coleman are the men who make the passes and set up the plays that confound rival defenses.

Bill Yerkes, veteran fullback who did not see action last week, will be available tomorrow and will steady his younger backfield mates. Ron Coder will again be in the goal and will be ready to stave off any serious threats by the Western Maryland contingent.

Lion Vignettes

Ted Shattuck

By GEORGE GLAZER

The big guy bending over in front of his locker lifted his head and said, "I'm Shattuck," and so we met Ted Shattuck, sophomore fullback, for the first time.

He's a young-appearing kid, if that's a good descriptive phrase, and would probably look like the son of Pat McPoland, defensive end whose hair is liberally sprinkled with gray, if he stood beside him.

Ted, like all members of the starting Nittany backfield, was a three-sport man in high school, winning three letters each in football and basketball and two in baseball. He pitched and played first base for the diamond squad, and as a guard on the basketball team was selected on the all-star Northwestern Pennsylvania all-star team two years in a row.

1st Year With T

Incidentally, Ted, who spaced State's ground attack against Georgetown with 72 yards gained 2 weeks ago, had never played T-formation ball before this year, his high school experience being gained under the single wing.

Ted experienced his biggest thrill after graduating from high school. He played in an all-star game at Erie with a team coached by Charlie Caldwell of Princeton. Playing alongside of Shattuck was Ted Marchibroda, who Shattuck thinks is one of the greatest backs he has ever viewed. He's also happy about the fact that his team beat the Erie County All-Stars, 21-0. Vital Statistics—19 years old, from Warren Pa., 6-feet even, 200 pounds...is romantically unattached at present, and is a pledge at Sigma Chi.

State Thinclads Set For Pittsburgh Meet

By RAY GALANT

Coach Chick Werner sent his hill-and-dale outfit through a soggy light workout yesterday in preparation for the season's opener against Pittsburgh tomorrow.

With the exception of Jack St. Clair, who is still hobbled with an ankle injury, the team is in top physical condition.

Seven veterans, Don and Bill Ashenfelter, Al Porto, Bob Parsons, Bob Freebairn, Jack St. Clair, and Bill Gordon, plus newcomer Dudley Foster will represent State against the Panthers.

Ken Mahanna, who turned in a 23:41 time for 4 1/4 miles against Westminster, along with Bernard Luteranick, Jack McMahon, Richard Worrall, and Edward Carnegie will be the top men on the Pitt roster.

Chick Werner

Werner Comments

Commenting on tomorrow's dual meet Werner said, "You can't tell anything about a team until you meet them, but it will take a very good squad to beat us."

Tomorrow's race will be held over the Schenley Park course, with the starting time at 11:30 a.m. The Pitt course is spotted with hills whereas the Lions practice over the comparatively flat golf course area. In preparation for the meet Werner had special routes laid out in the attempt to bring in as much hilly terrain as possible.

The Nittany marathoners will be running with added incentive tomorrow. Not only will they be racing the Panthers, but they will also be running for automatic starting positions against next week's opponent, Cornell. The first five Penn State finishers will make the trip to Cornell, while the others will have to compete in time trials along with the rest of the varsity for the remaining berths.

Frosh Harriers Open Against Pitt

Penn State's freshman cross-country squad will resume activity, suspended since 1942 tomorrow morning when it engages a crack outfit of Pitt runners over the Smokey City's tough 3-mile hill course.

This duel might well be billed as a battle for Pennsylvania frosh supremacy. The Pittsburgh yearlings boast as outstanding a lineup of schoolboy stars as does Nittany Coach Norm Gordon.

Pitt first-year men include successive winners of the State PIAA cross-country championships. Jim Sarazana grabbed first in '48 and Ted Garret won in 1949. Still more trouble can be expected from 1950 Class B mile champion, Don Sommers.

Gordon will take a team of eight to meet the Panther freshmen. Frosh wearing Lion skimpies are Bob Hollen, Don Bagby, Gus Omrod, Art Godshall, Pete Judd, Dick Grice, Jim Cressman, and Bud Webb.

Two Starters ---

les and Bill Lupo, tackles; Dan Reimer and Bob Walther, guards; and Cohen, center.

Andy Browchuck and Pete Lessard, will attend the flanks defensively, while Nick Voelger and Vito Greibus will go at the tackle slots, and Bill Skyinskus and Joe Perry at the guard positions. Backing up the line will be Doug Erickson and Jim Ringo, with Karilivacz and Willis at halfback, and either Avatus Stone or Rabern Wiseman at safety.

Chet Smith, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Press, occupies the guest chair this week. Disguising himself as a college swami, he attempts to pick the upset of the week, Michigan over Army. Our local crystal gazers, apparently influenced by the Black Knights' victory over the Nittany Lions last week, string along with Army.

BIG TRAVELING ATTRACTION "LONESOME ROAD"

Here comes the famous attraction "Lonesome Road" which has been discussed in parked cars and parlors, school rooms and churches, pool halls and bowling alleys, homes and offices from coast to coast. Its treatment of delicate subjects has shocked many and amazed others while awakening the young jitterbugs of today to the fact moral living pays bigger dividends than fancy "rug-cutting".

With a background of years of experience comes C. Harry Taylor, dynamic personality who has actually appeared before over fifteen million people. Many years Mr. Taylor was a close friend of the late Voice of Experience. Filled with sincerity for his subject, Taylor feels he is doing a great work in warning his audiences of the evils of sex intolerances, of the unhappiness in wrecked lives.

Taylor is a man who has led a very active life. Born in Kentucky, in the heart of the Blue Grass Section, he conducts a large breeding farm of thoroughbred horses. When not on tour he can be found with a pair of overalls assisting his men in farm work.

He is very active in rural work, and his work is not confined to one locality. He will travel miles to appear before a group of Future Farmers and present his theory of a given subject. Mr. Taylor receives thousands of letters monthly asking delicate questions. Every letter is answered personally by him.
