Lion Times Not Impressive As State Trio Ties For First

By RAY GAIANT

Doing was as expected of them as far as trimming a weak Cornell cross country team by the perfect score of 15 to 50, Coach Chick Werner's thinclads did not add too many jewels to their crown with their performance Saturday.

The performance turned in against the Big Red was not indicative of the capabilities of the team, and the times recorded in the victory were not too impressive, especially when considering the Lion's opponents for this week-end, the present leaders in the cross country field, the Spartans of Michigan State.

Spartans Lead Way

Michigan State swept all the laurels in the hill-and-dale sport in 1948 by capturing the NAAU-IC4-A, and NCAA titles and last year added the NCAA crown to their growing list of laurels. Saturday's dual meet will be the first real test for Werner's thinclads.

Don and Bill Ashenfelter and Dudley Foster tied for first place with the slow time of 29:00. The Cornell course record of 27:32 set by Dick Church of Syracuse last year was never threatened by the State winning trio.

State Places First Seven

Bob Freebairn at 29:05 finished fourth and Bob Parsons, with a 29:15 time, captured the fifth spot. Al Porto finished sixth, and Bill Gordon took the seventh spot to complete the rout against the outclassed Cornell team.

Stan Grossman, who placed eighth and Bill Killian who notched the tenth position were the only Big Red men to finish in the first 12 places. Stan Lindner, placing ninth, Jack St. Clair, eleventh, and Bob Roessler, twelfth, easily outdistanced the remainder of the Big Red squad.

Woman's Intuition Works Against Rip

They're pointing a finger of scorn at coach Rip Engle these days—not because of anything directly concerned with his coaching—but simply because he can't pick football winners as readily as his wife.

At the outset of the current season, Engle's first at Penn State, the former Brown University mentor was persuaded to undertake a weekly radio program in State College. From the start, picking the winners in the week's ten top games became a standard part of the script.

The first week, Engle picked only four winners. The next week, he broke even. Which, considering the unusual number of early-season upsets, wasn't bad. But the Penn State coach, over the air, made the mistake in discussing his batting average of revealing that his wife, Sunny, had disagreed with his choices both weeks—and, as a result, had cleaned his pockets of change which he had posted in defense of his selections.

The sponsor, learning of Mrs. Engle's prowess, immediately put in a request. "Why," he asked the radio station, "don't we use Mrs. Engle to pick the winners?"

Frostburg Edges Frosh Booters, 2-1

State's freshman soccer team was turned back by a strong Frostburg State Teachers College varsity squad, 2-1, last Saturday in an away tilt. Under the guidance of George Lawther, the Lion frosh extended Frostburg to two extra periods before the Maryland team won the game on a penalty kick.

Eleven members of the 1950 Michigan State baseball team roster got their diamond background in the Detroit Baseball Federation, one of the nation's best municipally-sponsored programs.

Swimmers Meet

There will be an organizational meeting of all candidates for the swimming team at Glennland pool at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Divers and candidates for manager are also invited.

Gridiron Sunny But Swamis Hazy

Although last Saturday turned into a perfect day for football, with cloudless skies smiling above most of the major contests, a thick haze blotted out the attempts of the Collegian Swamis to foresee victory in their Swami predictions.

George "500 Club" Glazer's average was submerged 11 points to a .529 as six out his 12 prognostications failed to produce winners. However, when squads like Notre Dame, Purdue, and Southern Cal. are the victims, no one but the victors can be blamed.

Meanwhile, Marv Krasnansky's mark floundered from .666 to .641, when seven teams out of 12 groped their way through the denseness to save him further embarrassment. He now falls .053 behind assistant sports editor Art Benning, who continues to lead the seers with .694. Benning stepped down this week in favor of guest swami, Bob Kotzbauer, sports editor of the Lock Haven Express.

Ray Koehler, the West Lawn wizard, upped his average .587. It is believed that the weatherman will lift the smog by next Saturday (they hope).

Reynolds Stars

(Continued from page four) rolling with a 15-yard sprint, which, along with the interference infraction, gave the Lions possession on the Nebraska 28. After being pushed back to the 46, O'Bara hit Smidansky again on the 19, and Ted Shattuck rolled to the 11 for a first down.

Orsini could make only two yards in two tries and O'Bara missed on pass and Dick Koerber another as the Lion threat fizzled.

The Lions were never in the ball game after their third period drive stalled on the Nebraska 2. O'Bara lugged the kickoff 35 yards to midfield and then passed to Smidansky on the Nebraska 31. Orsini picked up 14 yards in two tries for a first down on the 17.

After being set back by a five yard penalty, O'Bara hit Smidansky on the 5, but three running plays gained only 3 yards and O'Bara's fourth down pass failed.

That was all the Lions had to offer. Reynolds took charge in the fourth period, going all the way twice and converting an extra point.

Len Casanova, new Pittsburgh mentor, hit the record books in his soph year at Santa Clara when he booted a 97-yard punt against St. Marys.

Cub Gridders Dump Bucknell Frosh, 21-6

Take notice, Navy and Pitt plebes! Penn State's freshman football teams on the warpath.

Snapping a two game losing streak Friday night by defeating a good Bucknell frosh squad, 21-6, the Lion Cubs showed a lightning fast running attack coupled with a defense which was good at the right moments.

State scored the first time it took possession of the ball on the Cub's 38 yard line.

On the second play from scrimmage, left halfback Jimmy Finn broke loose for 18 yards to the Bucknell 44. Wingback Matt Yanosich picked up nine to the 35, and one play later broke loose to the Bucknell 6-yard line.

The drive ended with Yanosich bucking over from the one. The try for extra point was fumbled.

State scored again in the second quarter when Wayne Wolkeil intercepted a flat pass thrown by Bison quarterback Ken Adamic on the State 33, and went 87 yards for the TD. Frank Minana converted.

In the third quarter, State moved to the Bucknell one-yard line before the drive stalled and the Cubs lost the ball on downs. But the Bucknell kicker, trying to punt out of danger on first down, stepped out of the end zone for an automatic safety.

Dick Jones added the final State tally in the fourth quarter when he broke around left end on a pitchout from Bob Szajna on the Bucknell 44 and went the rest of the way unmolested. Minana's conversion try failed.

Bucknell got its only touchdown in the fourth period when after recovering a fumble on the State 44-yard line, drove to the one yard line where Adamic went over on a quarterback's sneak. The conversion try was wide.

On the return kickoff, Finn took the ball on the 20-yard line and streaked through the Bisons into the end zone. However, a holding penalty was detected and Finn's effort, which had even the

Passing Vital In IM Football Wins

By LOWELL KELLER

The Beaver practice field was the scene of some thrilling pass plays last night, as the Night Hawks, Dorm 88, Theta Chi, and Alpha Chi Sigma triumphed in intramural touch football action.

Theta Chi's Bill Hanley provided the passing arm, and Lloyd Dietrich and George Bope the touchdowns as they rolled to a 12-0 victory over Pi Lambda Phi for their second loop win. Earlier Theta Chi had beaten Delta Chi, 19-0.

In the first independent contest, the Night Hawks capitalized on Dorm 13's weak pass defense to capture their second win of the year, 13-0. In the other independent fray, the Lions were dropped from the unbeaten ranks as Dorm 88 won a 13-0 verdict.

Alpha Chi Sigma, triumphant in their first outing against Alpha Gamma Rho, 7-0, continued their winning ways in the final fraternity battle when they edged Beta Sigma Rho by an identical count of 7-0. In this game, Bill Greenawalt tossed the only marker with Bob Holler on the receiving end.

On the card tonight at the practice field, the Hamilton A's meet the Marauders at 7 o'clock; at 7:45, Alpha Tau Omega battles Delta Sigma Phi; Dorm 40 takes on the Be-To's at 8:30; and at 9:15, Theta Xi plays Chi Phi.

Syracuse university football candidates hail from eight states of the Union and the District of Columbia.
