

Lion Eleven Leaves By Air For Nebraska Grid Tilt

By MARV KRASNANSKY
PITTSBURGH — At full strength for tomorrow's tussle with the University of Nebraska, Penn State's 41-man football squad will leave here early this morning by chartered plane for Lincoln, Neb.
The Nittany contingent will board its plane at Allegheny airport at 9:45 a. m. and is expected to arrive in Lincoln at Face Lion Gridders...

Veteran defensive back Nick Adducci (top) and sophomore sensation Bobby Reynolds (below) will see plenty of action against Penn State tomorrow when the Lions take on the Cornhuskers from Nebraska.

2 p. m. Central time (3 p. m. EST). The Lions arrived here last night after a last-minute workout on Beaver Field early in the afternoon. They will return Saturday evening and sit in on the Steeler-Eagle game Sunday afternoon.

The squad will go through light drills in Lincoln early this afternoon.

Smidansky's Status In Doubt
Although defensive line-backer John Podrasky and fullback Ted Snattuck will be available only for limited service, the Lions will be at full strength with the possible exception of veteran end John Smidansky. Smidansky, absent from drills all week because of the death of his mother, joined the team here last night. Coach Rip Engle was, however, undecided whether he would start in the event that "Big John" is not ready, Engle will use Andy Slock.

Podrasky, who injured an ankle against Syracuse, is with the team, but Engle plans to start either Joe Grason or Bob Smith in his place. Snattuck, who gave way to Jim Pollard in a last-minute change last week, bruised a hip in a scrimmage Tuesday and will be used sparingly. Don Barney, the aggressive sophomore defensive guard, out of action against the Orange with a bad leg, was pronounced ready by trainer Chuck Medlar and will start.

Pollard Starts On Offensive
Otherwise, Engle's two platoons are unchanged. Offensively he will use quarterback Vince O'Bara, halfback Tony Orsini, wingback Owen Dougherty, and Pollard in the backfield. On the forward line will be Art Betts and either Smidansky or Slock, ends; Ed Rover and Chuck Godlasky, tackles; Len Bartek and Jim Barr, guards; and Ken Bunn, center.

Defensively the Blue and White will stack up with Pat McPoland and Chuck Wilson on the flanks, Stew Scheetz and Dick Cripps at the tackle slots, and Barney at guard. Len Shephard and Joe Shumock will team with Graston or Smith backing up. Bill Leonard and George Jacob will man the halfback posts, and Chan Johnson will be at safety.

Frosh Golfer's 66 Sets Links Mark

Ken Simmons, a freshman agronomy major, shaved a stroke off the College golf course record yesterday when he turned in a 66 card for the 18 hole course.

Playing with Jeff Sawyer, a sophomore in dairy husbandry, Simmons shot a par 34 on the front nine and then came back with a blistering two under par, 32.

The 22-year-old veteran from Lancaster shot birdies on the second, tenth, eleventh, and fourteenth holes, missing par only on the fifth green where he shot a one over five.

Simmons' 66 snapped the former record held by Tom Smith, Ted Robertson and Bill Gross. Smith was captain of last year's varsity team on which Robertson played. Gross was a former varsity golfer.

ZBT Aquamen Capture Meet

Merlads from Zeta Beta Tau, Nittany Co-op, and the Thompson hall Sharks copped top swimming honors in the intramural tri-dual meet yesterday afternoon at Glenland pool.

In the opener Zeta Beta Tau won easily over Alpha Epsilon Pi, 35-5; Nittany Co-op won by forfeit over Penn Haven, and Thompson hall Sharks won via the forfeit route over Thompson's Mermen. Today's independent

Nebraska Record Disguises Power

While their record of one win, a loss, and a tie indicates that Nebraska's Cornhuskers still have a long way to go, Coach Bill Glassford has come up with a squad far superior to the one the Nittany Lions took by a 22-7 count last year.

Glassford has, however, in his second year at the Lincoln institution, combined a nucleus of lettermen and a smattering of promising sophomores to produce one of the strongest Cornhusker gridiron squads in recent seasons.

The former Pitt star and teammate of Nittany assistant coach Frank Patrick uses 13 seniors in his two platoon system, but his biggest prize is sophomore Bobby Reynolds, the previously unpublicized Grand Island one-man gang.

winners will see action again on Oct. 27 when they compete in the first quarter independent finals.

Mike Klein copped individual honors in ZBT's one-sided victory.

Today's swimming card pits Sigma Chi against Phi Sigma Kappa; Delta Sigma Phi grapples with Sigma Pi, and Pi Kappa Alpha will meet Beta Sigma Rho.

Injury-Riddled Lion Soccer Crew Meets Navy At Annapolis Saturday

By BUD FENTON

The Lion soccer team will leave for Annapolis at noon today, pain-wracked but proud.

Due to an ankle injury to Joe Lane, the squad's leading scorer, and a painful boil on the instep of Gus Biggott's foot, the Jeffreymen will not be at top strength for the Navy fray.

DU, Bees Win In IM Football

Delta Upsilon, hard-pressed during the first half by a battling Theta Kappa Phi unit, scored a touchdown in the final period to turn back the Theta Kaps, 6-0, in intramural touch football last night.

In the curtain-raiser at 7 o'clock, Beta Theta Pi dropped a thrilling contest to the Sigma Pi nine, 14-7. This game was marked by some "basketball" tactics, where passes were thrown from one man to another, all over the scrimmage line.

In the independent games, the Bees were victorious in their second straight contest as they defeated Dorm 1 in overtime, 1-0. In this battle Dorm 1 could not advance the ball over the 50-yard line, and the last Bee pass connected for the win. In the final, the Bombardiers capitalized on their breaks to top the Crusty Miners, 12-6.

This is a bad time for injuries and ailments to appear since three contests are scheduled within the next eight days. Gettysburg will play host to the Lions on Tuesday and Colgate travels to State College for the homecoming game, Saturday.

Lineup For Navy Uncertain
The lineup for the Navy game is not yet certain. If Biggott is not available tomorrow, sophomore Ed Smith may start. If Lane's ankle does not respond to treatment, a shift may result which will bring halfback Frank Follmer up to the forward line. Otherwise, the team will shape up as the same squad that defeated Bucknell, 11-2, and Western Maryland, 3-1.

Ron Coder will be in the goal. Bill Yerkes and Jay Simmons will start at the fullbacks. George Emig will again be at left halfback and Kurt Klaus will start at center half. Should Follmer be switched to the line, Doug Diefenderfer will get the nod at (Continued on page five)
