

College Choir To Present Three Concert Programs

The College Choir will present three concert programs during the 1950-51 term, Mrs. Willa Taylor, director, has announced.

This year's annual Christmas service will feature traditional Christmas carols. It will be presented at midnight on Dec. 16, and again at the regular Chapel service in Schwab auditorium on Dec. 17.

The Easter program will be held on Palm Sunday. Although definite plans are not completed, a program similar to last year's Bach Cantata No. 4 will be presented, Mrs. Taylor said.

The choir's annual spring concert with guest artists will be held April 25. This year the choir will present Verdi's "Manzoni Requiem Mass."

The officers of College Choir are James Hess, president; Suzanne Scurfield, vice president; Jack Kapitanoff, secretary-treasurer; and Robert Gebhardt, John Jenkins, and John Reitmeyer, librarians.

THE BROWSE

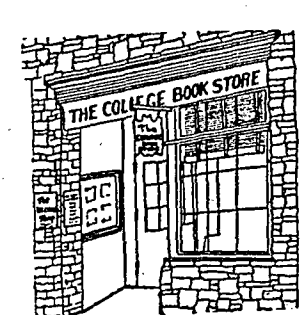

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE may be around the corner from a hill, but the walk is worth it. Once you get there, your shopping worries over gifts are ended. "This is my Beloved" is a beautiful bit of dialogue written for the lover of people, nature, and the world about him. It is a book to make one consciously aware of these things.

The heart-warming words and phrases become vivid pictures in the mind of the reader. All his senses are aroused. He can actually smell "the air like ripe apples," or see "the belching chimneys," which the author so amply describes.

This is a book to carry with one at all times. THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE has a leather pocketbook edition of "This is my Beloved" for you or for someone dear to you. Anyone loving beauty will appreciate this charming edition.

Another beautiful philosophy is "The Prophet," which many of you have probably read and may want to have a copy to accompany you at all times. It is something that can be read and reread many times, yet it will always reward you with the peaceful satisfying feeling that comes from a good reading session.

Regular and pocketbook editions are available at THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE for you; so, avoid overshoppping for a gift that is too tight, too loose, too ordinary, or too extraordinary. Watch for that beaming smile and grateful words from the receiver of a gift that will never wear out. Shop at THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE.
