Residents Cause Extended Damage In Thompson Hall

Residents of Thompson hall in the West dormitory area have done several thousand dollars damage to the building since the beginning of the semester, a member of the College administration said yesterday.

"Estimates vary as to the amount of damage done in the Thompson hall. Some damage of this nature was to be expected; possibly there will be even more," an official statement said.

Students have torn a shower out of the wall and twisted the pipes on several others so that they point to the ceiling. A toilet bowl has been broken in one of the washrooms. A fire hose was turned on in one of the hallways.

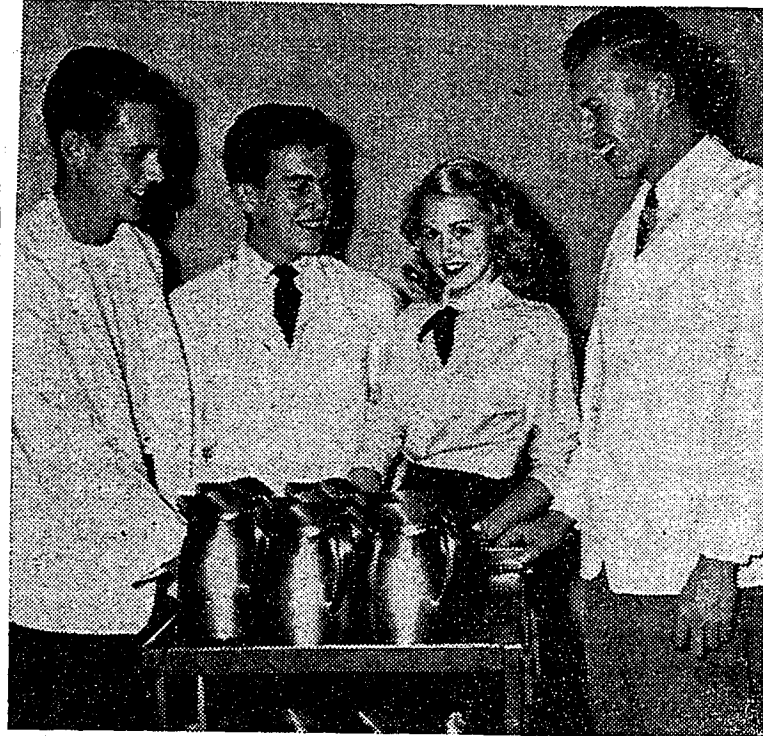

Footprints On Walls

The floors of the hallways are scarred from roller skating there, and on the second floor, there were footprints up one hallway wall, across the ceiling, and down the other wall. These footprints were made of tar and the area had to be repainted.

Ever since someone discovered that the fire alarm could be set off, the fire bell has been rung several times almost every night. The administration recently announced that anyone caught setting off a false alarm would be expelled permanently.

"There are some hopeful signs, however," administrators said. "Most promising of these is the fact that the great majority of the fellows living in the West dorms resent what they feel is more than just boyish pranks; many of them have spoken to me about it—some with considerable feeling. With these men moving into positions of leadership in the councils there is every expectation that conditions in general will improve at an early date," one administrator commented.

McELWAIN HALL'S Men's Club, made up of waiters who serve in the hall's dining rooms, were flushed with victory after their candidate, blonde-haired Marilyn Franklin, was named Belle Hop ball queen Saturday night. Here, the first of Penn State's crop of 1950-51 queens poses with (l.-r.) Jim Shaffer, Hal Birch, and Club Pres. Glenn Gamble.

Belle Hop Ball Title Goes To Freshman

Blond, blue-eyed Marilyn Franklin, a freshman in the school of Home Economics, received the title of Belle Hop ball queen Saturday night at Rec hall. She was selected from a group of five contestants by applause from the audience and a panel of three judges.

The queen was presented with a large gold cup and a crown of red roses by Jo Hutchison, last year's winner. In addition she was given a bouquet of red roses by Don Carlson, vice-president of the junior class. All contestants received compacts and chrysanthemum corsages.

McElwain Club Was Sponsor

Eighteen year old Marilyn was sponsored by the McElwain Men's club. Last year she was the winner of another beauty contest at her high school in Mt. Lebanon; being crowned as Snowball Queen at the annual Christmas dance. Marilyn is 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 96 lbs., and is majoring in commercial consumers service in the Home Economics school.

Carolyn Hamilton, sponsored by Kappa Delta Rho fraternity, was runner-up in the contest.

Master of Ceremonies for the program was William Whittle, chairman of the Hotel Administration Greeters club. Acting as judges for the contest were John D. Lee, manager of the Nittany Lion Inn, R. M. Bower, assistant professor of hotel administration, and Robert Davis, All-College president.

4-H Club Gives Flag To College

Members of the student 4-H Club at the College, as part of observance of United Nations Week, Sunday presented to the College a United Nation Flag that was made by members of the club.

Presentation was made by J. Paul Strook, and Mary Alice Eshelman, president and secretary of the club, at chapel services in Schwab auditorium.

Kenworthy Accepts Flag

Wilmer E. Kenworthy, assistant to the President in charge of student affairs, accepted the flag in the absence of President Eisenhower.

Leonides Elect Council

The new Leonides executive council was elected at a special meeting last night.

The new officers, who will begin their duties on Nov. 1, are Joan Wentzel, president; Doris Sher, vice-president; Yvonne Carter, recording secretary; Soreli Snyder, corresponding secretary, and Elsa Pasline, treasurer.

AAUP To Hold Panel Discussion

The American Association of University Professors at the College will conduct a panel discussion on "AAUP at Penn State: Past, Present, and Future."

The meeting will be held in 217 Willard hall at 7:30 tomorrow night and will be open to all faculty members.

Dr. M. Nelson McGeary, president of the chapter, will be chairman of the panel consisting of Dr. Bruce V. Moore, L. S. Rhodes, Allen E. Wierman, and Dr. R. Wallace Brewster.

Harold P. Zelko, chairman of the program committee, said the program was arranged to acquaint faculty with the functions and accomplishments of the chapter on the campus.

IFC To Discuss Ban On Drinking

By ERNIE MOORE

A proposal to re-open the drinking problem for discussion with the administration has been drawn up by the social committee of the fraternity workshop to be presented to Interfraternity council for final action.

The proposal, which was presented by social committee co-chairman Robert Mundy at the workshop summary session Saturday afternoon, will be discussed at the IFC meeting Wednesday night before any action is taken.

After the proposal was announced at the summary session, the Daily Collegian reporter covering the meeting was asked to leave while the particulars of the committee's meetings were presented.

Workshop Banquet

Following the summary session Saturday afternoon, IFC President Harold Leinbach summarized the results of the workshop at a banquet held at the Nittany Lion Inn that night. Patrick J. Boner, economics instructor, was the guest speaker. President Milton S. Eisenhower, who was to speak, was unable to attend because of Mrs. Eisenhower's illness.

Eight committees reported their results at Saturday's summary meeting. The general opinion of the committees was that the workshop program was a big success and that lack of participation by a few fraternities was the only drawback.

All committees reported that either a permanent committee had been formed or that the present committee would meet again in the near future.

Pledge Training
The committee on pledge training, made up of pledge masters, reported that one of the major problems of the pledge master was "keeping the pledges on the ball."

Representatives suggested three methods for doing same: the black mark system, pledge court, and the point system whereby a pledge would have to have a certain number of points before becoming a brother.

It was also suggested that an advisory group be set up to which a pledge could go for advice.

The committee on rushing problems proposed that IFC appoint a committee to obtain a council president.

Stream of Water

To make the battle more interesting, a stream of water from a fire hydrant will be the dividing line. Edward Monahan, chairman of the arrangements committee, warned both participants and spectators to wear old clothes. Monahan also thanked Capt. Philip Mark, of the campus patrol, for his help in arranging the event.

The 50 man team to represent the freshmen was chosen on a voluntary basis. Frosh interested in competing were asked to leave their names with Robert Davis, all-College president, last week.

Ten Extra Frosh

Davis said yesterday that only freshmen who had signed with him would be allowed to compete. Davis signed ten extra freshmen as alternates.

Hatmen will be represented by 10 men from each of the 5 hat societies. The names were turned into Robert Fast, Hat Society council president.

End Of No Dating Rule Made Tug Of War Prize

By BOB SCHOOLEY

Dating restrictions and the ban on association with women will be lifted if the freshmen win the tug of war tonight, it was decided by Tribunal last night.

Neil See, Tribunal chairman, said he hoped the removal of these restrictions would be an incentive for freshmen to support the contest between upperclassmen and the frosh.

Fourteen men appeared before Tribunal on charges of violating freshman customs. Men who were caught by upperclassmen without customs dress were Richard Dorshimer, Ronald Kimmich, Lloyd Eddings, Ted Wohlan, and John Shield.

Frosh Plead Guilty

Daniel LeVan and John Grove pleaded guilty to charges of talking to women and of failing to wear dinks and bow ties. Fred Triggs did not have the freshman bible in his possession and was lax in wearing his dink and bow tie. Two other freshmen who also pleaded guilty to talking to women were Gilbert Unangst and Gerald Henderson.

Charges brought against Ronald Lacue were negligence in wearing customs dress, failure to learn the College songs and locations of buildings, and wearing his high school letter sweater. See (Continued on page eight)

Cabinet To Name Two Committees

The appointment of two new committees, one standing, will come before All-College cabinet tonight, according to Robert Davis, All-College president.

The standing committee will be known as the All-College cabinet awards committee.

Davis said its purpose will be to make awards to faculty members and students for outstanding service.

A student committee on College enrollment will also be appointed. Also under new business will be the approval of the complimentary list for all class dances for the school year.

Members Elect Officers For Lion, State Cliques

Elections for important clique posts of the Lion and State parties were held Sunday evening.

Freshman and sophomore clique officers were elected at a meeting of the Lion party attended by more than 300 students Sunday evening.

Lion all-College clique chairman Huber Stevens announced at the meeting that nominations for freshman and sophomore class officers would be made Sunday and that the final nomination of the candidates to run under the banner of the Lion party would be named Nov. 5.

Freshman Clique Chairman

William Clymer was named to head the freshman organization, polling 54 of the 94 votes cast. The sophomore chairmanship went to Thomas Smith, who drew 143 of the 194 votes cast.

Other freshman officers elected were Ronald Zuilkoski, vice-chairman, and Catherine Lloyd, secretary - treasurer. Zuilkoski polled 63 of the 90 votes cast, while Miss Lloyd drew 61 out of 93.

Henry Pitt won the post of vice-chairman of the sophomore class, drawing 112 of 165 votes cast, while Nancy Nelson defeated Barbara Coker by a 5 vote margin in a special run off election for the position of secretary-treasurer. Miss Nelson polled 65 votes on the first ballot, to 42 for Miss Coker and 41 for Eleanor Forman. In the runoff, Miss Nelson polled 65 votes, Miss Coker 50.

State Party Elections

State party members elected all-College clique secretary and treasurer at their meeting. The new secretary is Lucy (Continued on page eight)
