

Three Charters Granted By Welfare Committee

Three campus organizations were granted charters, and permission was given to schedule the Military Ball 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., Dec. 8, at the meeting of the Senate Student Welfare committee last Thursday.

The three organizations to be granted charters are the Poultry club, for poultry majors, the Quarterdeck society, for midshipmen to promote fellowship among members of the naval reserve officers training group, and the Penn State Marketing club, for marketing majors.

The committee also discussed field trips and authorized absences. There was general agreement among the members that field trips should be cleared officially so that they will interfere as little as possible with classes. Concerning absences, the committee decided to insist on the presentation of required excuses from the deans of the schools.

Committee Recommendations

A recommendation to the senate was approved by the committee to change Rule 99, section (d) of the Regulations for Undergraduate Students. The rule would be changed to read: "Each dance and houseparty shall be provided with at least two chaperones. The dates of the dances and the names of chaperones shall be filed with the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men at least one week before the event."

Approval was given to a letter of transmittal, drafted by the secretary, to accompany the mailing of "A Summary of Policies and Regulations Affecting Men's and Women's Social Fraternity Chapters". This pamphlet was published by the committee.

Penn State Club Holds Initiation

Initiations for new members of the Penn State club will be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in 405 Old Main.

Members are requested to attend to supervise proceedings, Joseph Lipsky, president, said.

Members interested in going to the theater party at Center stage must sign up either on the bulletin board in the club room, 411 Old Main, or with Moylan Mills, vice-president.

Mills said yesterday that 40 club members already have registered for the party. He added that those who have signed up and cannot go should contact him as soon as possible at 320 Hamilton hall.

Half the admission price of the party, which is for club members only, will be paid by the club treasury.
