

New Social Committee Names Chairman, Aides

A chairman and four sub-committee chairmen were chosen Wednesday night to coordinate the first activity of the newly formed semi-permanent Leonides, Panhellenic Council, Women's Student Government association, Women's Recreation association, West dormitories social committee.

Richard Lemrye, president of Watts hall, was chosen chairman, and the sub-committee chairmen selected were Nancy George, foods and decorations sub-committee; Richard Mills, invitations sub-committee; Moylan Mills, publicity sub-committee; and William Zakor, finance sub-committee.

The committee was set up to coordinate social activities between the independent men and the women on campus. The committee will also take full advantage of the social facilities offered by the recently built Hamilton, Thompson, and McKee halls.

Committee members and the groups they represent are Joan Wentzel, Leonides; Elsa Pasline, Leonides; Edna Baylson, Leonides; Nancy George, Panhellenic council; Isabella Cooper, Panhellenic council; Yvonne Carter, WSGA; Mary Ellen Grube, WRA; Nancy Worthington, WRA; Henrietta Kleven, Simmons hall; Dorothy Radock, Simmons hall.

Ross Clark, McKee hall; Richard Lemrye, Watts hall; Charles Mollenkopf, Irvin hall; Thomas Durek, Thompson hall; William Zakor, AIM; Richard Mills, AIM; Moylan Mills, publications; Clyde Michel, Hamilton hall; and Kenneth Parker, Jordan hall.

PS Club Holds 'Orange Mash'

The "Orange Mash," a dance sponsored by the Penn State Club, will be held tonight in the TUB from 8:30 to 12 p.m. Ray Evert and his "Artists in Melody" will provide the music. No admission will be charged.

The dance is named for a hoped defeat of the Syracuse "Orangemen" Saturday night in Syracuse.

There will be a desk set up in the TUB so that men may join the club if they wish to do so.

Evert said he planned to have two 15-minute intermissions instead of the customary one half-hour break. This, Evert said, will provide the dance with an evenly balanced program and give the club the opportunity to "keep the crowd interested."

Initiations for new club members have been postponed to Tuesday evening Oct. 24. A special meeting has been called for the initiations. The previous date was Oct. 17.

Dance Decorations

Bryson Craine, chairman of decorations committee for the Student Inaugural ball, requests all organizations that contributed symbols for the ball to reclaim them at Student Union, Old Main, by tomorrow.

NEED BIKE SUPPLIES?

See Us!

- Whizzer Bike Motors
- Schwinn & Roadmaster Bikes
- Tires and Tubes
- Parts and Accessories
- Expert Repair Service

Open daily
9-12, 1-5
Closed
Wed. p. m.

Krumrine's
Bicycle Shop
Rear 433 W. College
Phone 4723

To Old Friends and New

PENN STATE BIBLE FELLOWSHIP

Presents
Rev. Robert Smoot
Baltimore, Md.
Speaker Tonight
Meeting 7:30 p.m.
405 Old Main
● Bible Message
● Group Singing
Everyone Welcome

Leonides Holds

New Leonides representatives and alternates were elected this week in women's living units and will take office at the next meeting Monday at 6:30 p.m. in McElwain study lounge. Approximately 22 new members will attend the meeting.

Junior Panhel Tea

The tea to be given by the Junior Panhellenic Council on Sunday will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., not from 2 to 4 as scheduled in the Collegian yesterday.

Alpha Tau Alpha

Alpha Tau Alpha, the Agricultural Education honorary, held a smoker at the Alpha Zeta house in honor of their 35 new pledges. Dr. C. S. Anderson, national president, and James Leamer, president of the local chapter, were the speakers.

WRA Intramurals

All girls who wish to enter teams in the WRA intramurals and have not turned them in should contact Marilyn Williams in the Gamma Phi Beta suite before Monday.

(Advertisement)

thru the Looking Glass

With George

There I was, slouched against Ethel's big window, waiting for the Beaver Field bus, when CRASH!

Sounded like a Coke truck smacking a 7-UP truck bottles on. Not wanting to miss the excitement, I started to shinny up the parking meter out front to get a better gander. And then I felt it. The Cold Stare. It was coming thru Ethel's big 16'x20' window frame.

You guessed it. It was Duffy, Ethel's man Thursday (born a day too soon). And right behind him, Ethel, pointing the Finger at me over two month's production of shattered plate glass.

Henry Did It

Now I don't see how leaning up against her big glass could have broken it. I'm more inclined to think it was Henry Blizardworth. He's a brick layer. Laying bricks on top of Carnegie Hall at the time, he bellowed down "B-R-I-C-K-S" in C sharp and broke two windows, an ink bottle, and several traditions over at Willard.

I told Ethel. But she claimed her plate glass was a D flat, and pulled out the bill to prove it. Naturally she had me.

She Lowered the Broom

Sweeping the store floor at nights to pay for a $635.20 window would put me in the class of '56. Better than reversing the name of my present Alma Mater, tho. So I started sweeping.

Then one night the IDEA came to me. Just when I was learning to juggle five plates at a time. I was so excited I rushed out of the store to tell my roommate Orval, forgetting I still had three plates in the air. They must have come down, because next morning Ethel said she'd agree to any idea that would keep me out of the store.

Could Ya Spare $34,723.51?

Here's the IDEA. I write a column telling you all about the stuff Ethel has at her store. When you buy $34,723.51 worth, the window will be paid for. Buy $41,462.49 worth, and Ethel is going to give me a Rolfs billfold.

How to Save Money on a Date

Orval's got a Rolfs "Director" billfold. He took his date on a Coke date. When it came time to pay, he opened his Rolfs and couldn't find any money. (It was hidden in the secret currency pocket). So his date paid.

So I borrow his Rolfs and try it on my date. What happens? She's got a Rolfs "Directress" billfold and can't find her money. So now I'm a columnist and dishwasher.

Oh, Oh — the printer's running out of type. Tell you more about Rolfs and things next time.

The price on the Rolfs is an easy $5, by the way. Stop in and try your bills for size. See you at the Syracuse game.

Ethel Meserve

112 EAST COLLEGE AVENUE STATE COLLEGE, PA.

Cwens To Hold Fifth 'Drag'

Cwens will hold the fifth annual Dungaree Drag tomorrow night. This dance will be the most informal of the year because old clothes will be the style.

Until five years ago there was no "old clothes" all-college dance.

Girls, in true Sadie Hawkins spirit, may call for their dates and take them corsages. A prize will be given to the gal who designs the most original corsage.

Hank Glass, Penn State funny man, will act as master of ceremonies during intermission. Entertainment is under the direction of Sally Shoemaker.

Tickets may be purchased at Student Union or from members of Cwens for $1.50 a couple.

T
E
D
D
Y
'
S

Teddy Time All The Time

Whether it's a 7 o'clock breakfast or a midnight snack, we'll be here, so come on in.

CORNER PUGH and BEAVER

He's a Campus A-man

The "A" stands for "Activities"—and he's in a lot of them. Plays first-string basketball. Represents his class on the student council. Writes for the school paper.

When it comes to campus doings, his major is Service.

Telephone people are like that, too. They believe in giving good telephone service—courteous, friendly, helpful service. And because they believe it so strongly, their spirit of service shows up in community affairs.

That's why you'll find telephone men and women working on charity drives, joining service clubs, leading Scout troops.

Both at work and at home, telephone people try to help out wherever there is a need—and enjoy doing it.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

