Party Cliques Organize For Coming Campaigns Lion Preliminary Nominations Held For Frosh, Sophs

By BOB SCHOOLEY

Preliminary nominations were held by the Lion party Sunday night for officers for the freshman and sophomore cliques.

Huber Stevens, Lion party chairman, stressed the need for party unity in order to win the coming fall elections for freshman and sophomore class officers.

He introduced the all-College clique officers of the party to the approximately 200 persons present at the meeting.

To Meet Sunday

Final nominations and election of freshman and sophomore clique officers will be held next Sunday night. The following week there will be nominations for class officers for the two classes. Clique officers to be elected Sunday night will be chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary-treasurer.

In answer to a question from the floor, Stevens said that clique officers would not be eligible to hold class offices.

Asks Aid

Ray Evert, chairman of the public relations committee, asked all members of the party and especially the new members of the party to do a major share of the party work.

Nominated from the floor Sunday night for freshman clique officers were: chairman, William Clymer; vice-chairman, John Biltz, Ronald Zylkoski, Robert Funke; secretary-treasurer, Ann Skapik, Cathryn Lloyd.

There were no nominations for secretary-treasurer at this meeting. Further nominations will be held this Sunday night.

Classes To Hold Meetings Tonight

Three classes are meeting tonight for the first time this year. Sophomores will meet in 121 Sparks at 7 p.m., juniors in 105 Willard at 8 p.m., and seniors in 3 White Hall, at 7:30 p.m.

Orienting new students in election procedure for the coming elections will be the main task at the sophomore meeting, Sally Shoemaker, vice-president of the class, and in charge of the meeting, announced.

Present at the meeting to explain the political setup of their respective parties will be Jack Barron, secretary-treasurer of the class, Harry Cover, clique chairman of the State party, and Huber Stevens, clique chairman of the Lion party.

The sophomore class is assisting in the Pennsylvania Week celebration opening on campus today.

Carlson To Report

Donald Carlson, vice-president of the class and chairman of the prom committee, will report at the junior meeting.

The establishment of a Junior Executive Board to aid class officers in policy forming and the handling of administrative details will be considered by the junior class.

Exempting eight-semester students from examinations will be discussed at the senior meeting, as announced by the executive committee of the class last Wednesday.

Revival of the Lion coat tradition will also be discussed at the senior meeting. Several committees will be named in order that more students may take an active part in class activities.

Clique Members Learn Setup For New State Party

By ROSEMARY DELAHANTY

Newly-elected chairman Harry Cover explained the administrative setup of the reorganized State party and outlined its objectives to over 150 clique members in Osmond Sunday night.

A committee headed by Cover formulated the new State party program last spring. In addition to the standard clique officers it involves the appointment of ward leaders in every living unit to serve as middle-men between the students in that unit and the party's candidates for office.

To Help Students

This system, Cover believes will enable every student to become acquainted with those who are running for office, and at the same time will give candidates the opportunity to meet the student body in small groups and discuss controversial issues with them.

Other officers elected at Sunday's meeting are Walter Sachs, vice-chairman, and Bryson Craine, ward leader chairman.

At the next meeting of the party, scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday in 119 Osmond, a run-off election will be held between Charles Ammond and Samuel Kinkead to determine the party treasurer. Neither of these candidates received the necessary majority of votes at the last meeting.

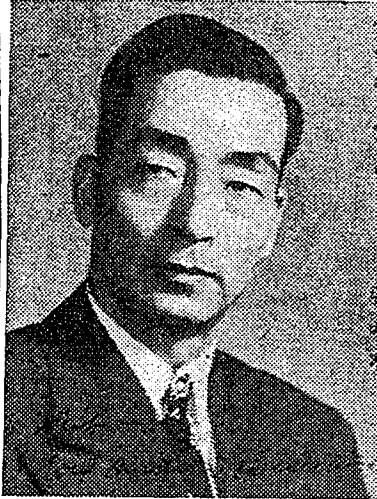

Cover is expected to fill the party's appointive posts at next Sunday's meeting. These include secretary, campaign chairman, publicity chairman, and membership chairman.

Nominations Set

Nominations will also be held for sophomore and freshman class clique officers. These officers, chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary-treasurer, work in conjunction with All-College clique officers and the party steering committee in determining moves and policy.

The steering committee is composed of all party executives and others whom they appoint.

Forum Speaker . . .

As an added feature of the Community Forum program this year, Colonel Ben C. Limb, foreign minister of the Republic of Korea, will speak in Schwab auditorium tomorrow night.

Col. Limb, at present chief of the mission of the Republic of Korea to the United Nations, will speak on "Korea and the United Nations."

The PSCA will sponsor a reception for Benjamin C. Limb, foreign minister from South Korea in the McElwain lounge from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The reception has been arranged by Dean Pearl Weston.

Educated in this country, he has returned several times in official capacities from the Korean government. He went to school at Mt. Hermon and Ohio State University, and since has been connected with government in Korea.

Col. Limb took part in the organization of the Korean revolution against Japan in 1919 and was Dr. Syngman Rhee's aide when Rhee was elected president of the Korean Republic in exile, at Shanghai.

In the 1930's, he served in the Korean Commission in Washington D.C., seeking to establish Korean independence.

From 1945 to 1948, he was chairman of the Korean Commission. (Continued on page two)

College Participates In Pennsylvania Week

The College this week joins other organizations all over the commonwealth in the observation of Pennsylvania Week.

The theme of this, the fifth annual observance, is "Pennsylvania Has Everything."

Governor James H. Duff will tour the state in a special Pennsylvania Week train, carrying the governor and other high state officials, who will speak in 29 communities along the train's route.

In connection with the theme, a new physiographic map of Pennsylvania showing "known sources of primary wealth" in the commonwealth is being exhibited in the Mineral Industries Building. The model measures 8 by 13 feet.

Film Shown

A College-produced film dealing with the extensive research program here had its state debut yesterday when it was shown in the Sparks Building. The movie, soon to be released throughout the state in connection with Pennsylvania Week, will give the general public an inside view of at least half a dozen research projects in progress on the campus.

An unusual feature of the current Mineral Industries art collection is a painting of an early Pennsylvania foundry, discovered in a second-hand store in Philadelphia by Dean Edward Steidle of the School of Mineral Industries.

The picture, executed by George Caleb Bingham, a Missouri artist, in 1846, shows the rolling of steel ingots in the Richards Foundry in Philadelphia.

Professor Comments

H. E. Dickson, professor of fine arts, says of it: "The Bingham picture is rich in both artistic and historic interest."

The College Library is continuing its exhibit of books and pictures dealing with the Pennsylvania Germans.

Photographs of buildings, copies of designs, and samples of their textile production are being shown in the lobby. On the second floor is a display of their architecture.

Leonides Adopts New Amendment

By CAROLYN BARRETT

The Leonides constitution was amended last night as the new representatives and their alternates met for the first time.

The amendment will state that the president and vice president of Leonides, the executive council, will be elected from members of the general council who have served one term of office as a representative. The remainder of the officers on the executive council may be elected from either old or new council members.

Nominations for offices on the executive council were held. Joan Wentzel, who is now acting president, and Joan Burlein were nominated for the presidency.

Run For Vice-President

Vice-presidential nominees are Elsa Paseline, Doris Sher, and Sally Greenberger. Sorley Snyder and Janet Magrini were nominated for corresponding secretary.

Nominees for recording secretary are Eleanor Miller and Yvonne Carter. Ann Burlingame and Elizabeth Green will run for treasurer.

Additional nominations may be made at the election meeting that Leonides will hold Monday.

The new council members are Ann Spaide, representative, Louise Penfield, alternate; Marilyn Meade, representative, Elsa Paseline, alternate; Lee Aitoeffer, representative, and Joan Wentzel, alternate, representing McElwain hall.

Women's Building representatives and alternates are Diane Miller, representative, Jean Wy- (Continued on page two)

British University Debaters To Meet State In Schwab On UN Question

Alwyn Smith

British debating talent will be put on display tonight at 8 o'clock in Schwab auditorium. A Combined British universities debate team has come to argue with the Penn Staters about the United Nations.

Ernest Alwyn Smith, University of Birmingham, and John Gwynn Williams, University College of North Wales, Bangor, will be the English representatives; Marlin Brenner and Clair George will argue for Penn State.

Brenner and Williams will argue the affirmative on the question, "Resolved: That the United Nations is a good international debating society, but a poor pattern for world government." George and Smith will argue the negative.

Teams Experienced

Both Englishmen are experienced debaters. Smith is Debating Society secretary, and debates in Inter-Varsity debates. Williams is a member of the British labor party and spoke frequently during the General Election. He has taken part in numerous programs in the B.B.C.
