JUDY SAVAGE, A SOPHOMORE pledge of Beta Sigma Omicron, won the apple bobbing contest given by the Hort club in 204 Hort building last night. She is pictured here with the twelfth and winning apple in her mouth.

Her prize was five dollars and both she and the runner-up, Marjory Maxwell of Delta Zeta with eleven apples, were awarded corsages of two purple orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Kenworthy judged the event. The other contestants were Emily Knobloch, a sophomore in Delta Zeta with two apples, and Thea Mae Machamer of Delta Zeta, and Winnie Mae Shelley, a frosh, with none.

Ag School To Give Party On Saturday

Everyone connected with the school of agriculture is invited to an "Ag Hill" party on Saturday at Rec hall. The program includes supper, group singing, free bingo, skits, and square and round dancing. Agricultural scholarships will be awarded and the Hammond organ and a five-piece orchestra will play throughout the evening.

Supper will be served cafeteria style from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. The menu includes cider, turkey a la king, baked potato, cabbage slaw, carrots, hot rolls, ice cream, cup cakes and coffee.

Tickets are now on sale at Student Union and in all Ag departments and clubs for $1.00. Proceeds will be used for Ag activities.

with George

Life is disillusioning. After twenty years I get used to the idea there are 52 weeks in a year and what happens? I find now that there are roughly 250. And me with a 3 in the history of calendar art from Rembrandt to Esquire.

Found: 3 Week-end

For example, this week is not the last week in October; it's the last three weeks. Next week is not the first week in November; it's the first three weeks. Do you Rumba, or shall we sit this one out.

You see, this week is Honey Week, Apple Week, and Watch Parade Week. Which leads to the natural slogan, "Eat an apple a day to keep your honey away from the Jewelry store."

Wanted: A Girl With 4 Ears

But don't stay away from Ethel's girls, because she's just received a new shipment of copper jewelry that will knock his eye out without more than lightly denting your allowance.

What a collection of earrings ... seems a shame to wear only one set at a time. If you're a Thespians, choose Comedy and Tragedy, and a matching pin. To bring out the artist in you, wear a palette and brush. For harmony, choose a set of musical notes. Or if you want to go completely feminine, pin on a graceful fawn.

Pedro, snoozing under his huge sombrero, is sure to start a conversation. And earrings in the form of lips is guaranteed to cause a riot.

Bold or conservative, there's an excellent selection at prices from $1.50 to $4.00. But don't tarry: these are too popular to last long.

Something For the Boys

Speaking of copper, did you know Ethel carries men's tie clasps. Nothing like them in town. One, with two meshed cogs, is a natural for an engineer.

Probably a silly thought, but why couldn't a girl pin her hair back with a man's tie clasp?

New Shipment of Forbidden-Word Can Lighters

You don't have to be 21 to light a cigarette from a forbidden-word can lighter. Last shipment lasted four days. Hurry. 98 cents.

That's all until the next three weeks. Happy homecoming.
