Americans Only 32 Miles From Korean Border

KOREA—An advancing American column on the west coast of Korea was only 32 miles from the border separating North Korea from Manchuria, at last reports yesterday.

Major General Edward Almond, commander of the American 10th army corps, disclosed that at least one Chinese Red regiment had marched to within 15 miles of the industrial center of Hamkung on the east coast.

Major General Almond also indicated that the UN forces will deliver a strong attack in the next two days.

The Chinese Reds under Mae Tze Tung are estimated to have about 500,000 men in their Manchurian army.

UN Proposal

LAKE SUCCESS—The UN special political committee voted yesterday to take down the bars it put against Franco Spain in 1946.

The proposal, which now goes to the general assembly, would allow all UN members to restore top level diplomatic relations with Franco Spain. The proposal would also allow Spain to join certain organizations affiliated with the UN.

The committee vote on the American-supported resolution was 37 to 10, with 12 abstentions.

Rearmament Deadlock

WASHINGTON—The defense ministers of the 12 North Atlantic treaty nations postponed a decision on a supreme commander in western Europe, because the defense ministers are still deadlocked on the question of rearming Germany.

After a three-day meeting in Washington, the ministers labelled the question "urgent" and referred it to their military committee, and to the North Atlantic council of deputies.

Dorms Receive Irons, Dryers

Irons, ironing boards, washers, and dryers have been installed in Hamilton and McKee halls. Irons and ironing boards have been installed in Thompson hall but washers and dryers will not be put in until the laundry room is completed.

Pressing rooms in all three dorms are open to residents of the halls any time during the day. Laundry rooms will be open later this week.

The washers and dryers are meter operated. Twenty-five cents is the fee for the washers and ten cents is the fee for the dryers. The washers hold nine pounds.

Leaf Machine Gives Mall A Clean Sweep

By BOB FRASER

The industrial revolution has struck the Penn State campus.

In the ageless past, which dates back to 1855, an entire day was devoted to raking those fall devils, leaves, off the Mall. Now, greatly devoted to the pleasure of beauty-minded students, faculty members, and grounds keepers, leaves can be disposed of in a matter of hours.

Four workmen have spent many an autumn day sweeping and raking on the Mall, but now only two men, with the aid of a machine known as a leaf collector, can do the job in a short time.

The collector, which operates on the order of a cigarette rolling machine, is pulled by a tractor. Two big brushes situated under the front wheels of the machine sweep the leaves into a large compartment. The compartment has for its floor a large sheet of canvas.

Yearbook Then and Now ...

LA VIE'S first edition in 1890 and most recent 1950 edition are part of a large College publications exhibit opening today in the Fred Lewis Pattee library. Mrs. C. O. Cromer, (left), curator of the Penn State Collection, compares the books with Anita Klein and Thomas Kerr.

Penn State Publications Exhibit Opens In Library

An exhibit of student publications, covering the efforts of Penn State students during the past 91 years, will open in the lobby of the college library today and continue until Nov. 13.

Arranged by Mrs. C. O. Cromer, curator for the Penn State collection, the exhibit was first displayed in June.

As a part of the display, the library has made available a copy of the Headlight, which includes brief histories of each of the major student publications.

Drinking Reply Expected Today

An announcement on the administration's reaction to the Interfraternity council's proposal to alter the drinking regulations is expected today from Wilmer E. Kenworthy, assistant to the President in charge of student affairs.

Kenworthy conferred with IFC President Harold Leinbach last night on the council's proposal.

Yesterday morning the Council on Student Affairs discussed the proposal with cabinet officers, Leinbach, and Richard Bard, AIM president.

The IFC proposal is:
1. To have chaperoned, mixed drinking and to have the chaperones approved by IFC and the administration.

2. Chaperones would have the authority to report the following violations to IFC: Drinking other than in the social room; room parties; refusal of intoxicated or vulgar members of the party to leave at his or house officer's request.

The earliest item in the collection is a sheet written in longhand and titled the Anonymous. The sheet is dated Sept. 30, 1859 and was the work of the Washington Agricultural Literary society. Later the society published the Spectator.

The Cresson Literary society came forth with the Students' Miscellany, which contained writings of a more serious nature. On Feb. 4, 1887, in its first printed weekly paper, the Students' Miscellany deplored the absence of a student newspaper and presented a plan for publication of a paper, which, with certain exceptions, was approved by the faculty on March 7, 1887.

The following month, the first issue of the Free Lance, a monthly paper that was the forerunner of the Daily Collegian, appeared. The history of La Vie, which dates from 1889, and Froth, which was first published in June 1910, also are traced.

Literary magazines, which have had a difficult time balancing budgets at the College; the Student Handbook, first printed in 1894; early student directories; and various other student publications also are included.

Cabinet Ratifies NSA Officials

All-college cabinet recently approved several committee-head appointments in the local chapter of the National Student association, William Klisanin, chairman, said Monday.

The appointments made were: Barbara Lehn, secretary; Murray Goldman, chairman of the committee on faculty rating; and Jack Garretson-Butt, director of public relations. Klisanin was approved as chairman of the local organization.

The last scheduled meeting of the NSA on Thursday had to be cancelled because of the work necessary on the Campus chest, and to provide time for proper committee composition as well as to give new students on campus a chance to learn to know something about the National Student association.

The next meeting will be held today at 7 p.m. in 233 Sparks. At that time committee members will be appointed and the chairman will report on the regional convention he attended in Swarthmore. All persons interested in working with the NSA are encouraged to attend this meeting, Klisanin said.

Campus Chest Reports $964 For First Day

Nine hundred and sixty four dollars were turned in to Campus chest headquarters yesterday as a result of the first day's solicitations, chairman Herb Axford announced.

However, not all the solicitors had reported their collections. Officials of the drive expect the contributions to reach the height toward the end of the week as more solicitors report.

Goal $14,000

The goal of the chest campaign is $14,000. Each student is being asked to donate two dollars to the fund. The money will be divided among the participating organizations on a predetermined percentage.

The agencies which will receive funds and the amounts they will receive are: Penn State Christian association, 45%; Women's Student Government association, 5%; World Student Service fund, 10%; Scholargram program, 7%; Tuberculosis fund, March of Dimes, Cancer fund and, Heart drive, 19%; Salvation army, 5%; State College Christmas fund, 1%; and working capital for the chest, 3%.

The other 5% was originally tabbed for the Red Cross, which since has dropped out of the drive. The money intended for the Red Cross will be apportioned among the other agencies.

Council To Award Prize To Leading Dormitory In Drive

An award will be presented to the Nittany dormitory with the highest per capita contributions to the Campus chest, the Nittany council decided Monday.

The presentation will be made by one of the campus queens who will be chosen at a later date.

Douglas Dotterer, Dorm 27, was appointed chairman of the chest drive in the Nittany area.

Because of the split between the councils, Wayne Probst, Dorm 32, was elected corresponding secretary in order to complete the Nittany council official body. The other officers were Nittany residents so they retained their positions. The Pollock council will have to hold new elections at their next meeting.

A committee under the direction of Scott Dotterer, Dorm 24, was formed to erect a bulletin board and directory at the entrance of the Nittany area.
