Correction

Hatmen did not assist in numbering flashcards for the West Virginia football game as was reported in Tuesday's Collegian. The work was done by several freshmen, sophomores, and the cheerleaders. The work was not completed until Saturday morning.

Wave Of Thefts Reported In Dorms And Rec Hall

An increased wave of thefts in dormitories, hallways, and in Rec hall has been reported by Capt. Philip Mark of the campus patrol.

"More than 80 dollars has been stolen from rooms in Hamilton hall in the past few days," said Mark. "And it always happens when a student goes to wash up and leaves his room unlocked. The money is lifted from the wallet by someone who obviously must be watching for his chance."

Money is taken and the wallet is usually left in the room, according to Mark. There have been no thefts from locked rooms.

Mark also noted that expensive coats have been stolen from hallways. "The cheap ones are never touched," he said.

In Rec hall, money and valuables have been taken from lockers while students are in the shower room. "The only way to prevent this sort of thing is for each student to make certain to have his locker locked regardless of how short a time he intends to be away," said Mark.

"Every year around the holidays the crime rate picks up," continued Mark. "Fraternity thefts have not gone up yet but they usually do about this time. The only thing which will reduce the rate of thefts is increased watchfulness and carefulness on the part of each student."

Vet Enrollment Shows Big Drop

Veteran enrollment at the College has declined from 63.8 per cent of the student body three years ago to 28.26 per cent of the enrollment this semester, Dr. C. O. Williams, acting dean of admissions said recently.

In 1947, 5362 out of the 8400 students on campus were veterans; this year, only 3154 of the 11,160 students enrolled are veterans.

Dr. Williams also said that there are only 85 veterans in the freshman class on campus while there are 431 sophomores, 837 juniors, and 1141 seniors who are former servicemen.

Harvest Dance Set For Dec. 2

Plans were completed and committees were set up for the Harvest Ball at the meeting of the Ag. Student Council last night.

The council set the definite date for the ball as Dec. 2nd from 9-12 midnight in Rec hall. Music will be by the Statesmen. Joe Breisch and Dave Stabler are co-chairmen for the ball, while their committees are: publicity, Stuart Frear; decoration, Sarah Chinn; tickets and programs, Stanley Damosch; refreshments, Bill Nichol; and arrangements, Bill Wilson.

It was also decided to take up the re-establishment of a Penn State grange. The student-faculty report from the Ag Hill party reported 1222 tickets were sold. The introduction of an ag honorary was also discussed.

Other music to be played on the program includes recordings from France, Italy, Cuba, Brazil, and Mexico.

Irving Rothberg will produce the program.

Cabinet Expected To Give Approval To Dance Finance

Cabinet is expected to give final approval tonight to the recommendation of the inter-class finance committee allocating $300 for the annual sophomore class dance.

Emerson Jones, all-College secretary-treasurer and chairman of the committee, will read the recommendation.

Previously cabinet set Dec. 1 as the date for the dance and approved Thomas Smith and Marian Whitely as co-chairmen.

Cabinet will also vote on the amendments to the all-College constitution proposed by Dean Gladfelter, chairman of the board of publications.

These amendments would admit the editor of the Penn State Farmer to the board, and substitute the name "Inkling" for "Critique" in the constitution.

Robert Czapewski, head of the Hort woods committee, will report to cabinet on the committee's activities during the past week.

Gen. Walk Ordered To Marshall Isles

Brigadier General Arthur R. Walk, professor of military science and tactics at the College, will leave for Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands early in December.

He was not available for comment on the new assignment.

General Walk, recently promoted from the rank of colonel, became commandant of the Army ROTC units on campus in January of this year. Before coming to the College he commanded the Fifth Armored division at Camp Chaffee.

The General participated in action in both World Wars. His future assignment will take him back to areas with which he is somewhat familiar. He was with assault units in the Solomon and Philippine Islands during the past war.
