

Allegheny To Sponsor Cwens Meet Next Year

Allegheny College will be host to next year's national Cwen's convention. The Epsilon chapter issued its invitation on Sunday morning at the closing meeting of the three-day convention held at Penn State.

Mrs. Edward Raymond, national vice-president, presided. Final business included a constitutional change which provides that the incoming president of each Cwens chapter shall appoint the ritual chairman, who previously had been elected.

Thirty-one delegates to the convention represented the University of Miami, University of Kentucky, East Kentucky College, Muskingum, Allegheny, University of Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech and Seton Hall. The Westminster delegates cancelled their reservations on Friday.

Climax of the convention was a re-enactment of the traditional Witan, secret Cwens ritual, following the dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn on Saturday night.

Saturday afternoon workshop discussions centered about comparisons on the operations of different chapters and suggestions for projects.

Leaders were Joan Kramer, Beta chapter; Mary Dowling, Kappa chapter; Dorothy Harrod, Theta chapter; Shirley Estermyer, Epsilon chapter; and Mary Jo Roe, Eta chapter. The four panels were divided into discussions on Program of Selections, Chapter Records, Chapter Program Services and Projects, Chapter National By-laws, and Tid, which is the national Cwens' publication.

Ag Hill Dinner, Dance Attracts Large Crowd

About 1250 persons attended the dinner and 1400 were present at the dance of the Ag Hill Party sponsored by the Ag student council in Rec hall Saturday night.

Prizes included a load of manure won by Dr. R. B. Dickerson, vice dean of the Agriculture school, and a turkey which went to Jane Ifft, a sophomore in Home Economics. Nearly 200 prizes were awarded in all.

Scholarships worth a total of $4130 were awarded to 40 agriculture students.

The program included dinner, group singing, free bingo, skits and round and square dancing.

Third Semester Student Arrested For Larceny

Charles J. Arton, 19, a third-semester student in the lower division at the College, was arrested by State College police yesterday on charges of larceny of an automobile.

Arton was apprehended while police were checking license numbers in traffic at 1 a.m. He at first denied knowing anything about the car and gave the police an incorrect name.

The car, owned by G. Motter of Halifax R.D., was taken from the College campus on Sept. 30.

The ball slipped past the onrushing BC safety who was dropped in his tracks on the Boston 20. The kick traveled 50 yards.

Petela Scores O'Bara missed the extra point try after Smidansky's touchdown in the first 4 minutes 15 seconds of play and Ed Petela rammed over from the 6 yard-line and converted six minutes later to give the Eagles a 7-6 halftime edge.

Anders, who injured a shoulder late in the game, got rolling in the second half and capped a third period 59-yard Lion march by taking a pitchout from O'Bara and going 13-yards off left tackle. O'Bara converted and the Lions went ahead, 13-7.

On the first play from scrimmage following the ensuing kickoff, Pat McPoland pounced on a Boston fumble on the Eagle 18. Anders pounded his way to the five in three plays, Tony Orsini dove for 2 more yards and Anders tore through left guard for the touchdown, his second in 3 minutes 15 seconds. O'Bara converted again and the Lions led 20-7.

Mike Mikulics scored the final BC touchdown on a 14-yard end run with less than five minutes remaining.

One of the more unusual themes will be the "Sigma Alca Traz" where Sigma Alpha Mu will have a criminal theme with costumes ranging from those of a low class burglar to high class con man. Theta Xi will go continental with a French apache dance while Sigma Phi Sigma will get in the groove with "Session at SPS." Acacia will engage in a "Bowery Ball," Alpha Epsilon Pi will have a "Fairland Fantasia," and Alpha Gamma Rho will capitalize on the current world situation with its "Kremlin Krawl."

Triangle will have a "Comic Carnival" with costumes representing comic strip characters. Theta Kappa Phi will feature a "Bartender's Ball," Sigma Phi Alpha will spook up the campus with their "Haunted Hop," and Sigma Phi Epsilon will go back to the woods with a jungle theme houseparty and dance. Zeta Beta Tau is planning a "Go Roman with the ZBT's" dance with appropriate costumes and decorations.

Most of the houseparties will start at 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Cox Is Promoted To Major's Rank

The Department of the Army has announced the promotion of Capt. William H. Cox, assistant professor of military science and tactics at the College, to the rank of major.

Major Cox entered the service in 1942 and served with the 82nd and 13th Airborne divisions and the 79th Infantry division in Europe. He joined the ROTC department on campus in July. He is a graduate of West Virginia university.
